To Use This Guide: PATH operates over 1,100 trains daily at seven minutes. To determine when you should expect a train, look for the table with the trains on the line you will be boarding on left (left). Then look to the left for the day of the week and the column. The first column ("starting at") lists you the time of day, and the second column ("trains run every") lists you the frequency of service during that time.

For instance, if you wanted to travel from Newark to the World Trade Center at about 10:30 a.m. on a weekday morning, you would: 1) find the table headed "Newark to World Trade Center," 2) Note that the trip time is 22 minutes, 3) Find that Monday to Friday starting at 9:58 a.m. trains run every 15 min-utes, 4) Adding 15 minutes between, find that the nearest depar-ture at the World Trade Center is 10:43 if the last train you will take arrives to 10:30 am 10:28 or 10:36, 5) Find that you will arrive at the World Trade Center at 10:43 if the last train you take is 10:28 + 22 minutes trip time) or at 10:58 if you take the 10:36 train.

Current schedules are available in stations on Metro Vision video monitors.
