

GLEASON'S PICTORIAL DRAWING-ROOM COMPANION

SYBIL'S CAVE, HOBOKEN, N. J.

is beautifully situated in y, on the Hudson River, di-posite the south end of New r, and is, together with Staten the quickest resort of the New You take the ferry at the Canal Street, Canal Street, or er Street, and in five minutes in the country. Thousands "paradise of Gotham," daily. is wild and rocky; it is beau-d out into walks, promenades overshadowed by the richest It has one or two churches, est-rate hotels, and contains a or more regular inhabitants; esses a very large ship yard.
is owned by W. L. Stevens, whom belongs the immortality ly making, but keeping the at adjacent to any city in the Sybil's Cave, Hoboken, is one ncipal attractions of the place. its Hoboken without sceing hewn out and excavated from ck to the depth of thirty feet. iddle is a spring of pure and water. thousands of glasses of e sold daily in the summer, for per glass. The cave was dee the owner, W. L. Stevens, the engraving. Hudson River hawken are seen in the dishe small building adjoining is or refreshments.

SYBIL'S CAVE, AT HOBOKEN, N. J.

1854

SYBIL'S CAVE