A VISIT TO RUDOLPH

DECEMBER 15, 1957

VOL. XXIX, No. 50

First Meeting

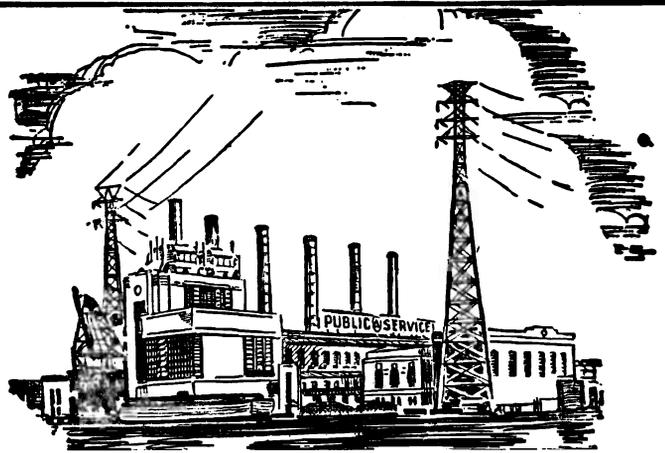

"Mussolini," the story of the first of the modern day dictators to rise and the first to fall—"from hands up to heels up"—will be presented on "The Twentieth Century" on Sunday, December 15. Seen here are Mussolini and Hitler at their first meeting, when Hitler came to Rome in 1934.

POOCH GETS FITTED FOR WINTER WEAR — Frankfurt, Germany — A designer of canine creations is giving a Poodle a fitting for a new winter coat in black and white checked material and white 'storm boots'. Plenty of room for wagging a tail is allowed in the rear vent.

RECEIVES A.E.C. AWARD — Washington, D.C. — Dr. Ernest O. Lawrence, (Center), Director of the University of California Radiation Laboratory at Berkeley, Calif., receives the Atomic Energy Commission's Enrico Fermi Award for 1957 for his invention and development of the Cyclotron and other contributions in nuclear physics and atomic energy. The Award, a Medal Citation and $50,000, was presented by A.E.C. Chairman Lewis Strauss, (Left), as James R. Killian, (Right), Special Assistant to the President on Science and Technology, witnessed the ceremony.

COVER PICTURE

This is the season when children once again seek to come as close as they can to Santa Claus and anything even remotely connected with him. Our cover depicts a group of youngsters visiting Rudolph in the hope that St. Nick will appear. The bright-eyes and lighted faces tell the real story of Christmas joy.

How About A Convertible For A Christmas Gift?

By STEVE ELLINGSON

This is the time of the year when weekend carpenters, all over the country, begin to think about Christmas. Letters have been pouring in from people who want to get started building gifts. That's one thing do-it-yourselfers need to do—begin early.

Since all young people like convertibles, we decided to lead off with a convertible project. After all, this is a convertible that gives you two things for the price of one.

We asked NBC's young Mark Dehring to show how the convertible is used in the summer, or in the winter when there isn't any snow.

When the snow comes along, all that Mark needs to do is to take off the wheels. In a matter of minutes he has a sled. After the snow melts, all that Mark needs to do is to replace the wheels, now he has a coaster wagon that can be used all summer long.

Don't you think this is a smart idea? And that isn't all, it's a mighty easy project. Anybody can build this convertible in only one evening when he uses the full size pattern. All that's necessary is to trace the full size pattern on wood, then saw out the parts and finally put them together.

The front wheels or runners are on a swivel so steering is easy, which adds to the safety. It's sturdy and will last for years. And last, but by no means least, it's an inexpensive toy to build. The material used is plywood which is available at any lumber yard. The pattern gives the required materials along with step-by-step directions and easy to follow pictures. Any inexperienced amateur can build it.

To obtain the full size convertible sled-wagon pattern No. 168 send 75c in coin to Steve Ellingson, The Chronicle, Van Nuys, Calif.

Life's Darkest Moment

A WEBSTER CLASSIC

PATERSON—Daniel Cataneo, local mail handler, was installed as commander of the War Veterans League of the Post Office, in ceremonies at Natoli's Restaurant, 560 Main St. He succeeds Armando J. Sciro.

Michael Batelli, president of The Veterans Council of Paterson and a past commander of the League, installed Cataneo and new officers for 1958. Installed with Cataneo were Carmen F. Passalacqua, senior vice commander; William Yarcich, 1st junior vice commander; Vincent Marino, second junior vice commander; James Dowling, chaplain; Francis Blanchfield, finance officer; John L. DeBlock, service officer; John Majury, sergeant-at-arms; Edward Peters, historian and Armando J. Sciro, 3-year trustee.

WAYNE—The Community Fire Company of Mountain View re-elected James Gabriel, Jr., as Jr., as chief. He ran unopposed.

Also elected were: Robert Pringle, assistant chief; Albert Gabriel, captain and Dale Keene, lieutenant. Executive officers named were William Wiltshire, president; Keene, vice-president; Robert Pringle, corresponding secretary, and Donald Richards, recording secretary. Wilmot Chapman is company treasurer and Irving Grieves fire company trustee for a three-year term.

CLIFTON — Plans were completed for a Christmas party by the Women of the Moose, Clifton Chapter, at a recent meeting. A grab bag will be a feature of the party to be held Dec. 19 at 8 p. m. at Moose Hall.

Two new members were initiated, Mrs. Paula Mueller and Mrs. Carmen Naples.

WYCKOFF — Albert Mulder was elected president and Carl Hayunga, Jr., vice-president of the Democratic Club at the recent meeting held in the municipal building. They will be installed with other officers at a special buffet supper and dance to be held Jan. 11 at the East Wyckoff Community Club.

LODI—The Board of Education is going to ask the Borough Council to consider placing some sort of protective covering over the Route 46 footbridge.

Trustee Joseph Tucci, safety chairman, suggested the covering last week. He commended stadium janitors for clearing the pedestrian overpass of ice and snow Thursday so Columbus School pupils could use it safely.

Tucci said a canopy or other covering would protect children and lessen clearing work.

FAIR LAWN—Gaspar Domino, 12-61 Western Drive, is the new president of St. Anne's Holy Name Society.

Other officers are: Fred Frank, first vice-president; William Fogarty, second vice-president; Robert Felter, treasurer; Norman Grayson, secretary; Edward Flanagan, marshal; Mathew Bradley, officer-of-the-day, and Peter Andretta and Edward J. Hoyt, county delegates.

HAWTHORNE—The Auxiliary of Fire Co. 3, recently elected the following officers for 1958: President, Louise Bay; vice president, Betty Silvestri; secretary, Marion Gensel; treasurer, Jean Schroter, and dark horse trustee, Sue De Salvo.

The annual Christmas Party will be held at Karl's Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. "Secret Pals" will be revealed during the party.

LITTLE FALLS—More than 300 orphans and underprivileged children in six orphan homes will benefit from a clothing, toy and fund drive conducted recently by employees in all plants of Kearfott Company, Inc. Personnel from the aircraft instrument company will also hold Christmas parties at four children's homes.

The Post Office Vets installed officers for 1958 this week. Head tables guests were seated, left to right: Michael Batelli, installing officer; Commander Daniel Cataneo; Assistant Postmaster Julius J. Tardy and General Foreman David S. Holland. Standing left to right: John L. DeBlock, service officer; William Yarcich, junior vice commander; Armando J. Sciro, retiring commander; James Dowling, master of ceremonies; Alex J. Gow, past state VFW commander and Edward Peters, program chairman.

Strictly

SUBURBAN

The situation at the Totowa Health Board gets more tense as time goes on. Despite the impending change with two Democrats expected to be named to the board, former Mayor Robert Boyle and John Pacilio, both Democrats, certainly make a great deal of noise in conducting the affairs of the board. A little more decorum would be in order.

* * * *

It's a little different at Totowa's Board of Education where a businesslike atmosphere prevails . . . and it reflects in the fine work accomplished, too. Incidentally, Totowa's board became the first in the county this week to adopt a resolution favoring a Passaic County Vocational School . . . Others should be following soon.

* * * *

We hear that former Domestic Relations Court Judge Milton Schamach, might be interested in becoming West Paterson's magistrate on Jan. 1, 1958. The borough does not require that a local man be named. Magistrate Dominic Cavaliere, whose term expires Dec. 31, is a resident of Haledon.

* * * *

The verbal and written barrages being hurled between West Paterson Mayor Alfred Baumann and Ben Rabin, spearheading the movement for a council-manager form of government, certainly can't do Rabin much good. What many cannot understand is how a man who is employed by a governmental agency can afford to spend so much time in the field of politics . . . Rabin is manager of the office of Employment Security in Passaic. Doesn't the Hatch Act apply?

* * * *

Rumors indicate that a certain amount of re-shuffling of appointments in Wayne have a number of bright boys more than just a little concerned . . . Don't worry, fellows . . . nothing will happen until after the first of the year . . . so enjoy the holidays.

* * * *

School Board elections in Totowa are scheduled to take place in February. From this angle it appears that hardly any changes will develop . . . Buy you can't tell.

* * * *

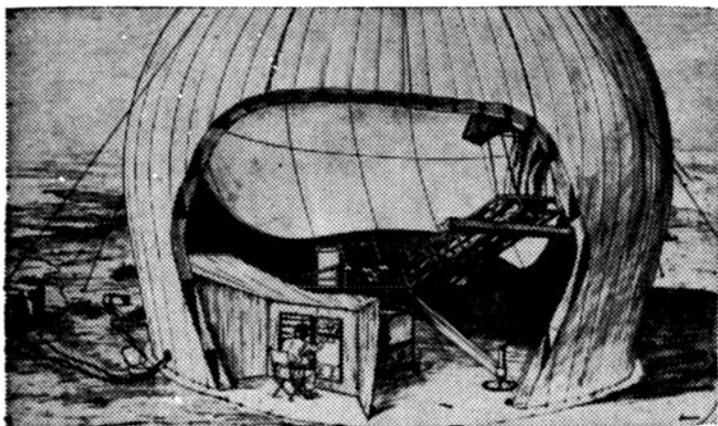

By the way, whose faces were a deep, rosy red at last week's meeting of the Wayne Board of Education when a local reporter "stuck to his guns"?

* * * *

Still in Wayne, let it be said at this moment that Pancake Hollow is a good deal closer to reality than most people think . . . Look for definite surprises real soon on this important issue.

* * * *

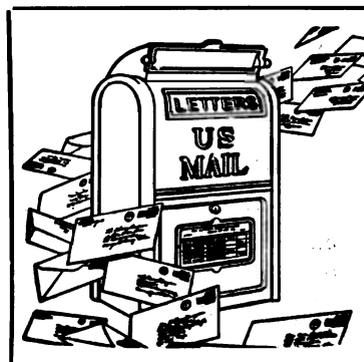

By the way, many local merchants who have been staunch supporters of the Wayne Board of Education are slightly puzzled at the manner in which purchases are siphoned out of the area . . . Wouldn't it be smart policy on the part of the board to patronize some of the local merchants who support them when they need it? . . . This deserves prompt consideration.

RADAR UNIT FOR MARINES - New York - Here's an artist's conception of a highly portable TEW (Tactical Early Warning) Radar system, now under development, which will detect close-in or distant high-speed enemy aircraft and missiles. The sketch illustrates the extreme portability required for equipment to be used under the Corps' Modern Doctrine for Amphibious Operations. The dome-like structure is air inflated.

Carole Comer, 19-year-old local dancer, has been acclaimed for all around dancing ability and willingness to perform for worthy charities. Carole was the star of the successful "Tramp" McNally presentation, "The Variety Revue" for the benefit of the Little Sisters of the Poor Home for the Aged Building Fund.

THE MAILBAG

These columns are open to all. Any opinions you may want to express will be welcomed. It is your magazine! Letters must be signed with correct name and address. Names will be omitted on request.

Dear Editor:

Your Suburban column said last week that a council-manager form of government would not materialize in West Paterson. I think it will and perhaps stop crooked politicians from doing what they please with taxpayers' money. Don't you think so?
An Overburdened West Paterson Taxpayer.

Ed. Note: No, we don't think so. Besides, who has a monopoly on virtue. A manager will have to be paid. This salary and incidental expenses must come from the tax collections. But use your own judgment.

Dear Editor:

I guess now that the United States has failed to launch a satellite we can all refer to it as Pffftnik. Perhaps if we had worried less about what the other fellow is doing we might have been more successful. I'll bet the Russians failed 10 times before they sent Sputnik up. We didn't hear about it because the press over in Russia wouldn't have dared to print anything about it.

THE SPORTSCENE

By RON PHILLIPS

115 enthusiastic youngsters ranging in ages 9-15 were on hand at the annual Junior Bowling League of the Old Timers last week at the Bowl-O-Mat.

Free instruction was given by ADAM GRANITO, LEO GLOWE, and BILL RICHEL as the youngsters prepared for the loop opening in January.

MICKEY SPINELLE saw his PVC championship Eastside High School basketball five cop their opener from RAMSEY by a 77-65 count.

PETE PAWLACK the 6:3 center of the team was the big factor in leading the Ghost's to their win.

DAVE KWIAT, former captain of the Eastside basketball team last year, is performing for the University of PENN frosh team.

BRUCE WYATT ERB scored 10 points in Memphis State's opening game as the Tigers romped by a 96-69 margin against Union University of Tenn.

JIM MARION is the big gun in the Paterson Tech lineup as the blonde youngster tallied 24 points in his club's 73-72 squeaker over St. Joseph's.

JACK REARDON'S St. Joseph's five is rated as the dark-horse team in the Passaic-Bergen Catholic Conference.

DON BOSCO TECH and ST. BONAVENTURE'S are picked as the two top crews to fight it out for the P.B.C.C. honors.

TONY MARTINELLI, the veteran grappler, is still active on the wrestling front all over the Metropolitan area.

GEORGE TELES, the great Clifton High grid star, has just about won every honor in the State of New Jersey, including All-Metropolitan.

ED VREESWYCK looks like top material in putting Jerry Malloy's St. Mary's High charges high up in the standing.

BEN MARMO is doing a fine job in giving the Paterson Board of Recreation another top flight season with 30 teams entered in the City cage loops.

JOHN ANTONUCCI, the good looking former Central High star, just completed a fine season on the grid scene with the Stony Road Tigers as he scored 30 points and was the second leading man in the scoring department.

ED MIKULIK and WILLIE VERLEYAN are the top scorers on the Don Bosco Tech squad which is coached by Brother James Wiegand.

DICK TARRANT, 29-year's-old, is the new cage coach at Passaic High School, replacing Rube Bramson who has retired.

BILL GALESE was picked by his Eastside High School team as the outstanding grid performer.

FREDDY HUBER, former Paterson Tech basketball great, is now performing with the RAILROAD CONSTRUCTION in the City Heavyweight Loop.

ROSS TICKET should repeat as City champions in the 1957-58 race, as they have another top team back with BOB HARRELL, a fine all-around man, one of the leading new figures.

VINCE MARTINEZ, Paterson's leading contender for Welterweight boxing honors, is slated to fight GIL TURNER.

ANTONIO ROCCA, the top grunt and groan star, will head the next wrestling show at the Paterson Armory on Friday evening, December 27th.

Beware of False Prophets

Christ's warning of nearly 2,000 years ago—"Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ravening wolves"—is cited by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover. He applies it to communism. For communism, he says, despite the efforts of leaders to put on smiling new faces, has not weakened and its philosophy has not changed, nor has the danger from it lessened. In his words: "... the same old communist crowd is doing business at the same old communist stand in the same old subversive way!"

Actually, according to qualified spokesmen, the Communist Party, U. S. A., is exulting that it has received a renewed lease on life. And it is intensifying its work in certain extremely significant directions. For one thing it seeks to place members in heavy industry, steel mills and shipyards. For another, it is seeking to appeal to young people and to influence them through concealed members in church and civic organizations. Minority groups are also a prime target, and communists are experts at exploiting and warping legitimate and honest grievances. Then, the purposeful hand of communism is turned to protesting against the continued testing of nuclear weapons and other such strategic matters.

Division and disunity are communists weapons . . . It pits race against race, worker against manager, and group against group. It muddies the waters of peace while shouting, "Coexistence!"

The personalities of communism change. We now see, for instance, Khrushchev in place of Stalin. But, as we have also seen, those who oppose Khrushchev are purged just as surely as were those who opposed Stalin. The tactics of communism do not change! Hypocrisy, guile, deceit, and subversion are the hallmarks of communism today as they were yesterday. Here in America every walk of life has been infiltrated by the fanged salesmen of subversion cloaked in the lamb's wool of glowing promise.

What shall we do to insure that Americans will never eat the bitter fruit which is the dreadful lot of more than one-third of the peoples of the world? The answer is this: Learn what communism is and make ourselves aware of the tactics used by those who promote communism. Communism is purely materialistic in its explanation of the relationship of man to the universe and in its interpretation of history. It wishes to abolish all religions and the economic system we know as free enterprise. Its code of action is based not on morals but on utility. It reasons that the end always justifies the means. Its goal is worldwide revolution culminating in a worldwide communist society. And its end result is the reduction of man from a spiritual creature to the level of high-grade animal whole sole reason for being is to copulate and die.

"Nothing Cooking Here"

The Editor Speaks

VINCENT S. PARRILLO

Every time I touch politics in my column I get howls from my wife. She says, "There are enough political columns. Let readers forget politics. Give them something to smile about, to cry about."

* * * *

That is one reason why I don't write about politics. But there is another reason. I don't know the first thing about politics.

To be frank, if anybody asked me to give a definition of the two parties—the Democratic and the Republican one, I couldn't do it.

It seems most people who belong to a party don't know much more—or any more—about why they belong or what it represents than I do.

If you are a Southerner you belong to the Democrats. If you are a Vermonter or a New Hampshirean, you are a Republican. Why? Don't ask me. It must be for the same reason that cabbage is served with corned beef, ham with eggs, sauerkraut with frankfurters. I asked my wife the other night to give me some asparagus with my corned beef, and I think she was ready to call the doctor.

One thing I do know, however. The two national committee chairmen and practically all the candidates for office during pre-election time seem to have lost all sense of balance, and think all voters are lunatics.

The Democrats say the Republican administration is a curse to the country. The Republicans charge treason and inefficiency.

Do these fellows think for a moment that we are convinced by those ridiculous statements? Do they believe that screaming and shouting determines our vote?

I have never believed that old claim that the average American has the mind of a 12-year-old child. That may be true of politicians and political candidates—but only during pre-election time.

A high ranking Republican once said that there is no such thing as the "common man."

"In our book," he added, "he's an uncommon man who deserves individual opportunity, a chance to grow and expand, a man who must have his independence and his freedom."

You see, even an electioneering politician has lucid moments every now and then.

Let's Talk

Politics

—by O J A Y

The opinions expressed in this column are exclusively those of the writer and do not necessarily reflect the policy and opinion of The Chronicle.

Gov. Robert B. Meyner will have a great deal to say in selecting the party's candidate for U. S. Senator. Despite this important fact . . . or perhaps because of it . . . Democrats are lining up all over the state for a shot at what they all feel to be a sure thing. They say that Trenton is being overrun these days 'with would-be-willing-to-make-the-sacrifice-guys. Last year you couldn't find one unless you had a gun . . . It just goes to show what a little success will do . . .

* * * *

Be it known, however, that the Governor will be taking his time before favoring any particular candidate . . . and there is some question as to whether he will participate at all . . . Right now Democrats all over the country are being subjected to "feelers" for the 1960 elections . . . Gov. Meyner is said to be holding his own . . . running nip and tuck for the presidential nod with Sen. John Kennedy . . . The one thing not in Kennedy's favor is his boyishness . . . while he would make a formidable candidate with the ability to win . . . there are a great many who feel he is too young because he looks it. Meyner has the matured personality which will stand him in good stead . . . There are several other factors favoring Meyner's selection to head the ticket in 1960 . . . More about these later!

* * * *

Vincent C. Duffy, of Paterson, is spending a great deal of time in Trenton these days. Mr. D. is merely trying to "set himself up" as the next Passaic County prosecutor . . . He is working real hard but it will not materialize for him this trip . . . No matter what he does . . . The post on the State Board of Tax Appeals is his for the asking . . . but anything else is out! . . . By this time, after their return from the sunny south, County Chairman Edward J. O'Byrne and Sen.-elect Anthony Grossi have just about lined up all the "spots" for the party favorites . . . Strongly mentioned for a legal post somewhere is Carl Gelman . . . Gelman has been active a long time . . . has done some good work and has long been overlooked . . . This is the year for him . . . The party will gain added strength with Gelman in the "picture".

* * * *

"Herb" Nochimson, slated for the magistrate's post in West Paterson may be disappointed . . . According to reports, the GOP organization hasn't made up its mind yet . . . That's a bad sign! . . . Another certainty which can be reported here is that Chris Frawley, secretary of the CIO Council, will not be returned as a member of the Paterson Board of Rent Control . . . True, there is some question whether rent control will remain or be eliminated. In any case . . . if the board continues it will be Paul Heerema, vice president of TMUA Local 75 who will replace Frawley. Heerema has been a staunch Democratic worker. . . .

* * * *

Latest report from the boys who know is that George Katz seeks to restore himself to his former status with the Democratic Organization . . . His participation has always appeared to be of dubious value and many of the workers feel that he is best where he is now . . . on the outside looking in . . . Anyway, Georgie has a staunch backer in Frank Stamato and Stamato wants him back in the fold . . . What do You think?

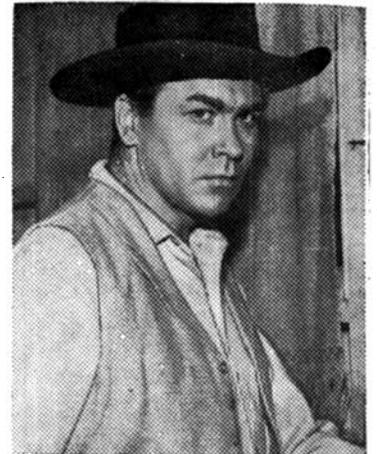

Statesmen hope that at the NATO meeting in Paris this month, the nations of the Free World represented in the NATO grouping will have little on their minds except the need to work together for common defense against the threat of possible communist aggression. While public attention has been concentrated recently on increased communist capabilities for military attack, many in NATO believe that the most potent Soviet threat still is in the fields of political and economic infiltration. The chances are that in the coming talks at Paris much attention will be given to proposals to increase economic and political stability of member nations. Finally, talks may produce agreement to study possibilities of some new approach to the Soviet opinion for settlement of outstanding European differences.

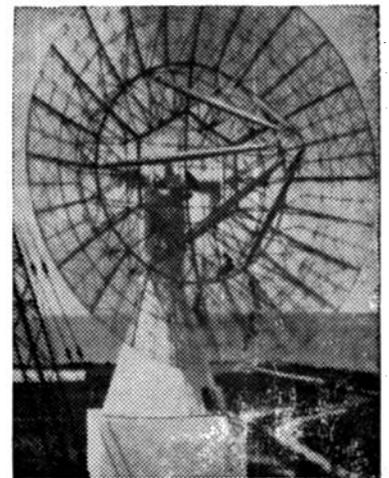

In the Western countries, where NATO is understood to be a defensive grouping, even top echelon leaders find it difficult to understand the fury of Moscow's propaganda against the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. The Russian leaders believe NATO is an aggressive military alliance aimed at the security of the Soviet Union. This communist view was stated with considerable vigor last week in a joint declaration of delegates from 12 communist nations after a Moscow meeting.

Some in the West say this communist attitude dates back to the invasion of Russia by foreign troops in the early days of the communist revolution. Bitterness bred of this was perpetuated by Lenin and Stalin. And Khrushchev is seen as thinking it politically expedient to keep that bitterness alive. Also in the picture is Russian recollection of the long years of isolation when the Soviet Union was the world's only communist nation, "encircled" by the capitalist world.

The practical reason for the current communist attacks on NATO may be that if the association of Free World states were admitted to be purely defensive, Moscow would have difficulty keeping other communist states in a condition of high military preparedness—just as the West would have more difficulty maintaining the NATO-organization in a posture of strength if there were no suspicion of communist intentions.

Howard Keel makes one of his rare television appearances when he plays a dramatic role on "Dick Powell's Zane Grey Theatre." Keel will have the part of a gunman in the program which will be presented on Friday, December 13, over the CBS Television Network.

THE SHOWCASE

By D. G.

Elizabeth Lawrence, who appears in two of Radio's programs, "Road of Life" in the role of Francine, and as Marguertie in "This Is Nora Drake," was an instructor on celestial navigation while in the WAVES. Evenings she can be seen in the Broadway play, "Look Homeward, Angel". A mighty busy gal!

Ed Wynn will be starred in a new family situation comedy series titled "My Old Man". The show plans to go into production in January for television presentation.

In another teevee comedy series, Myrna Loy will be seen in "Minerva". The continuing production will mark the motion picture star's debut on Television. The feature will be produced by Screen Gems.

Alice Lon, pretty songstress of Lawrence Welks' Band, who sang her way into the hearts of millions all over the nation, has a new ambition. This one is to do a Broadway show. She is much more determined than she appears to be. She is the mother of three boys, 10, 8 and 7., and finds time to be with her family. In fact, she is very active in PTA meetings. Alice Lon is definitely on her way up, as a new, fresh personality.

Little notes on what some of the famous entertainers are doing: Dinah Shore and little Christine Sinatra, nine-year-old daughter of that-famous-you-know-who crooner, will join the show soon . . . Jackie Gleason recently left for Europe where he will appear as a musical conductor. He is not known there as a comedian but as a conductor. we'll have you know! . . . Maverick, TV's new Sunday night's Western series, are whipping up the ratings against the Ed Sullivan and the Steve Allen Shows . . . Polly Bergen was the only performer at Mamie Eisenhower's birthday party recently.

Phil Silvers just finished production of his TV Bilko series with 20 episodes when he came down with Asian Flu. The cast is now vacationing and "shooting" of other episodes will resume shortly. Big top names are going to be seen in future programs, including Kay Kendall, Polly Bergen and others.

A woman drove into a service station. "Do you charge batteries here?" she asked.

"We sure do," replied the mechanic. "Then put a new one in this car and charge it to my husband," ordered the woman driver.

A man had been slightly bitten by the political bug, but before he announced his intensions he decided to talk it over with his wife. She slapped an immediate veto on the idea, declaring: "I heard all about you from my folks before I married you, and I don't want to have to hear all that stuff again."

Two farmers were viewing the Grand Canyon. One was quiet while the other became extremely loquacious, using such extravagant phrases as, "It's colossal! Gigantic. It's the most stupendous thing I've ever seen." The quiet one, after a careful survey of the 18-mile wide crack, said, "What a hell of a place to lose a cow in!"

And there's the Florida alligator who said to a Louisiana alligator: "How's bayou?"

"If all my customers were as dirty as the Smith family I'd soon be a rich man, Mrs. Smith"

This Bowling World

By JOE RICHARDSEN

PARAMUS—Many outstanding sports celebrities from the field of baseball and boxing, besides top kegglers, will be on hand here tonight, Dec. 15th, as JUNIE McMAHON and MURRAY GOODMAN will be honored.

Here at the Paramus Bowl, the two Bergenites are being given a "night" for having authored a new book on bowling called, "Modern Bowling Technique". Ronald Press is the publisher.

McMahon is the only New Jersey pinner in the bowling "Hall of Fame". He is a former resident of Fair Lawn, and now makes his home in River Edge.

Goodman is a name you have heard many times in another field. He is publicity director for the International Boxing Club. He has lived in Englewood for the past seven years.

An all-star gala affair has been arranged starting at 8:00 p. m. AMF is sending a bowling great, Lee Jouglard, who will display his skill with local talent.

Climax of the evening's program will be the first annual Sports Writers' Invitation Tournament, with trophies for high, medium, and low scores.

The sportswriters from New York City and New Jersey will roll individually, but the teams scores will count in deciding who will walk off with the first annual trophy.

It comes under the heading of "Bowl at Your Own Risk" and many of the leading writers in the Metropolitan area will be on hand to display their bowling talent.

So, it's strictly on a first come, first serve basis. Admission is free and the 400 grandstand seats will go to early arrivals, of course.

This Week In AMERICAN HISTORY

MARCH OF DONIPHAN'S THOUSAND

One of the most amazing long marches in all military history began on December 12, 1846 at Valverde on the Rio Grande in New Mexico. It was to become known as the "March of Doniphan's Thousand."

Alexander William Doniphan was a lawyer by profession and the son of a Revolutionary soldier. He was living and practicing in the frontier state of Missouri when in May of 1846 he organized the 1st Regiment of Missouri Mounted Volunteers for the Mexican War. Doniphan, then 38 years of age, was elected colonel of the regiment.

Doniphan marched his men to join General Kearny's "Army of the West" in New Mexico. After the capture of Santa Fe Doniphan was ordered to defeat the Navajo Indians who had been raiding New Mexican settlements and force them to sign a peace treaty. That accomplished, the regiment's new orders were to go down to Chihuahua, Mexico, and join up with General Wool's army.

By mid-December Doniphan's regiment was assembled at Valverde where some 300 traders with their wagons had been waiting for a military escort to move south. With the traders and their teamsters and 100 newly arrived men from Santa Fe Doniphan had about 1200 rough and ready riflemen, enough, in every man's opinion, to "whip anything this side of Chihuahua." Off they marched to the south.

On Christmas Day Doniphan's men defeated a force of Mexicans at the battle of El Brazito near El Paso, which they occupied. There they stayed until February 8, when they resumed their march southward to Chihuahua with 17 new men and a battery of six small cannon.

They moved across the dreaded desert, a wasteland where water-holes were few and far apart. Whenever they came to a water-hole the men filled everything possible, even their sword scabbards, with water, letting their blades hang naked at their sides. By day they trudged through deep sand. They suffered from the winter cold sweeping across the bare desert in piercing winds. At night their camps were cheerless, for they seldom had wood for fire. One soldier's description of a night's halt was, "no food, no fire, no sleep, very cold."

After a three week's march from El Paso they met a Mexican force of 3,000 troops before Chihuahua. In a sharp struggle that lasted three hours, known as the battle of Sacramento, the Mexicans were driven from their positions with heavy loss and Chihuahua was captured. Doniphan's men lost one man killed and eleven wounded.

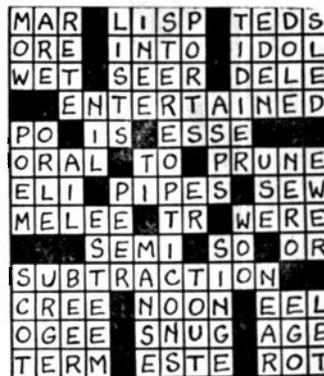

Despite his smashing victory, Doniphan was in a "ticklish" position. He was completely out of touch with his government or the American army. In time he managed to get a message through to General Wolf far away at Buena Vista. "My position is exceedingly embarrassing," he wrote. "Most of the men have been in service since last June, and have not received one cent of pay. Their marches have been hard — they are literally without horses, clothes, or money — nothing but arms and a disposition to use them. They are volunteers, wholly unfit to garrison a city."

Finally orders came through from General Taylor in Monterrey for Doniphan to leave Chihuahua and join the main American army. On April 28, after 59 days of occupation, Doniphan's men moved out of Chihuahua to begin another long march through enemy territory, with "arms as their only passports." They reached Buena Vista and then Monterrey safely, acclaimed as the legendary marchers and fighters from Chihuahua.

From there they moved to Matamoros at the mouth of the Rio Grande, and thence by boat to New Orleans. There, still "rough and ready" and as ragged as ever, they received their discharge and first pay. By July of 1847 "Doniphan's Thousand" were back in Missouri, having completed in a year nearly 6,000 miles of perilous marching and fighting.
