COINCIDENCE TWINS IN DOUBLE DILEMMA — Milwaukee, Wisc. — These two sets of twins have good reason to be unhappy, as does the staff of the Johnston Municipal Hospital. After swallowing headache and prescription pills, the two sets of twins filled the hospital records with enough coincidences to make theirs a likely candidate for the most unusual meeting of the year. Both sets are two years old and have the same birthday. Both sets were prematurely born. The fathers of both sets are Navy men. The four were born within an hour of each other and arrived at the Johnston Hospital within an hour of each other. Finally the four were relieved of the pills VIA the stomach pump.

ALI PAYS COURTESY CALL AT STATE DEPT. — Washington, D.C. — International Socialite-Turned-Diplomat Prince Ali Khan, Right, is shown with Assistant Secretary of State for Near Eastern Affairs, William M. Rountree, as he paid a brief courtesy call at the State Department. Ali is Pakistan's new delegate to the United Nations.

LAST BATTLE WAGON SAYS FAREWELL TO ARMS — Bayonne, N.J. — A general view over the big rifles on the — USS Wisconsin as the last battleship on active duty with the U.S. Navy was decommissioned and relegated to the mothball fleet at Bayonne. The Wisconsin was launched in December, 1943, served in World War Two in the Pacific and later took part in the Korean Conflict.

THE Chronicle of the week

WEST PATERSON —The First Aid Squad held its first installation dinner in the Casino de Charlz in Totowa. About 50 persons attended.

Ralph Garrabrant, vice president of the Sixth District First Aid Squads, officiated. The officers are: president, Joseph Neale; vice president, Edwin Stumpe; treasurer, Louis Frank; secretary, William Strube; trustees, Clifford Beckwith, Frank Fernandez, Clem Trautwein.

Clem Trautwein was master of ceremonies.

CLIFTON —The Clifton High School class of 1943 will hold its 15th anniversary reunion at the Robin Hood Inn on April 9.

In charge of the affair will be Mrs. H. Schneider, Mrs. Mary J. Gomes, Edward Scior, Mrs. J. Niemi, Marge Peluso, Eric Lindstrom, Harold Van Hassel and Frank Donahue.

"ERIN GO BRAGH" — The Friendly Sons of St. Patrick annual dinner was held at the Alexander Hamilton Hotel this past Monday. Left to right, John A. Gavin, toastmaster, prepares to open celebration; Postmaster Frank Murphy, dinner chairman; Frederick Gassert, motor vehicle commissioner; Rev. James Doyle, pastor of St. Theresa R. C. Church; and Congressman Gordon Canfield.

DYERS' LOCAL AIDS DIMES DRIVE —

Checks totaling over $700 were presented to the 1958 March of Dimes by Dyers' Local 1733. Shown at the brief ceremony held at the union's headquarters, 10 Lafayette Place, are seated, left to right: Joseph Maida, assistant secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Claire Driscoll, Paterson drive co-chairman; Ralph E. Bentley, county campaign director; and Louis Verticchio, secretary-treasurer. Second row: Frank Healey, trustee; Charles Lazzio, president; Thomas DeModica, executive board chairman; Pat Munzo, business agent; Mike Pagano, labor representative, March of Dimes; Frank Malzone, executive board; Frank Taricone, sergeant-at-arms; Frank Velie, executive board; Frank Chiochi, Gaede chairman. Third row: Al Desio, trustee; Phil Rizzo, executive board; Frank Pagano, executive board; Tony Spina, executive board; Frank Gallo, executive board; Edward Remery, executive board; Carl Duva, business agent; Louis Cappucci, vice president; and Gene Garbaccio, executive board.

The Thrill That Comes Once in a Lifetime

A WEBSTER CLASSIC

TOTOWA BOROUGH — A public hearing on the proposed Passaic-Bergen Expressway has been set by the State Highway Department for 10:30 a.m. April 15, Primary Day, at Memorial School.

Totowa — Edwin Legawiec, of Riverview Drive, was appointed director of transportation of the local Civil Defense Disaster Control.

Legawiec succeeds Charles Segel, who is being transferred to Asheville, N. C.

Civil Defense Director Joseph Dorer, Jr., announced new members are needed by the transportation committee. He said those wishing to serve are to call him at MUlberry 4-8071.

CLIFTON — The Clifton City Council will discuss the handling of juvenile offenders with a group of interested citizens following its public meeting April 1.

PATERSON — A public hearing on the three-mile Paterson section of the $120,000,000 Bergen - Passaic Expressway will be held at 10:30 a.m. April 2 in Paterson City Hall.

More than a dozen bridges and viaducts, including a 2,400 foot span of seven streets, will carry the eight lane road through the city.

The general route parallels 21st, 22nd and 23rd Avenues until it reaches Market Street and the Passaic River.

HALEDON

To help celebrate Girl Scout Week, Brownie Troop 104 of Cedar Cliff Methodist Church, played host to Brownie Troop 71 of St. Mary's Episcopal Church last week. Mrs. James Beattie, leader of Troop 104, Mrs. June Rumsey, leader of Troop 71, helped prepare punch and cookies with the girls. Troop 104 is planning to purchase a new book, "Lady from Savannah", which is the story of Juliet Lowe, the founder of the Girl Scout movement, and will present it to the Haledon Library.

James Sees, Jr., of 76 Cliff St., is herewith publicly thanked for helping an exasperated woman driver, when he pushed her car out of the slush at West Broadway firehouse, after our latest snowstorm. I know she was exasperated because the driver was me! Thanks again, Jim.

After all her other troubles, Denise Gamble had the measles too, so her mother's opening of her Ceramic Studio at 212 Belmont Avenue, was postponed until last Monday.

Pvt. Louis Kubinsky, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Kubinski, 330 Hobart Avenue, has been assigned to Co. A., 3rd Battalion, First Training Regiment at Fort Jackson, South Carolina, for eight weeks of basic training.

Fire Company No. 1 is planning an Easter social for their next meeting which will be held on Friday, March 28. Ray Rooney is chairman of the committee.

George Shea, vice president of the board of education, with his wife, Helen, two daughters, Catherine and Helen, have just returned from a three week business and pleasure trip to California. Main Stops of trip were at Newport Beach, Hollywood and San Francisco.

Bill Cook, first aid director, is starting an advanced First Aid course. Anyone who hasn't already signed, must sign up by this Thursday, at the Haledon Ambulance Building on Morrissee Avenue.

Other Haledon travelers include John and Mae Steenstra, 330 Southside Avenue, going to Florida and Mrs. Lee Broglio, who just returned from there. Mr. and Mrs. Ben Fisher are on a cruise to Haiti.

In connection with a "Smorgasbord" dinner dance to be held Saturday, May 31, at Jos. Pipp's, Fire Company No. 1 members have tickets for the affair now on sale. They're planning a really gala evening of good food, music, games and entertainment, honoring the ex-chiefs of Haledon's Fire Department. We have a list of 30 ex-chiefs who have served their community, some of course, have passed on. See how many names you can remember and check with the list that will appear in a later column.

The gals in Chris' Big and Little Shop surprised her with flowers and a cake on Tuesday, celebrating her birthday.

After another incident during last Monday night's fire drill, which nearly caused an accident involving the fire apparatus, a complaint was filed with the Haledon police, by the fire truck driver, against a Paterson motorist for failure to yield right of way to the borough engines. This has happened so much recently, a concerted drive by the department educating the public as to their responsibility to their fire fighting equipment and their volunteer firemen will be started.

This has been the end of a hard winter for Al Caporossi of 55 Cliff Street. After his storm door blew off the first time and he fixed it, another windstorm came along and demolished it beyond repair.

The following are the proposed standing committees for the board of education for the 1958-59 school year, with the chairmen listed: Building and Maintenance, George Shea; Personnel and Education, James Mason, Jr.; Finance, Medical and Dental, George MacBurney; Playground, Book and Supply, June Gamble; Publicity and Transportation, Frances Molendyke; By-Laws and Policy, Margaret Clark. Budget is the entire board. Delegates to Passaic County, Frances Molendyke, (alternate) Eugene Drees; Delegate to State, George Shea, (alternate) Margaret Clark.

Phil Del Vecchio, U. S. Weather Bureau Observer, and his son Bob, showed pictures of their work in connection with the International Geographical Year at the Haledon Regular Republican meeting recently. They also had an excellent recording of the Sputnik I, as it pepped over North America two days after it was orbited. Photographs they have made of solar spots and explosions are sent to the U. S. Naval Observatory and have been praised by Dr. Ellison, Edinburgh's solar expert. A fascinating evening.

PROSPECT PARK

NORTH HALEDON

Dr. J. Harold Straub, 117 Wayne Ct., who is Passaic County Superintendent of Schools has a new office in Room 208 of the County Service Building, 317 Pennsylvania Avenue, Paterson. His temporary telephone number is SH 2-7121.

In celebrating National Library Week, the Library Association had a display at the PTA meeting and in the North Haledon Pharmacy, where compositions were on display, written by school pupils on "What the Library Means to Me". Fifteen books were shown at the PTA meeting and pamphlets were distributed concerning the new books recently made available on sex education.

Martin Bunis, 892 Belmont Ave. was inducted into the Army on March 19.

George White, 752 Belmont Ave., is leaving for Fort Dix on March 31 to start his military training.

Mr. and Mrs. John Steenstra, 40 Oakwood Avenue, became the parents of a daughter, Yvonne, on February 28.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reinhardt, 45 Graham Avenue, became the parents of a son, Michael, on March 3.

In a letter received by the local board of health, from Daniel Bergsma, state Commissioner of Health, they were advised that no more free Salk vaccine would be made available for public clinic use. From now on it will be available through biological distributor stations subject to the same restrictions and regulations as any other vaccine. The last polio clinic had been planned for May, but as a shortage of the vaccine had been predicted, it was held earlier this month. After receipt of this letter, it looks like the board of health acted wisely.

SUBURBAN

Rumors indicate the "cock-sureness" of the present GOP majority on the Haledon Council is allegedly resulting in plans for the erection of a new municipal building. Present economic conditions certainly do not warrant any such action, if the reports are true.

Little Falls Mayor Jacob De Young stuck to his guns this week in not voting for salary increases for township employes. Previously, the mayor urged Township Committee members to reconsider the 1958 budget in order to relieve the pressure from the taxpayer. He was ignored and his position while unpopular with local GOP leaders, seems to have made him a great many more friends among the voters.

The naming of a police chief in Clifton will develop political overtones shortly which will surprise a great number of citizens including some who think they know what is going on behind the scenes. Don't say we didn't tell you.

As mentioned in this column last week, George Baldanzi of Hawthorne became president of the United Textile Workers Union at the organization's convention in Washington, D. C. last week-end. Baldanzi, nationally prominent labor and civic leader, was unopposed for the national post. Joseph Krause of Paterson was elected vice president of the national union.

The site of the old Haledon Food Fair on Haledon Avenue will soon be "steam cleaned, pressed and converted" into a shiny showroom for the Volkswagen automobile. Incidentally, the location is owned by former Mayor Charles Cona.

The news of a 32-point tax reduction in West Paterson was very happily received by home owners although scarcely a handful attended the public hearing. The meeting room might have been jammed if the 32 points had been an increase.

West Paterson Democrats had very little to object to in the budget. Very conspicuous by his absence at the public hearing was the Democratic mayoralty candidate.

Let's Take Stock

There has been some comment recently about the danger signals effecting our local and national economy. The comments, in our opinion, have not been forceful enough and have certainly not pointed the way to any device which might prove some sort of answer to the increasing unemployment. There has been tendency, in local quarters, to shower and feed the people with a rash of figures which are calculated to obscure the real situation and to show that "things are pretty good."

On the national scene, unemployment took a decided sharp increase during mid-January and February. The Department reporting the figures for that period noted that the unemployment pool increased.

With all of the pre-Christmas shopping, it just doesn't seem possible that such a condition could exist and yet that is exactly what happened. In addition, it was the worst it has been since 1940.

Our local textile mills are in a slump. The garment industry, while not entirely dormant, is not keeping pace with previous years. The dyeing phase of the textiles industry is desperate in trying to keep the bulk of the work from going out of state. Wright Aeronautical Corporation, one of the largest employers in the area is slowly but steadily cutting back.

In the meantime, the office of the State Employment Service is overtaxed with claimants. Added to this burden is the fact that unemployment checks are being held up as long as three to five weeks. Grocery bills are beginning to appear where once there was cash! What is the answer to this dangerous condition? Is our city prepared to offer any suggestions or solutions?

It is not our intention to sound like the prophets of doom, but certainly the same people who are asked to support candidates for office are entitled to know what is being done to preserve their social and economic welfare. It is too late to take stock when we have reached the bottom of the barrel.

The History of Liberty

"Liberty has never come from the government . . . The history of liberty is the history of the limitations of governmental power, not the increase of it."

That was said more than 40 years ago by one of the greatest students of government who ever sat in the White House — Woodrow Wilson. And the warning he issued is a hundred times more important and timely now than it was then.

The overriding lesson that modern history teaches is that when we give government virtually unlimited power, freedom dies — and oppression and tyranny take its place.

The Editor Speaks

VINCENT S. PARRILLO

I've often wondered how other parents manage to keep peace in their houses, especially those with five children. Since the twins (the youngest also attend school, it is a lot easier on Mamma. But the minute you overcome one problem another one crops up.

Now it is the question of: "How much allowance do I get?" Times have certainly changed. I remember my allowances very clearly.

The way I see it, my children can't learn to swim if you don't take them into water. They'll never know the value of money if you don't let them handle some of it at least.

Our children know exactly what goes on at home. They know the prices of meat and potatoes, what it costs to operate the family car,

In order to practice, each one of the offspring gets a weekly allowance according to age and need. They must learn that if you like hard candy as well as chocolates that you can't buy both . . . and that if you spend it all on Tuesday you're surely not going to have any on Thursday for whatever you might need.

The money we grant for allowances is strictly their own. We have pointed out to them the value of saving for special days. For example, you can't buy a ten dollar item for three. So not being familiar with installment buying (Thank God) the only way to get it is through regular savings plan.

You'd be surprised at how the kids operate. Each of them has their system but they do save a portion of the allowance. So much for candy, so much for church and a set amount goes into the cigar box.

Budget wise the children have given the wife and me a vote of confidence. The "kids" unanimously voted that we could have one case of soda per week. Also I'm allowed one pack of cigarettes a day and I can smoke a fancy tall cigar on Sunday.

No matter what the problems are it is wonderful to raise a family. Believe me, it is great to be a parent. Especially a father!

Let's Talk

Politics

—by O J A Y

The opinions expressed in this column are exclusively those of the writer and do not necessarily reflect the policy and opinion of The Chronicle.

The unexpected victories in the last election caught both Republicans and Democrats completely off base. The ranks of both major parties are filled with diversified factions and leaders are having a difficult time in trying to hold former organizations together.

It appears that Democrats are having the more fruitful crop of candidates. They are springing from behind every bush and tree. In Paterson there will be contests for Democratic County Committee seats in seven of the 10 districts in the Third Ward, five of the 13 in the Fourth, and all eight in the Eighth.

The Third and Fourth Ward contests go with contests for the nomination for alderman. The Eighth does not elect an alderman this year. The county committee fight is part of the continuing fight against the leadership of Maurice (Beef) Siccardi by Carmine Tarrantino, who runs the insurgent Eighth Ward Democratic Club.

Tarrantino, however, will have a tough job in unseating Siccardi who has given ward constituents good attention. Furthermore, there are very few who don't know that Tarrantino is a resident of Totowa Borough where he has become more vocal in the past six months.

The Republicans, although they have a contest for the First Ward alderman nomination, do not have county committee contests, and in 16 of the city's 103 districts, do not even have the necessary two candidates for the committee. The Democrats lack two candidates in one district, 10th of the Eleventh Ward.

Alderman Sam Bruno, in a three-way contest for the Democratic nomination in the Third Ward, has left his job as advertising manager for a Fair Lawn weekly newspaper.

Bruno has dared to criticize the administration's handling of the City Hospital and has incurred sufficient wrath to have Al Daloisio, publisher of the Fair Lawn News sever a lifelong friendship. Rumors are that Daloisio was told to "purge" Bruno from the staff.

Isadore Zabolinsky has finally been placed as assistant superintendent of buildings. But it has cost the county plenty to create the $6,500 post. In order to "take care" of Zab. Super Emeric Vanden Berghe had to be given a $1,000 raise. It would seem that men who have been employed by the county for any length of time have little chance of promotions under this sort of activity. The "railroading of tax money" to provide a political, heretofore non-existent post violates the merit system, seniority rights and all moral concept. In another quarter of the city, Ralph Gambatese is being "victimized" for some unknown reason. That Harry Schoen fired the blast is of little consequence. The move was inspired elsewhere, but Ralph has strong support. Veterans all over the county are objecting to the harassment caused one who has earned the right to hold his job.

The patronage muddle here is about the same as it has been. The trips to Trenton during the past several weeks have become more frequent. Some changes are expected within the next week or so, and the whole project will be disposed of satisfactorily.

TELLS ALL — Dawn Richard portrays a criminal's confederate who betrays him to the police on NBC-TV's "Dragnet" Thursday, April 3.

Gracie Fields, internationally famed comedienne, singer and actress, guest stars as Miss Pross in Charles Dickens' "A Tale of Two Cities," CBS Television's Du Pont "Show of the Month," Thursday, March 27. Among her co-stars in the 90-minute drama of love and adventure are Eric Portman, Agnes Moorehead, Rosemary Harris and Walter Fitzgerald.

THE SHOWCASE

By D. G.

Two John Osborne hits, "Look Back In Anger" with original London stars, Mary Ure and Kenneth Haigh, and "The Entertainer", the play with music starring Sir Laurence Olivier, George Relph, Brenda deBanzie and Joan Plowright are in the Broadway news this week.

Producer David Merrick is moving "Look Back In Anger", from the Lyceum Theatre to the Golden Theatre on Forty-fifth Street.

The Osborne hits will be flanking each other at the Golden and the Royale Theatres. And all four of David Merrick's productions, uniquely, will be adjacent. "Romanoff and Juliet" is flourishing at the Plymouth Theatre next to the Royale, and the hit musical, "Jamaica" is housed directly across the street at the Imperial Theatre. Historians claim it is the first time in many years that Broadway has seen a concentration of such magnitude under the auspices of one producer.

America's winsome "princess of song", Joni James, offers two of the finest ballads of her career. "Nothing Will Ever Change" has a melody that really sticks, neatly enforced by a strong, but subtle beat. "Doe It Show" makes its effect not only through an evocative tune, but also a provocative lyric.

The "American Bandstand" top ten for the week are:

1. "Sweet Little Sixteen", Chuck Berry.
2. "It's Too Soon To Know", Pat Boone.
3. "Short Shorts", The Royal Teens.
4. "Don't, Elvis Presley.
5. "Tequila", Eddie Platt.
6. "Oh-Oh, I'm Falling In Love Again," Jimmie Rodgers.
7. "Who's Sorry Now?", Connie Francis.
8. "Get A Job", The Silhouettes.
9. "Are You Sincere?" Andy Williams.
10. "Lollipops", The Chordettes.

Mr. Smith was driving through the country when his motor stopped. He got out of the car and raised the hood to locate the trouble. "The trouble is in the carburetor," a voice behind him said. Smith turned, surprised, but saw only an old horse standing nearby. Not believing his ears, he asked, "Did you say something?"

"I said you'd better check the carburetor," replied the horse. Rushing to the nearest farmhouse, Smith excitedly told his experience to the old farmer. "Was it an old bay horse with one flop ear?" asked the farmer.

"Yes, yes, that's the one!" "Well, don't pay any attention to him" the farmer scoffed. "He don't know anything about automobiles anyway."

Lady: "May I try on that dress in the window?"

Clerk: "Don't you think you'd better use the dressing room?"

A farmer and his wife whose Uncle Luke lived close to the stockyards, the gas works and a chemical plant invited him to come for a visit and enjoy some fresh air. Uncle Luke was delighted but cut short his visit after two days with the comment: "This country air may be all right, but there's no body to it."

"Now you both know the rules..."

Two Patti Pages

Oklahoma born Patti Page, star of "The Big Record" which is broadcast each Wednesday over the CBS Television Network, was honored recently by having an oil well named for her. "The Patti Page" is a certified gusher and will be awarded shortly as first prize in a nation-wide jingle contest.

DETOUR to ROMANCE

By GILBERT WRIGHT

● "Harry started to scramble over the counter as the slim, dark-eyed girl came near."

Located in the check room in union station like I am I see everybody that comes up the ramp.

Tony — who owned the magazine stand to my left — studied the laws of probability on account of his system with the horses. He claimed that he could calculate by Random Distribution that if I held my job one hundred and twelve years more I would know everybody in the world by sight.

And I came to the theory that if you wait long enough in a big union station you'll see everybody that travels.

I've told my theory to lots of people but nobody ever did anything about it but Harry. He came in a little over three years ago and waited at the head of the ramp for the passengers from the 9:05.

I remember seeing Harry that first evening. He wasn't much more than a slim, anxious kid then. He'd slicked himself up and I knew he was meeting his girl and that they would be married twenty minutes after she arrived. No use me trying to explain how I knew all this but when you've watched people waiting at the head of the ramp for eighteen years like I've done it comes easy.

Well, the passengers came up and I had to get busy. I didn't look toward the ramp again until nearly time for the 9:18 and I was very much surprised to see that the young fellow was still there.

She didn't come on the 9:18 either, nor the 9:40 and when the passengers from the 10:02 had all scattered, Harry was looking pretty desperate. Pretty soon he came close to my window so I called out and asked him what she looked like.

You'd have thought I had her checked on the parcel rack the way he came over and half crawled through my window. "She's small and dark," he says, "and nineteen and very trim in the way she walks. She's got a sort of face," he says, thinking a minute, "like she has lots of spirit. I mean she can get mad but she never gets sore. And her eyebrows hump up in the middle like little tents. She's got a brown fur, but maybe she isn't wearing it."

I couldn't remember seeing anybody like that.

He showed me the wire he'd received: ARRIVE THURSDAY MEET ME AT DEPOT. LOVE LOVE LOVE LOVE — MAY. It was from Omaha.

"Well," I finally says, "why don't you telephone to your home. She's likely called there if she got in ahead of you."

He gave me a sick look. "I've only been in town two days. We were going to meet and then drive down South where I've got a job promised. She — she hasn't any address for me." He touched the telegram. "I got this general delivery."

With that, he walked off to the head of the ramp to look over the people from the 11:22.

When I came on duty the next day he was still there and came over as soon as he saw me.

"Did she work?" I asked.

He nodded. "Typist. I wired her former boss. All they know is that she quit her job to get married."

Well, that was how it began. Harry met every train for the next three or four days. Of course, the railroad lines made a routine check-up and the police glanced at the case. But nobody was any real help. I could see they all figured May had simply ducked out on him. But I never believed that, somehow.

One day, after about two weeks, Harry and I were talking and I told him about my theory. "If you'll just wait long enough," says I, "you'll see her coming up that ramp." He turned and looked at the ramp like he'd never seen it before, while I went on explaining about Tony's figures on Random Distribution.

Next day when I came to work there Harry was behind Tony's magazine stand. He looked at me kind of sheepish and says, "Well, I had to get a job, didn't I?"

So he clerked for Tony. We never spoke of May any more and neither of us ever mentioned my theory. But I noticed that Harry always saw every person who came up the ramp.

Toward the end of the year, Tony got himself killed in some gambling mix-up and the widow left Harry in complete charge of everything. And when she got married again Harry bought her out. He borrowed money and installed a soda fountain and pretty soon he had a very nice little business.

Then came yesterday. I heard a yell and a lot of stuff falling. The yell was from Harry and the stuff falling was a lot of dolls and nicknacks he'd upset while he was jumping over his counter. He swooped across and grabbed a girl not ten feet from my window. She was little and dark and her brows humped in the middle.

For a while they just hung there to each other laughing and crying and making double talk. She'd say a few words like, "It was the bus depot I meant—" and he'd kiss her speechless and tell the frantic things he'd done to find her.

It seems that after she'd waited at the bus depot for three days and had spent all her money trying to find him she got a job typing.

"What!" says Harry, "have you been working in town? All the time?"

She nodded.

"Well, good gosh — didn't you never come down here to the station?" He pointed across to his stand. "I've been there all the time. I own it. I've watched everybody that came up the ramp—"

She began to sag, turning very pale. Pretty soon she looked over at the ramp and said in a lost voice, "I—I never came up it before . . . You see, I went out of town yesterday on an errand for my boots — Oh, Harry!" Then she threw her arms around his neck and really began to let loose.

After a minute she backed away, and pointed very stiffly toward the north end of the station.

"Harry — for three years — for three solid years I've been right over there — typing for the — station master."

The wonderful thing to me, is how the Law of Random Distribution worked so hard and so long until it finally got May to walk up our ramp.

This Week In AMERICAN HISTORY

BY WILLIAM BRODIE

"UNCLE TOM'S CABIN" PUBLISHED

The American novel that was called "The Greatest Book of the Age," and considered to be the most influential novel in all history, was first published in book form in Boston on March 20, 1852. Its title was Uncle Tom's Cabin, or Life Among the Lowly, and its author was a forty-year-old woman, Harriet Beecher Stowe.

Mrs. Stowe had been born in New England but lived for 18 years in Cincinnati where her father, the Rev. Lyman Beecher, was the head of Lane Theological Seminary. Harriet Beecher Stowe, wife of Rev. Calvin Stowe, a teacher in the seminary, became familiar with the evils of slavery while living in Cincinnati. The stories of the cruelty of slavery became known to her from the runaway slaves she and her husband aided through the "underground railway" system of escape across Ohio to Canada. The Stowes had moved to Brunswick, Maine, where Mr. Stowe was appointed professor at Bowdoin College, when the Fugitive Slave Act stirred the country in 1850.

Now Harriet Beecher Stowe was aroused to a high pitch of indignation, and from her full memory and vivid imagination she set out to write the human message against slavery which she felt she must deliver. Uncle Tom's Cabin was the name of her novel depicting the evil story of slavery. It ran first as a serial from June, 1851 to March, 1852 in the "National Era," an anti-slavery newspaper published at Washington, D. C.

As a serial it was successful, but not until it was published in book form on March 20, 1852 did Uncle Tom's Cabin become famous. It sold 3,000 copies the first day, and 300,000 before the end of the year. Its popularity and sales grew with time. In eight years it became the first American novel to sell a million copies. Everywhere people read it, heatedly talked and argued about it. Uncle Tom's Cabin spread all over Europe and the British colonies and was translated into twenty languages. Black-mustached and villainous Simon Legree, gentle Uncle Tom, sad little Eva, and Eliza dashing across the ice pursued by baying bloodhounds became internationally known characters on the stage as well as in print.

In the United States the novel aroused tremendous enthusiasm and indignation. Southern critics condemned it as an evil caricature of the institution of slavery. In the North, anti-slavery people regarded the book as a "bible" of their cause. No other American novel ever had such far-reaching and deep political effects. It was said that "it penetrated the walls of Congress and made politicians tremble." Senator William H. Seward of New York urged his Southern colleagues to read it and learn the error of their ways. Millions of people came to regard slavery as an evil after reading the book, and it became a powerful force in the political upheaval that led to the Civil War.

Down through the years millions of copies of Uncle Tom's Cabin were sold and thousands of theatrical troupes dramatized it. But perhaps the greatest tribute to the book was paid during the Civil War by President Lincoln in 1862, ten years after it was published. "So you're the little woman," he said, on meeting the author, "who wrote the book that made this great war!"
