Harriet owns twelve shares, one for each of her 12 years.

FOUR OF A KIND — ALL QUEENS — San Antonio, Texas — William D. Dennis, Sr., 77, figures he's got a winning hand — four of a kind and all Queens. Of course they are all great-granddaughters and they're more of a handful than a hand, but he's proud of them just the same. Great-Grandfather Dennis has 17 grandchildren and 10 other great-grand grandchildren.

BARE-HANDED BEE BUSINESS — Little Rock, Ark. — Gib Wilson, a bee-keeper hobbyist, gets ready to lift a colony of bees, bare-handed, into a box after they settled on a Cadillac in Little Rock. Mrs. Fred R. Prioleau had parked her car in a downtown spot only to return and find that the bees had taken over.

NEW CHAIRMAN OF GOVERNORS CONFERENCE DECORATED — Bal Harbour, Florida — Governor Leroy Collins, of Florida, receives a lei from Manu Lucas of Honolulu at the Luau Dinner given the Governors during their 50th Annual Conference at Bal Harbour, Florida. His election represented a political setback for Northern Liberals who had been backing Governor Meyner of New Jersey.

"I SEE YOU" — Washington, D.C. — The Washington Monument rises majestically in the background as the intricate color and beauty of The Capital's famed Japanese Cherry Blossoms so entice three-year-old David Robertson that he decides to get a better look at them with the help of his spy glasses.

Totowa Council Refuses Settlement in Embezzling

TOTOWA BOROUGH — The mayor and council refused to accept $22,191.47 from the American Surety Company in full settlement of the defalcation of the late Wilbur Hawthorne, former borough treasurer and tax collector. In a communication the surety company denied complete liability for the actions of the former borough official. The company's offer of a settlement represented liability from 1950-54.

However, Councilman Felix Liberti, chairman of the finance committee, noted that the offer represented approximately 25 per cent of the total defalcation during the period of years from 1950 to 1956. He recommended that Borough Attorney Francis R. Giardello communicate with the surety company, setting July 20 as deadline for a more equitable adjustment.

HALEDON

Members of the Board of Education and the teaching staff and personnel of both schools attended a dinner at the Brownstone House at 358 West Broadway last week to honor Miss Mary Berdan.

Miss Berdan will retire in June after teaching fifty years, 49 of which were in Haledon. Those seated at the head table with Miss Berdan were board president Anthony Barnish, Superintendent of Schools, Marjorie Stansfield; Superintendent of the Regional High School, Joseph Gorab; Mary Van Iderstine, teacher in charge at the Absalom Grundy school; Mrs. Agnes Grimshaw, president of the Teachers Association and Mrs. Helen Steele, sister of Miss Berdan, who also was a teacher in Haledon at one time.

Miss Stansfield acted as mistress of ceremonies, introducing Mr. Barnish, who paid tribute to the years of service rendered the children of this community by Mary Berdan. George Shea, vice president of the board also spoke. Agnes Grimshaw spoke for her friends in the teachers' association in wishing a long and healthy time of retirement for their colleague, as did Mary Van Iderstine.

Mr. Gorab spoke to his former teacher, Miss Berdan, thanking her for her faith and trust in the Haledon school system and in the people and children of the borough.

Mrs. Matilda Grandi played the piano while Mrs. Isabelle Pabian led community singing and square dancing, after which the guest of honor was presented with a bouquet of red roses before she left.

A really nice evening of delicious food, good fellowship and a feeling of cooperation was enjoyed by all. Mrs. June Gamble, who had volunteered as chairman of the dinner committee to make all the plans and arrangements was not present to attend the dinner as she was confined to General Hospital with a back injury. Happy to say though at this writing she is home again, but with the possibility of having to wear a back brace for a while. We all hope this will be a temporary solution and that this active lady will again be back at her store, and at the school board meetings.

The Frank Muilenburgs, their daughter Karen, and the Melvin Staggs spent Memorial Day weekend in Vermont.

Wilbur Bolan of Central Ave., whose pretty wife Mary works at Chris' Big 'N Little Shop, went fishing in Hamburg Memorial Day. He's been eating off the mantle piece since though, because a fish nearly caught him; he lost his balance and slid down a slate bank until he was able to stop. Wilbur doesn't swim and if he'd gone over the bank he would have faced a fifty foot drop into the water. Mary isn't planning on serving fish in the near future because it's really a "sore" subject around her house.

Mr. and Mrs. Til Azzi of Van Dyke Avenue, spent the holiday weekend in the Catskills.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Yannucci and daughter Marjorie spent the weekend in Milanville, Pa., with the Herman Esselman family.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Von Dwingelo of Zabriskie Street, became the parents of a baby boy this week. Mrs. Von Dwingelo is the former Jane Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Smith of Mangold Street.

Allen at HA 7-3895, or come to the municipal field, Overlook Avenue, on Monday and Wednesday evenings. Any players who would like to join the team can come to try out on the same evenings.

SUBURBAN

As predicted here last week, Emil De Snoo, secretary to the North Haledon Board of Education, resigned as of the end of June. Applicants have been interviewed to replace him. He will be missed only in his official capacity, because as a member of the tax paying public, he will still keep his eye on the functions of the board.

Must be healthy in this region. "Grandma" Fouchaux of North Haledon just celebrated her 96th birthday; Pieter Mulder of Hawthorne celebrated his 91st; and John Van Dyk of Prospect Park celebrated his 90th.

Wonder if there will be as many and as strenuous objections to the location of a new detergent manufacturing plant in Wayne as there was in Pompton Lakes. There are good and bad qualities in bringing more industries to various areas and should be looked into thoroughly.

Mayor of Haledon was in jail Friday night! It was only the one tha Teen Age Block Dance, but for awhile they had some fun, keeping him in.

A lot of the stores in Haledon are already decorated with bunting for the Fiftieth Anniversary celebration. Merchants desiring to decorate their stores may contact Dan Ramella at the Borough Office. Haledon's Fiftieth Anniversary souvenir books will be available at the borough office, Wednesday afternoon, June 11. Special bookmarks will be given with each book.

ALASKA STATEHOOD

It appears that chances for Alaskan statehood are now better than they have been since 1916 — when the issue first reached Congress. The merits of the case seem to be indisputable and the recommendations for statehood—or the bill proposing it — has now been approved by the appropriate Congressional committees.

Alaska is a huge area, and its value to the United States cannot be over-estimated. It is the equivalent of a land mass stretching from Maine to Florida, and from the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico, which equals the area of the twenty eastern-most states.

The United States has already received over four hundred times more than the seven million purchase price it paid to Imperial Russia for Alaska in metal, minerals, timber and oil, etc.

Moreover, the principle of taxation without representation is directly involved. And, to those who say it is too sparsely settled, it is interesting to know that more than twenty of our states were admitted to the Union before they had as many people as now inhabit Alaska — about 212,500.

And, looking at the background and stock of the people, it is interesting to know that more than eighty per cent of them are of the same stock as those who first settled the United States. The Communist problem is almost non-existent in Alaska, and it is estimated that no more than ten or twelve Communists inhabit the territory — which is certainly near the best average of any of the states in the Union.

Therefore, it is hard to oppose admission of Alaska. The people are taxed heavily there, the government owns practically everything, and they have no appropriate representation in Congress. After all, this country was founded on the principle of taxation with representation, and that is what this question is all about.

JUNE

There is all of beauty in these few things —
A new-born child — and a new born moon —
A tree — a bud in the flush of spring —
A ship at sea — and a bride in June —
Ivy and bittersweet in fall —
But the bride is the loveliest of all!

—Anne Mary Lawler

June, which brings us summer, brides, holidays from school and vacations — among other things — is upon us.

Historically speaking, there are months more important to Americans than June. For Southerners, it is remembered as the anniversary month of the birth of Jefferson Davis, the only President of the Confederacy, who was born in Todd County, Kentucky, on June 3, 1808. It is also remembered as the month of the anniversary of the Battle of Bunker Hill, which was fought on June 17, 1775. West Virginia was admitted into the Union, officially, on June 20th, 1863.

The Custer massacre occurred on June 25th, 1876, on the Little Big Horn river, in Montana. The first U. S. troops to land in France in World War I landed on June 26th, 1917.

One of the most fateful events in history took place in June, occurred at Sarajevo, in Bosnia, when the Archduke Franz Ferdinand was assassinated. He was heir to the throne of Austro-Hungary, and this event ignited World War I, with all its death and destruction.

The Bottom Hasn't Fallen Out

There is no point in minimizing the unemployment problem in this country. At the same time, there is an obvious danger that we may be led into wildly exaggerating it.

As of a late date, the Wall Street Journal points out, the unemployment amounted to about seven per cent of the total work force. By way of comparison, the figure at the worst of the great depression of the 30's was 30 per cent. The lowest figure — three to four per cent — was reached during the postwar boom.

"Therefore," the Journal says, "when we attempt to appraise the present state of the economy in terms of unemployment we should remember that seven per cent out of work, while personally distressing, it mathematically excessive only when compared with the best years any economy ever had."

We all hope that the seven per cent of the work force who are now unemployed will find jobs soon. Meanwhile, it will do no one any good to act as if the bottom has completely fallen out of the economic structure. It hasn't. Despite the recession, the vast majority of the American people are far better off, materially speaking, than their equivalents in any other country on this earth.

Jan Merlin (center) and Irene Hervey, who plays the role of his mother, accuse Merlin's fiancée, Whitey Blake, of stealing jewelry in a scene from "Perry Mason." The episode, which stars Raymond Burr as Perry Mason, will be broadcast Saturday, June 14 over the CBS Television Network.

Mrs. Goldstein called on Mrs. McGee. "I've just heard your husband is in the hospital. What happened?" she asked.

"It's his knee," explained Mrs. McGee. "I found a blonde on it."

One fly said to another: "How's things?"

"Oh, baby is sick," said the first one. "Had to walk the ceiling with him all night."

A woman stepped off the penny scale and turned to her husband, who eyed her appraisingly and asked: "Well, what's the verdict? A little overweight, eh?"

"Oh, no," replied the little woman. "I wouldn't say that; but according to that height table on the front, I should be about six inches taller."

He boasted that he could bend a horseshoe with his bare hands. "That's nothing," shot back a pal. "My wife can tie up ten miles of telephone wire with her chin."

One thing you know about a communist who blows his brains out: He was a crack shot.

Lions Club To Hear Speaker From Eyes Right, Inc.; To View Film of Work

Tuesday, June 10, at the regular meeting of the Lions Club of Haledon, Mr. William Yinson Lee, secretary of Eyes Right, Inc., will show a film and speak about the work of this non-profit organization whose aim is to restore sight to the visually handicapped and legally blind.

Mr. John Kogler, one of the men who has been helped through the assistance of this volunteer organization, and who helped make the film will accompany Mr. Lee.

Following their program of learning new and better ways to help their fellow men, the Lions have scheduled this program with the idea of learning more about this worthwhile work, and to pass the word to others who may help the organization or who may help themselves through the use of its services.

Eyes Right, Inc., is located at 316 Fifth Avenue, New York City. It is a non-profit, volunteer organization to bring sight restoration measures within the reach of everyone who can benefit by them so that every blind person may have the best possible chance to see again.

A Subnormal Vision Rehabilitation Center has been established with specialists in this field, and in vocational guidance to help those whose sight is improved.

Those who may be helped through this organization are legally blind or visually handicapped through cataracts, diabetes, optic atrophy, retrolental fibroplasia, retinal detachment, congenital defects, vascular conditions and injuries.

Those who feel they cannot afford the fee to have their sight restored may be helped by Eyes Right, Inc., also.

Samples of the case histories of those helped by E. R. Inc., are dramatic though simple. A boy, age 14, with cerebral palsy, was considered as nearly blind. Eyes Right examinations and recommendations of subnormal vision spectacles brought him outside his home through the windows of these glasses for the first time. Also saw television as more than a blur for the first time and is learning to read without braille.

Another child had spent years in a school for the blind and was discouraged from using her eyes, until further examinations at Eyes Right brought her vision-life alive with telescopic spectacles.

Arrangements for this program to be presented to the Lions were made by program chairman Frank Yannucci and his committee through Mrs. Muriel Brayman Dexter, president of Eyes Right, Inc., who will also attend the meeting.

This Week In AMERICAN HISTORY

BY WILLIAM BRODIE

HOBSON'S EXPLOIT

In the darkness before dawn of June 3, 1898 Richmond Pearson Hobson led an action that made his name a symbol of bravery in the Spanish-American War. The war had been on for six weeks at the time and, outside of Commodore Dewey's victory at Manila Bay in the far-off Philippines, there had been little for the American people to cheer about. Dewey's heroism was of the cold official type. But after June 3, 1898 Americans had a war hero they could take to their hearts in the person of young Hobson.

Richmond Pearson Hobson was a 28-year-old naval constructor with the rank of lieutenant in the U.S. Navy. To him was given the task of bottling up Admiral Cervera's Spanish fleet lying in the harbor of Santiago, Cuba. Offshore, outside the harbor, rode Admiral Sampson's blockading U. S. fleet, keeping a watchful eye to prevent the escape of the Spanish fleet. Eventually the strongly fortified city of Santiago would fall to assault by American land forces and the enemy fleet would be taken, also.

Meanwhile, with the hurricane season approaching, there was danger that a storm might scatter the blockading fleet long enough to permit the Spaniards to escape. Admiral Sampson decided to prevent that possibility by running a block-ship aground in the harbor entrance, thereby sealing the enemy fleet in the harbor.

The job of organizing the risky undertaking and preparing the block-ship, which was to be the old collier Merrimac, for the sacrifice, was given over to young Hobson. He picked a crew of seven volunteers, and with them the old collier steamed into the entrance of Santiago harbor before daylight on the morning of June 3. Inside the harbor entrance the ship channel narrowed to a width of about a hundred yards. The plan was to run the collier's bow aground on one side, allow her to swing with the tide and her own momentum until her stern grounded on the other side. The harbor would then be closed to any ship's exit.

The daring attempt was met with a heavy fire from the shore batteries and Spanish troops on the beach. The Merrimac's tiller ropes were shot away and she became unmanageable. Instead of anchoring on the desired spot, the old collier, under enemy fire, drifted far up into the harbor before Hobson could sink her. By then she was in deep water, with ample room for ships to pass. The Spanish fleet was not bottled up.

There were some anxious hours abroad the American fleet waiting for news of survivors. Admiral Sampson feared that Hobson and his crew had perished in their gallant attempt. In the afternoon a flag of truce was seen approaching from the harbor. It was one of Admiral Cervera's staff officers coming to tell the Americans that Hobson and his men had been picked up unhurt in the water. They were found clinging to their life-raft and had been made honorable prisoners of war. The Spanish officer praised the bravery of the crew. "Muy valiente!" he said warmly.

The news of Hobson's exploit was eagerly spread by the newspapers. Despite its failure, the story of his daring attempt to bottle up the Spanish fleet made Hobson a war hero enthusiastically acclaimed throughout the country. And 35 years later Richmond Pearson Hobson received his country's highest token of merit when, in 1933, Congress awarded him the Medal of Honor for his valor in sinking the old collier Merrimac in Santiago harbor. He died, relatively unknown to a new generation, on March 13, 1937.
