20th ANNIVERSARY IN THE PRIESTHOOD

"Pageant of Champions" Drum Corps At Hinchliffe Stadium Tonight

Hinchliffe Stadium, Paterson, tonight at 8 p.m. will be the site of the 1958 "Pageant of Champions", fifth annual junior drum and bugle corps competition, featuring the country's outstanding drum and bugle corps.

The colorful pageantry of youth on parade is being sponsored by the Paterson Cadets Drum and Bugle Corps. Proceeds from the competition will be used towards increasing the facilities of the local Cadets organization which numbers more than 150 area youths.

The pageant will afford patrons an opportunity to witness the capabilities of youth when their energies are expanded in the right direction. More than 450 boys and girls from the ages of 12 to 21 years will participate in the competition. The Paterson Cadets, as host, will not compete, but will give an exhibition featuring their state American Legion and national open color guard championships.

A championship drum and bugle corps contest combines the military precision of West Point, the musical blend of a well directed band and the showmanship of Broadway. Scoring is done by team of field judges taking into consideration inspection, bugling, marching, general effect and timer. Perfection is scored at 100 points. Infractions or violations of any rule penalizes the corps.

Competing for the Paterson Cadets Trophy will be last year's winners, St. Vincent's Cadets of Bayonne; two-time winners, Blessed Sacrament CYO "Golden Knight" of Newark; the "Bon Bon" All-Girl corps of Audubon, N. J.; St. Anne's Cadets of Fair Lawn and Our Lady of Loretta Cadets of Brooklyn.

State Advises Picnickers On Wild Life Care

Don't kidnap baby birds, rabbits, squirrels, raccoon, fox, fawns or other baby wildlife when you're picnicking, vacationing or traveling during the summer months. The State Department of Conservation warns that "Taking these wild animals home in most cases will cause them to die of starvation from lack of proper food. Even when hand-Pruiksma, Prospect Park; Geo. joying the country parks and playgrounds may cause trouble as they will then have a "human" odor on them, which may cause the mothers to desert the baby animal and refuse to feed it. Enjoy them, but don't cause their downfall."

Father Stanley Zawistowski, pastor of St. Paul's R. C. Church, Prospect Park, was the guest of honor at a testimonial dinner held this week on the 20th anniversary of his ordination to the holy priesthood. Our cover picture shows Father Stanley with his mother and father between him, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Zawistowski, and his two sisters, Mrs. A. Zelek on the far left and Mrs. J. Walilko at the extreme right. Father Stanley was ordained June 11, 1938, in the Cathedral of St. John the Baptist, Paterson. (Story on page 10.)

Nixon will act as the President's representative at the inauguration of Dr. Arturo Frondizi as President of Argentina.

NO DUST GATHERING UNDER HIS FEET — Tokyo, Japan — Although most children were happy when their teachers went out on strike in Tokyo's grade schools, this little boy came to school anyway and is shown sitting in an empty classroom studiously engaged in work.

OLDEST NEW ENGLAND FARMERETTE — Gardner, Mass. — Mrs. Victoria Bonislowski, who claims to be New England's oldest woman, observed her 109th Birthday and still puts in an active day on her farm. Here she holds one of the geese on the farm. She still does the household chores. Mrs. Bonislowski, once known as "America's oldest farmerette" was born in Poland in 1849 and has lived in the U.S. since the turn of the century.

Cub Pack To Sponsor Bicycle Inspection

Cub Pack 70 is sponsoring a traffic safety program, the first phase of which will be a bicycle inspection today from 1 to 3 p.m. at Fire Company 2. Cubmaster Alvin Blau and Den Dads, Donald Dougherty, James Halloran, William Heines, Norman Kirby and several den chiefs will be the inspectors. Police are issuing circulars with safety rules for bike riders which include — 1. At nighttime every bike should have a light at the front and a red light at the rear which can be seen for 500 feet. 2. It is unlawful to equip a bike with a siren or whistle or to use them while riding a bicycle. 3. Every bike should be equipped with a brake which will enable rider to make the wheels skid on dry, level, clean pavement. 4. It is unlawful to ride with "no hands" or with feet off the pedals. 5. It is unlawful for a bicycle rider, or anyone on a coaster or roller skates to hook onto any vehicle. 6. It is unlawful to ride two on a bike unless it was designed to carry two people. 7. All bikes must be ridden on the right side of the road, single file, and at no time on the left side or on a sidewalk.

Social Security Freezes Records As Of July 1

Although over 2,000 disabled people in the Paterson area have already applied to have their social security records frozen, many more may lose valuable social security protection if they do not apply before July, 1958.

This warning came from Stanley J. Fiorese, district manager of social security in Paterson. He explained that an application filed before July 1, 1958 by a disabled worker could be effective as of the time his disability actually started if certain work requirements were met at that time. After June 30, 1958, a disabled person cannot freeze his social security record for a period beginning earlier than one year before the date he applies for the freeze. This means that many workers who have been disabled for a long time will not be able to get their record frozen if they do not apply before June 30, 1958.

Any person in the area who is severely disabled and who worked regularly in work covered by social security before becoming disabled should immediately contact the social security district office located at 245 Market St., Paterson, N. J., telephone LAmber 3-5800.

County Municipal Clerks Form An Association

At a luncheon meeting held recently at the Cedar Cliff Hotel in Haledon, a majority of the Municipal Clerks within Passaic County voted unanimously to form a county association. Such an organization would promote a better understanding of the official duties and obligations of the "Municipal Clerk"; set up, in so far as possible, uniform methods of procedure in the municipalities of Passaic County; promote the cause of good government in municipalities, county, and state; cooperate with county and state officials in carrying out the provisions of the law; to more fully acquaint the public of the true nature and importance of the services performed by the Municipal Clerk; perform such other work as may best conserve the interests of the public and develop a better spirit of co-operation among the county's municipal clerks.

The formation of this association comes during Haledon's 50th anniversary celebration and the first meeting of the newly formed organization was appropriately held in Haledon with Dan Ramella, Borough Clerk of Haledon, assuming the the "host's" role.

Spearheading the formation of this association were Clerks Dan Ramella, Joseph Constantine and George Grillo.

At the organization meeting, Dan Ramella was selected as the chairman, with the following appointed as trustees: Dan Ramella, Haledon; Frank Sciro, Paterson; Edith Marrion, Clifton; George Grillo, Hawthorne; John ling wild baby animals while en-Eckhardt, West Milford; and Al Reda, West Paterson.

The next meeting of the association will be held on Saturday noon, September 6, at the Cedar Cliff Hotel in Haledon, at which time all clerks within the county are cordially invited and guest speakers will be City Clerks Harry Reichenstein of Newark, and Mrs. Florence Eutan of Nutley.

Joe Garbaccio Elected Haledon Library Trustee

At the annual meeting of the Haledon Library Association, Joe Garbaccio was elected trustee for a five year term, and re-elected treasurer for the association. Every worthwhile thing in the borough has Joe's help and encouragement behind it. He's such a nice guy, too! There's a rumor that he's got something cooking for June 18. Watch to see!

HALEDON

Despite the chilly breezes, about 150 teenagers and adults swarmed over the Masonic grounds on Roe Street, last Friday night to kick off the Fiftieth Anniversary celebration.

Everybody agreed Pete Van Der Jagt looked so "natural" in his "Keystone Kop" outfit.

C. Horace Frignoca with false nose and beard managed to collect extra fines for the P.A.L. building fund by acting as judge for his friends who were "jailed". All they had to do to get out was pay a 25 cent fine, but after Horace "pled" their case for them, they had to pay a dollar. He's the kind of a pal the P.A.L. wants, even though it's tough on his pals.

Mae Steenstra who has more than her share of pep and enthusiasm was the first one into the "hoosegow" for impersonating a teenager. Even with her hair ribbon, sack dress and bobby sox, the Kops saw through the disguise and locked her up. (Maybe they caught on because her daughter and grand son were watching the whole thing from the outside looking in.)

Ex-Mayor Charles Cona just got out of the cooler as Mayor Brown went in! Both assured me, in their statements to the press, that they'd been framed!

Mrs. Ruth Barnish who visited the dance with her daughters Ruth Ann and Barbara while Tony was in Atlantic City for the Lions convention, was locked up with me. (Such injustice, we were just standing there minding our own business, officer.) We wanted to send out for beer and a deck of cards but business was so brisk, we weren't allowed to spend that much time there. (I'm seeing my lawyer about this; a guy can't even stay in jail once he's put there.)

Many more were incarcerated in the clink, such as Ed Jones, Louis Bell, Joe Albanese, Mr. and Mrs. Lupton, Tony De Fabio, Fanny Huntley, Hal Stenchever, Louis Piccinnino, Chris Adams, Nick Kruck, Rev. Harris E. Baldwin, Rika Sees, Ann Ramella, and many more, for a lot of fun.

Nancy Camphouse won the prize for the prettiest bonnet, without too much competition. The teenage boys either couldn't or wouldn't raise a mustache but chairman Nicholas Kruck couldn't let the boys go home without a prize, so he asked for a volunteer to sing. Bill Schumacher did and won!

Paul Hueck really livened up the evening with his singing and guitar playing. Had a lot of the gals swooning. The other musicians with Paul were Jack Sliker, Greg Monte and Papio Beltrami.

Saturday afternoon, warm, clear and sunny weather made the shade under the trees on the grounds of St. Mary's Parish Hall a beautiful setting for the band concert. Inside the antique show, the paintings by Otto Benz, the product displays and the flower show came in for a lot of attention.

Winners in the flower show were Class 1, Kindergarten, flower arrangement in toy, first, Gail Behrens; second Debbie Matchett; third Nancy Geng. Class 2 — Grades 3, 4, 5, flower arrangement in basket — first, Lawrence Sella; second Betty Ann Teuwen; third Betty Ann Teuwen. Class 3 — grades 6, 7, 8 — flower arrangement for holiday — first, Joe Van Putten; second Gloria Westfall; third Elizabeth Thoma. Class 4 — adults — flower arrangement for a holiday — first, Blanche Sella; second, Margaret Ulrich; third Charlotte Westfall. Class 5 — open to all, house plants — first, Elinor Teuwen; second, Jean Westfall; third, Margaret Matchett. Class 6 — open to all, african violets — first, Betty Boniface; second Marie Fila, and two thirds, Margaret Ulrich, and Doris Thomson.

Judges for the flower show were Mrs. F. W. Lonard, Mr. Robert Peisser and Mr. Ferene Quazza.

Miss Barbara Alyce Coral, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Americus Coral, 315 Belmont Avenue, became the bride of Paul Joseph Rivers, son of Mr. Rivers, 29 Belmont Avenue, Paterson, June 1, at St. Mary's Episcopal church.

Richard Hamilton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hamilton, 90 North 6th Street, graduated from Purdue University recently. A graduate of Central High School, he received his degree from Purdue in mechanical engineering. His wife is the former Miss Marilyn Grundy of Haledon.

Send "get well wishes" to George MacBurney's father, Mr. E. J. MacBurney, Room 412, General Hospital, Paterson. Mr. "Mac" suffered a series of heart attacks Sunday.

The board of health will give the second Salk polio vaccine inoculations to persons up to 19 years of age, and expectant mothers, at the Kossuth Street school today from 9 to 10 a.m. Health Officer Dr. William E. Betts will give the inoculations. Consent forms must be signed by the parents, and may be obtained from the school nurse, Miss Viola Schrier, R.N., or from the borough health nurse, Mrs. Jean Hofstra, of Prospect Park.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bosma of 29 Richardson Avenue, observed their 45th wedding anniversary Wednesday, and marked the occasion with a family dinner on Thursday at the Robin Hood Inn. They have three children, Andrew, married to Marie Bandstra, residing in Wyckoff; Albert, married to Mildred Hagedorn, Midland Park; and Bertha, married to Albert D. Wilkes, Prospect Park.

Come to the Cocktail Hour at 6 p.m. tonight at Camp Veritans and see the Aquacons in a beautiful water show in the pool. Come early, have a drink, meet your friends, and see the beautiful girls in the pool.

PROSPECT PARK

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph T. Doohue celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary at the Friar Tuck Inn recently. They were married June 2, 1918 at St. Paul's R. C. Church, Clifton. They have four sons, Thomas, Joseph, Jack and William, and a daughter, Mrs. Terry Barnickle, and five grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Van Dyke celebrated their 45th wedding anniversary Wednesday. They were married June 11, 1913 by Rev. Herman Tols. They have three children, Mrs. George (Florence) Sheridan of West Paterson; Mrs. Obe (Alberdina) Bylsma of Clearfield, Utah; and James of Hawthorne, and seven grandchildren.

Miss Ann Reindl was the surprise guest at a shower given in her honor at the home of Mrs. Joseph Maas. Miss Reindl will become the bride of Robert Battem of North Haledon. She opened her gifts under a green and yellow sprinkling can.

Herbert C. Knutsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Knutson, received a Bachelor of Music degree in music education at the 194th annual commencement exercises at Syracuse University. A graduate of Hawthorne High, Knutson will pursue graduate work this fall at the University of Arizona.

The "Baby Keep Well Station" will be held the fourth Wednesday of the month for June and July only. This is a change from the usual second Wednesday according to Miss Ann Minnema, R.N., borough public health nurse. Dr. H. Cole will be in attendance June 25 from 10 a.m. to 12 noon, in the nurse's room of the Prospect Park school.

NORTH HALEDON

Mrs. Ruth Comer was named this week by the Board of Education to the post of assistant secretary for July and regular secretary starting August 1. She succeeds Emil De Snoo who recently resigned, as of July 31. Her salary will be $1,900 . year.

SUBURBAN

HALEDON — This past week the Haledon adjustment board granted the variance sought by Charles Cona, to use his property adjoining the old Food Fair site (on Haledon Avenue) as a customers parking lot when the Volkswagen dealership is established there. But the nearby residents may not let the matter drop.

NORTH HALEDON — Patrolman John Peene was elected prexy of PBA chapter 114. James Miller (Haledon) was named vice president with Albert Stewart (Hawthorne) treasurer, and Howard Maitland (Hawthorne) secretary. The chapter covers North Haledon, Haledon, Prospect Park and Hawthorne.

PROSPECT PARK — Jimmy Mullanaphy watched a baseball game played by borough police and fire departments Thursday night at Hofstra Park, which was held in his honor. Jimmy must undergo serious heart surgery which was postponed until he had his tonsils out. Everyone wished him well for his operation now scheduled for early fall. All proceeds were donated to the Jimmy Mullanaphy Fund.

HALEDON — Is Ernest G. (Hap) Ford really out in the cold in Republican quarters? No announcement has been made yet, but talk is that Russ Plowman has replaced "Hap" as president of the Republican League.

HALEDON — Mayor David Brown is purchasing a new home on Pompton Road, adjacent to the Paterson State College.

PASSAIC — Alphonse J. Pezzuti, Assistant Chief Probation Officer of Passaic County, joined in the panel discussion at the annual convention of New Jersey State Association of Chosen Freeholders in Atlantic City Friday.

HALEDON — Hooray! There's been some improvement started on Grove Street. The "Tub of Blood" or "Bucket of Blood" whichever it toriginally was called, has been knocked down and eventually will disappear in favor of a new home, built by Mr. and Mrs. Aulino.

PIGGY-BACK "WIND TUNNEL" — Downsview, Ont. Can. — Tests of new aircraft models, usually carried out in a wind tunnel, are now performed on a flying test bed by the De Havilland Aircraft Corp. An Otter Plane is used as the flying test bed here with the model riding piggy-back high above.

North Haledon Church Plans For Fund Raising Campaign In Fall

The congregation of the First Presbyterian Church of North Haledon laid plans for an intensive two-week fund-raising campaign early this fall in connection with expansion of its church and Christian education facilities.

Members unanimously sanctioned a plan to submit leadership for the fund drive to a team of professional workers sponsored by the Board of National Missions, Bureau of Church Building Aid, United Presbyterian Church, USA.

Board of Trustees President William Tanis presented the joint recommendations of Trustees and Session that a professionally-led drive be undertaken. Aid will be enlisted from the church membership, as well as interested friends in North Haledon and adjoining communities.

Tentative Goal

A new sanctuary and classroom space, with the present building in Squaw Brood Road to be incorporated into additional church school space, is the tentative goal. Tanis explained, based upon recommendations of the special Expansion Committee. This group activated more than a year ago, has made numerous surveys of various needs of the congregation and will continue to work towards meeting the ultimate goal of a new building.

Its members are Abram Roughgarden, Mrs. Herbert Elkland, Mrs. Minnie Hegi, A. E. Aronson, Alfred F. Bast, S. G. Keiller, Ellsworth T. Lord, James A. Lyttle, Herman Scherer, William Tanis, Michael Tedeschi, John Van Putten and Fred M. Brown, ex-officio.

Architect Peter H. Holley, of Ridgewood, was previously engaged by the church officers, who expect to present a final plan to the congregation within a few months.

The meeting was moderated by Dr. C. Ransom Comfort, pastor.

Thoughts About The Flag On Flag Day

Many legends have sprung up through the years concerning our flag, some of which have been retold so often that they assume the patina of truth. Here are some of them, with explanations, that you may or may not wish to believe.

Who designed the Flag? You say Betsy Ross? Here's what the World Almanac says: No one knows for a certainty. Francis Hopkinson, a signer of the Declaration of Independence and designer of seals for the State Department, the Treasury Board and of a naval flag, declared he also had designed the Flag, and in 1781 he asked Congress to reimburse him for his services. Congress did not do so.

Who called the Flag, Old Glory? The flag is said to have been named Old Glory by William Driver, master of the brig Charles Daggett, who raised the flag on his ship August 10, 1831, saying, "I name thee Old Glory!" He also said, "My ship, my country and my flag, 'Old Glory.'"

The Betsy Ross legend that she made the first Stars and Stripes in June, 1776, at the request of a committee composed of George Washington, Benjamin Franklin and George Ross, an uncle, was first made public in 1870 by a grandson of Mrs. Ross. Historians have been unable to find a record of such a meeting or committee. Dr. Milo Milton Qualfe writes: "No record has ever been found of the creation by Mrs. Ross of the first Stars and Stripes." The New Century Cyclopedia of Names (1954) says: "There is documentary evidence that she was paid in May, 1777 for 'making ships colours, etc,' but no direct documentary evidence has been found to link her with the flag adopted by the Continental Congress on June 14, 1777, as the national emblem, and most historians now doubt if she made it." Yet lacking this evidence the U. S. Post Office Department issued a Betsy Ross commemorative stamp in 1952.

The idea that the flag was suggested by Washington's coat of arms was publicized by Martin F. Tupper an English writer, in a play in the 1870's. It rests on a coincidence and has no connection with the flag.

Circulation has been given to this speech attributed to General Washington: "We take the stars from heaven, the red from our mother country, separating it by white stripes, thus showing that we have separated from her, and the white stripes shall go down to posterity representing liberty." There is no documentary proof however, that Washington ever said this.

Regardless of legends and beliefs, we should always hold the Stars and Stripes in highest esteem, especially now when all over the world it seems to be a target for tyrants to try to destroy.

Many types and versions of "American" flags were used originally, with modifications as changes in the geography and history of our land were made. The flag we now hold dear, may be changed again in the near future with the addition of Alaska into Statehood and perhaps Hawaii, too.

Be proud to be an American — display your Flag!

Man With A Halo

The Editor Speaks

VINCENT S. PARRILLO

The past week has seen two more movie marriages hit the dust. Deborah Kerr and Rhonda Fleming are divorcing their husbands of some years standing. These gals have great beauty, wealth, fame, children and they must have some intelligence to have gotten this far. Teenage girls look up to these women for their fashions, hair styles, and try to emulate them to make careers for themselves as actresses.

Now we're not going to criticize their private lives although we might wish they'd keep them a little more private.

What we'd like to discuss is the fact that a lot of very nice, sweet, good, hard-working ladies stay married to nice, sweet, good, hard-working gentlemen. (But that's not news so it never makes the headlines.) Perhaps these good ladies feel they're not as glamorous as the famous gals on the silver screen. Perhaps they feel they're not worthy of praise for just doing their best job of running a home and raising a family.

Be we feel they're accomplishing a great deal and are undoubtedly not only worthy of praise but fame also.

Don't you agree it takes a good deal of charm and intelligence to run a home and keep one and the same man happy for the rest of his life, after marriage?

Husbands and wives are individuals who must concede some of their own wants and wishes for the best of their partners and the family. They must share hardships and good times equally.

If disagreements arise, as they naturally will, isn't it harder to face them, work them out, and then reconcile the differences and renew the family spirit? Wouldn't it be easier to walk out, find a new mate, and drag the children through the courts until decisions are made for you?

Suppose every time a husband and wife had a serious argument they divorced and remarried the way some Hollywood couples do! The children of this country would have several homes (none permanent), several sets of parents, oodles of grandparents, aunts, uncles, cousins and half sisters and brothers; and the most confused set of values imaginable!

We'll grant that people in the entertainment world lead unusual lives, are temperamental, have artistic, uninhibited natures. But does that make them impossible to live with necessarily?

The ordinary Mrs. who changes through the years to keep pace with her husband happy and satisfied despite success or failure is much more of a woman to our eyes, than all the sexy beauties who display their charms and shout, "See I'm a woman!"

This may be small consolation ladies, but at least you've seen it here, in print! You one-man wives are the most prized possession a husband can have and you're the most glamorous girls in the world!

"Inter-Com" Honor Student

Ending First Year of High School

By Fran Molendyke

A robust, happy boy of 14, seated at the table in his bedroom showed me the "inter-com station" placed on it. "This is connected to my classroom at Hawthorne High," he said. "I can hear them and when I'm asked a question, I just press this button and I can answer . . . provided I know it of course. I've been told this is the only such hook-up in Passaic County, and I'm sure lucky to have it."

The boy is "Jay" (short for Jacob) Struck, 47 Planten Avenue, Prospect Park. He is just finishing his first year of high school, as an honor student. "I was an honor student when I graduated last year from eighth grade too. But boy, you could have knocked me flat when I found that out. I thought they'd made a mistake because I'd missed so much of school."

Jay had missed school because he had Perthe's disease. This involves softening of the bones of the hip, which then become deformed and brittle. He's had three operations and his right hip has a new socket made of grafted bone, covered with a thin film of plastic. Doctors may decide to do the same thing on the left hip or wait until he's full grown, when a complete reconstruction job should be performed. "That will be like the one Arthur Godfrey had," Jay explained. (In fact he explained all about his medical history.)

His parents, Jacob and Sara told me, "Jay knows all about his trouble. His doctors feel he's intelligent enough to know what's going on. They've explained he'll probably be a cripple for life and that he should plan his life that way. I guess he started out asking so many questions, they figured it would be easier to explain everything to him from the beginning."

Jay is taking a regular course of instruction with his "inter com" system, supplemented by tutoring. Mrs. Schlamp teaches geo-politics; Miss Muche, German; Mr. Martin, Algebra; Miss Bolger, English (classroom), with Mr. Kurpick tutoring English; and Mr. De Flore tutors Jay in Mechanical Drawing.

Jay's father interrupted my note taking by saying, "Please stress how grateful we are to the boards of education of Prospect Park and Hawthorne. Through the kindness and graciousness of these boards, this system was allowed to be used. Neither board was under any obligation to do this. They just wanted Jay to get all the education he could. Prospect Park board of education paid for the installation of the system and maintains it. We will be thankful all our lives for the opportunity they've given our boy."

Visiting with Jay you realize this was money well spent. He's so bright and cheerful and typically "all boy". He showed me a picture taken in school which he said his mother didn't like. "It's because I didn't have on a white shirt and tie. I fooled her and didn't let on when the pictures should be taken or else I'd have had to take more baths and get all dressed up."

Jay has been doctoring since he was six years old. On his seventh birthday he went to bed to stay for fifteen months, after which he spent three months in a wheel chair. Then came the years of rehabilitation, operations and more work.

He can walk with crutches or by holding on to things as he goes from room to room. "My main method of transportation is my bike (outside of the car, of course). I'm getting to be a whiz with that bike."

Jay is interested in becoming a ham radio operator. He can "send" 5 words a minute but he doesn't want to apply for his license until he's better at it. When I asked if his transmitters were all assembled (a job he does himself except for soldering wires) he replied, "It's assembled mechanically, but not electronically; not until I'm ready for my 'ham' license." Three men who have helped and encouraged this hobby are Mr. McKensie, connected with North Haledon civil defense; Mr. Greendyke and Mr. Seitzman.

Musically, he's a modern lad. He likes to listen to Rock 'n' Roll, but he only listens on his earphones on his short wave set, so he doesn't disturb the family. He played the trumpet in the band for graduation too. "I did everything but march," says Jay.

He likes building intricate models of ships and planes and likes to read, "mostly technical books or good adventure, which I stay up late to finish." He subscribes to Popular Electronics Magazine.

When asked if he were a good eater, he smiled, "isn't that obvious. But I like cooked meals. I'm not one for sandwiches. But I like everything else . . . too much!"

His father is employed at the Heerma Company on Haledon Avenue, and is an elected member of and secretary to the Regional Board of Education.

Jay invited me back to listen in on a school session some morning soon. "I wish you could meet all the kids in my classes. Especially my English class. They all write me letters and cards; they come two at a time to visit me too. Twice I went to school to visit them and they treated me to lunch. There I go on food again." He went on to say, "I'm going to school soon to take my exams, and I can hardly wait to get there." Probably he's one of the few kids who look forward to exams.

You can see he feels himself part of the group of his classmates. His marks are high, his enthusiasm is endless.

His sister, Lois Ann, is a student nurse at General Hospital. She is an attractive girl who has earned a Nurses' Alumni scholarship and another one from the Hawthorne Rotary Club, since her graduation from Hawthorne High in 1957.

His family can certainly be proud of Jay, because he's realistic as well as gay in his attitude toward life. He's taking good advantage of this opportunity afforded him and both school boards can rest assured they have done a wise and wonderful thing in establishing for this boy, this modern method of education.

St. Paul's R. C. Parish Celebrates Ordination Anniversary of Pastor

The Rev. Stanley J. Zawistowski, pastor of St. Paul's R. C. Church, of Prospect Park, was guest of honor at a testimonial dinner Wednesday evening at the Casino De Charlz, Totowa Borough. The dinner marked the twentieth anniversary celebration of Father Stanley who was ordained in the Cathedral of St. John the Baptist in Paterson. He served as assistant curate of the Holy Rosary R. C. Church in Passaic from December 1938 to July 1952, when he was appointed by Bishop James A. McNulty as pastor of St. Paul's R. C. Church.

Shortly after arriving at St. Paul's the priest undertook the task of building a modern school with eight classrooms and an auditorium with a seating capacity of 700. Under his personal and spiritual direction the parish has grown. When the church was first established, two Masses were celebrated each Sunday. Presently five Masses are said every Sunday for the convenience of the parishioners.

Invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Zawistowski, Father Stanley's parents; the Rt. Rev. Monsignor Andrew Stefan, vice chancellor of the Diocese of Paterson; the Rt. Rev. Monsignor Francis Kowalski, pastor of the Holy Rosary R. C. Church of Passaic; the Rt. Rev. Monsignor James Wrzeciono, who guided him through his early education; the Rev. Bernard Weinholz, assistant at St. Paul's; the Rev.

Lawrence Callaghan, companion and classmate of the guest of honor. Mrs. J. Wililko and Mrs. A. Zelek, Father Stanley's sisters.

The dinner committee was Vincent S. Parrillo, Ralph Cava, Louis Pisacane, Emil Bertsch, Andrew Hofer, John Creegan, William A. De Mayo, Mrs. Helen Cooke, Mrs. Mae Hanlon, Mrs. Betty Parrillo, Mrs. Sally Gould, Ernest Appel, Charles Cona, Chris Adams and Edward G. Weiss, District Court Judge.

FROM TEXAS — Sue Ane Langdon, a billboard girl who heralds future guests on "Steve Allen Show" Sunday colorcasts on NBC, is one of the Lone Star State's attractive contributions to TV.

Reporter Reporting On Reporter's Reporting

HALEDON — A certain busy housewife stopped in at Tax Collector Joe Garbaccio's office Tuesday morning to pay for her Fiftieth Anniversary dinner tickets. She stopped for just a moment to see if Mr. G. had any news for her, (as she is notoriously nose). When she turned to go, her three year old son had wandered off and a search was on! Bart Gallo in the police car went up and down the town, while the gal herself paraded to every place the dear little boy might have known someone. He finally was cornered about four blocks away, down Morrissee Avenue. A kind lady called to tell of a stray boy crying in her yard, and Anne Smallheer, who happened along picked him up and brought him to the borough office. The busy (or dizzy) housewife gathered the sodden fellow up and went to pick up her other son at school and the rest of the day was just as awful, let me tell you, I know! (Signed) Fran Molendyke.

BY WILLIAM BRODIE

SALEM "WITCH" HANGED

A strange and terrible delusion known as the "witchcraft craze" broke out in the village of Salem, Massachusetts, in the spring of 1692. It claimed its first victim on the summer's day of June 10, 1692. On that day the first "witch," a middle-aged woman by name of Bridget Bishop was hanged.

She had been condemned by the special court set up to try the witches of Salem. Mrs. Bishop was a tavern-keeper. Part of the charges against her was that of corrupting young people. But it was as a witch in league with the devil that she was condemned to die. The High Sheriff hanged her from the branches of a big oak tree at the top of Gallows Hill, a rocky height near Salem, also called Witch Hill.

Bridget Bishop was the first victim to die there. Nineteen others were to follow her, thirteen women and six men, before the witchcraft madness left the people of Salem. Nineteen were hanged, and one 80-year-old man was pressed to death with heavy stones.

The fear of witches was a superstition brought over to the American colonies from Europe where it had existed for hundreds of years. But in America the persecution of witches grew into a terrible delusion only in Massachusetts. In the winter of 1692 a group of Salem girls had been amusing themselves by listening to the lurid stories of an old Negro slave of the Rev. Samuel Parris, Salem minister. By spring-time the girls began showing signs of hysteria and acting queerly. They fell down in fits. They barked like dogs, chirped like birds, and carried on in other strange ways. The affected children began to accuse persons of bewitching them.

Rev. Parris called in other ministers to consult with them. The devil seemed to be at work in Salem through his witches. The local doctor could find nothing physically wrong with the "affected children." Cotton Mather, the fiery Puritan minister, preached a violent sermon calling for punishment of all those "guilty of witchcraft and in league with the devil." With arms out-flung, he cried in the pulpit, "Witchcraft is treason against the Majesty on high! A witch is not to be endured in heaven or on earth!"

A special court was set up to try the persons accused of being witches by children or hysterical women. The madness gripped the entire community. Only a few of the stronger characters and enlightened minds protested, at their own peril. Persons who tried to defend the accused were themselves charged with being witches. Torture was used to compel the accused to confess. No one knew who would be accused next and condemned on charges by the "afflicted children."

Resistance to the madness came later. The absurdity of the charges became evident with the important persons who, in time, came to be accused. Gradually the terror subsided and by October the people came to their senses. A revulsion set in against the cruelties which had been inflicted on innocent persons. The witchcraft craze passed from Salem.

It had been a terrifying delusion while it lasted. Its first victim had been Bridget Bishop, and 19 others were put to death after her, while 55 were tortured and hundreds imprisoned. Nothing like it occurred in America before or after. The errors and the blame of those who had participated in the Salem madness were shamefully admitted later.

Judge Samuel Sewall, one of the Salem judges who had tried the witches in special court, was to stand up with head bowed in Old South Church, Boston, while the pastor read the judge's confession of "blame and shame." And the 12 jurymen of the special court were also to sign a statement admitting their error and asking for forgiveness. Madness ended in repentance.
