IN PREMIERE MYSTERY — Louise Viaur (played by Beverly Garland, left) claims to be as innocent as her cat in the killing of the husband of Bunny Quillet (Jan Sterling, right). The body is found in Louise's apartment during "In Close Pursuit," premiere teleplay of NBC-TV's "Mystery Theatre" series Wednesday, June 13. The full-hour suspense stories replace the vacationing "Perry Como's Music Hall" series.

The "Breck Golden Showcase" presentation of "Noah and the Flood" over CBS-TV, June 14 (9:00 to 10:00 p.m. EDT) will be the premiere of the first work ever written by Igor Stravinsky for the television medium, with choreography by George Balanchine. The production has been designed by Rouben Ter-Arutunian, who created the special masks worn above by Noah and several of his sons and daughters-in-law.

The Chenko-executed masks are made of special papier maché. The "eyes" are cut out and covered with gauze to allow the dancers to see. A cap is put in to fit the wearer. Then the wigs, made of tissue with plastic glue, are put on and the entire mask is painted over, with eyebrows, cheeks and lips applied.

These provide a stunning and unique effect for "Noah and the Flood," a fluid intermixture of music, dance, mime, narrative, song and legend in a contemporary retelling of one of mankind's oldest stories.

The Man from Equitable asks-

Will you leave your family a home
—or a mortgage?

THE ODDS that you will die before you pay off your mortgage are 16 times greater than the chance your house will catch fire. Yet, most prudent families wouldn't think of being without fire insurance. Why be without mortgage insurance?

Equitable's remarkable mortgage repayment insurance plan protects your family against forced sale... loss of savings... or loss of home. Costs are low for this basic protection. For full information call...

TOPS OF COURSE — Three of the many top golfers who may still be in contention when NBC-TV covers the final holes of the 62nd annual National Open Golf Championship Saturday, June 16 at Oakmont (Pa.) Country Club are shown in this sketch. Chief contender for golfdom's most coveted title, won last year by Gene Littler, is Arnold Palmer, who captured the 1960 National Open and currently leads the money-winners on the 1962 professional golf circuit. Former Masters Champion Gary Player heads the list of foreign threats in the Open. This will be the ninth consecutive year that NBC-TV is covering the golf classic.

SCIENCE FACT AND FABLE

UNTIL RECENT TIMES, SCIENTISTS HAVE HAD A DIFFICULT TIME TRYING TO STOP POLIO. ACCORDING TO AN ANCIENT STONE TABLET FOUND IN GREECE, PARALYZED PATIENTS WERE ONCE GIVEN SLEEP THERAPY. IN DREAMS A GREEK GOD WOULD APPEAR AND HEAL THE PATIENTS.

MONKEYS, NOT GREEK GODS, ARE NEEDED FOR MODERN POLIO VACCINES. IN 1949, DR. JOHN ENDERS OF HARVARD DEVELOPED A METHOD OF GROWING POLIO VIRUSES IN TISSUE CULTURE OF MONKEY CELLS. THIS SET THE STAGE FOR THE SALK AND SABIN POLIO VACCINES.

THE NEW SABIN ORAL POLIO VACCINE IS ADMINISTERED WITH DISTILLED WATER FROM A DROPPER, SPOON, OR PAPER CUP TO INFANTS AND SMALL CHILDREN. ADULTS DRINK IT OUT OF A CUP. THE VACCINES CAN GIVE IMMUNITY IN ABOUT ONE WEEK, VITALLY IMPORTANT WHEN EPIDEMICS OCCUR.

SNEEZING, SO COMMON TO MANY COLD SUFFERERS, IS TIED INTIMATELY TO THE FOLKLORE OF MANY NATIONS. MANY PEOPLE BELIEVED THAT SNEEZING EXPELLED EVIL SPIRITS WHO HAD SNEAKED INSIDE THE BODY.

IN ANCIENT CHINA, WHEN FRIENDS WERE ABOUT TO SNEEZE, PEOPLE CLASPED THEIR HANDS TOGETHER AND BOWED UNTIL THE SNEEZING SPREE ENDED. THEY TOO, FELT THAT SNEEZING WAS DUE TO DEMONS.

TODAY, THE SNEEZE AND THE SNIFFLE ARE REGARDED AS PART AND PARCEL OF THE DISCOMFORTS THAT ACCOMPANY SUMMERTIME COLDS. ONE SUGGESTION: CORYBAN, WHICH CONTAINS AN ANTIHISTAMINE, IS OFTEN EFFECTIVE IN RELIEVING THE "ALLERGY" OR HAY FEVER-LIKE SYMPTOMS OF A COLD.

Look Your Best

The gleam of stainless steel has it — and it shows up everywhere. Gems and precious metals have it in a different way. All minks have it for all women, and some women have it for all men. But almost every woman can endow herself and her home with that elusive sparkle we call glamour.

It's not just good looks, though that's certainly a large part of the glimmer of glamour. Nor is it merely the connotation of wealth and luxury; stainless steel, though it has the trim modern sleekness customarily found in moneyed homes, is actually one of the most economical materials used for flatware and tableware. And who hasn't known women who managed to look out-of-this-world on a very down-to-earth clothing budget?

"Magic; a spell of charm" is the sober dictionary's definition of glamour. Scholars trace the word back to the old Scotch glamer and the still older English gramarye — both meaning magic. In those good old days a girl could buy her glamer from the local witch in the form of powdered mandrake root mixed with various other herbs (you just added water) to form instant love potion.

A more helpful definition is offered by Gloria Wright, a girl eminently qualified to recognize glamour when she sees it. Moving around the country demonstrating housewares to TV audiences, department store customers and women's groups, she meets literally hundreds of women every week. Says Miss Wright: "Glamour in a woman is flair — and flair can be cultivated. The glamorous woman has learned how to present herself. She's also learned to display her home to best advantage — the right setting is important for any gem. Because this knowledge has given her self-confidence, she projects that easy, effortless quality essential to true glamour."

Giving the impression of effortless ease may take some doing, however. Here are Miss Wright's suggestions for giving both the homemaker and her home an aura of glamour.

Fashions In Living

A woman's glamour begins with her home. Sound odd? It isn't, really. That's where she spends most of her time, and the way her time is spent — whether her household tasks are done haphazardly or with scheduled efficiency, whether or not she succeeds in creating a decor that's eye-pleasing and comfortable for both family and guests — is bound to affect the way she looks and acts. But with just a little intelligent effort, any woman can sparkle in the perfect setting.

Space — make more of it! Skillful placement of chairs can often make one lamp and end table do the work of two. Never kitty-corner chairs or sofas — it's wasteful of floor space. You can buy bookcases that are hung from a wall, consuming no floor space at all.

Styling — make the most of lines and textures. Polish wooden surfaces to a high sheen; set them off with the gleam of stainless steel ashtrays, candy dishes, fruit bowls. With more floor space, you can really show off the lines, period or modern, of your favorite piece of furniture.

Comfort — at least one man-sized chair and ashtray are musts for the single girl who'd like to make eligible callers feel at home. If married, be sure there's at least one corner of the house where hubby can strew ashes and newspapers to his heart's content. The glamorous woman flatters a man's masculinity as much in the way she arranges her home as in the way she does her hair.

Lighting — you should be able to control it, key it to your family's various moods and activities. You can buy a dimming switch that will adjust room lighting to any level desired, from soft-lights-and-music to the brightest "task light."

Acoustics — you and your home should both possess quiet charm. Deep-piled rugs with rubber pads underneath, window drapes and paintings along a stretch of wall not only add touches of gracious luxury, but help soak up sound as well. If they don't muffle noise adequately, inexpensive acoustical coiling tiles in a variety of handsome designs will absorb up to 85 per cent of the sound that strikes them.

Labor-savers — collect them. Keep a file of household hints clipped from newspapers and magazines — and put them to work. Saving the instruction tags that come with clothing and household appliances can save you guess-work and harassment as well as dollars and cents. When buying kitchen appliances, look for those that offer the maximum of durability and the minimum of upkeep. Glamorous stainless, for instance, is rust- and dent-resistant, requiring only soap-and-water dousing to keep its gleam of newness indefinitely.

Entertaining — keep it simple. Three or four kinds of canapes and one good cheese dip at a buffet are ample; one showy dish (it can be either main course or dessert) set off by plain, old-reliable fare, is enough of a triumph for any dinner hostess. Use casserole dishes suitable for both cooking and serving; a gleaming stainless steel serving tray will impress your guests — and save you many hectic trips to and from the kitchen. At least two weeks before a party, draw up a day-by-day list of advance preparations you can make.

Grooming

If you'd be glamorous, your grooming should create one dominant effect: sleekness. Make-up and hairdo; softly flattering, dramatic but not theatrical for The Big Evening and always flawlessly neat. Clothing: simple in line and perfect in fit. Jewelry: bold or delicate as your preference dictates, but sparse.

Experiment till you find your look — and don't be scared by fashion dogma. The latest thing is for Hollywood stars to accent the roundness or squareness of their faces with make-up instead of trying to copy the perfect oval formerly thought to be the ideal of beauty. One look that's striking on all women: matching your blouse, sweater or neckerchief as closely as possible to your hair color.

Boost morale and be prepared for unexpected guests by wearing pretty, crisp housedresses and fresh lipstick even when you do the grubbiest chores. Take frequent "coiffure breaks" from housework to comb hair and freshen lipstick.

Don't wear pincurls at night when he's home; put your hair up while doing your daily chores and hide the pins with a gay bandanna.

Dress the way he likes you to. Glamour, like the beauty that may or not be a part of it, is largely in the eye of the beholder.
