WHILE THE POLITICAL barometer has very little to show this week in the form of any announced developments, you can paste the information in your favorite hat that both major tickets will definitely be completed before another week goes by.

AS A MATTER OF FACT, reports have it that the Republican ticket is already in order and that the delay in announcement is merely a stratagem intended to provide time in which to soothe disappointed candidates and to line up the rank and file . . . evidence that the G. O. P. slate is "in" lies in the "semi-official" announcement that Louis C. Gollmer will make the Republican bid for the office of sheriff . . . and, of course, Lloyd B. Marsh will be a candidate to succeed himself as County Clerk.

THE DEMOCRATIC TICKET, too, is virtually complete . . . one assembly spot still remains open and the word is around that two of the posts will be filled from the ranks of the Messrs. Birmingham, McGuire and Camlet . . . Birmingham is from Clifton, McGuire is a promising young Passaic attorney, and Camlet has the backing of Polish organizations throughout the county.

FORMER MAYOR JOHN V. Hinchliffe is scheduled to return to town on Saturday, after a brief vacation . . . and contrary to reports published in the daily press that it was a 50-50 possibility that he would accept the Democratic nomination for sheriff, as matters stand today, it is virtually certain that he will be that party's shrievalty candidate . . . certain groups which are unfriendly to the present administration have sought to influence Hinchliffe against accepting the nomination, but evidence that he has not acceded to their request lies in the fact that the many betting men, who were eager a week ago to lay it on the line that he would decline, are not flashing their bank-rolls at present.

THOSE "IN THE KNOW" are of the opinion that Hinchliffe has already accepted the nomination and that announcement of his decision to run has been withheld from the general public merely because of considerations present in the form of the anti-administration group.

Sceery-Grobart Feud Revived At Meeting

Parks Board Member Lashes Out At Finance Board President Over WPA Appropriation

A smoldering feud between two prominent members of the city's official family broke out into the open at a meeting of the Park Commission yesterday afternoon when Edward Sceery, a member of that body, lashed out bitterly against Samuel Grobart, president of the Board of Finance, because of the delay in the sanction of an additional appropriation to insure continuance of the WPA road improvement project in Westside Park.

Sceery's remarks directed at Grobart, came prior to an announcement by Jack Slater, president of the Parks Commission, that the additional appropriation would be made available in a short time.

Blasts Finance Official

"The chairman of the commission," said Sceery, referring to the Finance Board president,

New Industry Locates Here

The Industrial Commission this week announced that a new industry, the third in a week's time, will locate in this city, opening up 60 jobs for women here.

The arrival of the Borrok Lamp Shade manufacturing company will bring newly created jobs here up to a total of 300. The Borrok company has taken a three year lease on 12,000 square feet of floor space on the fourth floor of the Eastwood mill, 45 Crosby place.

"takes it upon himself to speak for his associates, as well as for himself, indicating that they are not going to be 'coerced' in this matter and that his board is going to keep a 'tight rein' on the Park Board.

"Of course," he continued with evident sarcasm, "had this statement come from . . . other really great men of the past in this position, it would be regarded with some serious thought, as they always knew what they were talking about and were not issuing statements for publicity purposes...

"I only suggested that the finance commission was lax in supplying funds to complete the road work, and I am still of the same opinion, notwithstanding the long screed by the chairman of the finance commission who has so suddenly jumped into a front page position as the watchdog of the treasury, that is, so far as it applies to the park commission.

"At all events," he declared, "it is easy to say that the parks prospered long before the coming of this chairman of the finance commission and they will be going on after he has gone, so that innuendo, slighting reference to those who know and do their duty without an axe to grind will in no way interfere with their progress."

When Sceery had concluded, President Slater declared that he had "always found the Board of Finance extremely cooperative with the park commission" and that "no one individual on that body dictated the allotting of funds."

"They all concurred in approving or rejecting," Slater said.

COURT FIGHT LOOMS OVER DIRECTORSHIP OF CAMP HOPE

Roughgarden Recommended To Board For Appointment; Purcell Stands On Vets' Right

The Camp Hope commission, by a vote of six to two among eight members present, this week recommended the appointment of Abram J. Roughgarden of Totowa, WPA recreation supervisor, as administrative director of Camp Hope, county children's project at West Milford. The post pays a salary of $2,700 to $3,300 per year.

The recommendation of Roughgarden as director will go to the board of freeholders and thence to the Civil Service commission for final approval.

Roughgarden topped the list in a recent civil service examination for the position, finishing ahead of William E. Purcell of Clifton, World War veteran who ranked second on the examination list. Purcell received the two dissenting votes that were cast.

He also served notice that he would appeal against the appointment of Roughgarden on the basis of a state statute which provides that a veteran shall be appointed to the post in preference to other candidates if he is sufficiently high in the ranking.

SAMUEL FELDMAN

Housing Account 'Unfair'

Feldman Calls Story In Daily Press On Housing Body's Attitude "Sheer Libel"

Samuel Feldman, Junior Chamber of Commerce vice-president and member of Mayor Stafford's low-rent housing fact-finding committee, this week struck back at reports of recommendations of that body published in the daily press and described them as "prognostications, innuendos and sheer libel."

"It is unfair to our city, to our mayor and to members of the fact-finding committee," Feldman declared, "to substitute glaring headlines for statistical facts, to base illogical conclusions on cursory observations, and to censure committee members for failing to 'get on the bandwagon.'

"Let us, in the interests of our city," he urged, "report the facts, and the facts alone. Then, let us base our future action on the true findings of the committee, and not upon a news press hysteria."

The press had reported that the committee was prepared to put Mayor Stafford "on the spot" by recommending a housing project for the city.

Members of Mayor Bernard L. Stafford's fact-finding committee on housing will meet tonight in the City Hall to discuss their latest findings.

Subject for discussion is the information which the committee gleaned on its recent visit to the newly opened Red Hook housing settlement in New York City.

The strike is now in its third week, but union officials declared themselves confident that negotiations on a contract will be opened before the week ends.

Trenton Police Capture Girl Wanted Here

Police authorities again caught up with 17-year-old Philomena Tudeschi of 142 Marshall street this week—this time in Trenton, where she was captured as a fugitive from local police who want her on a charge of larceny and receiving.

The girl first fell into the toils of the law when her parents charged her with being incorrigible. Pleading for another chance, she got it when Assistant Prosecutor Edward H. Saltzman got her a job as a domestic worker in the home of his sister, Mrs. J. Miller of East 29th street.

After one day at her new job, the girl disappeared with $50 worth of articles belonging to Mrs. Miller. This week she was held in Trenton on a statutory charge.

City's Ills Laid To 'Defeatist Attitude'

C. Of C. Blames Mandatory Laws, Business Parasites

Chamber, In Monthly Letter, Scores Both For Undermining Faith In Paterson

In a letter addressed to its membership this week, the Paterson Chamber of Commerce scored what it called "the defeatist attitude of Paterson residents towards their city" and called for a campaign to curb the passage of mandatory laws by the present state legislature.

The chamber pointed out that despite the fact that there already are over 200 pension systems in the state, only two of which are sound, the present legislative session has seen not less than 75 mandatory bills in the form of tenure of office, pension and licensing acts introduced during the present session.

No Effort At Reduction

These mandatory laws chamber officials said, prevented municipalities from getting "out from under" the burden of taxation. No effort has been made to reduce them, the letter said.

"The chamber has absolutely no propaganda to issue about the figures issued in our business conditions letter," John J. Fitzgerald, its secretary, commented. "The interesting thing about the figures is that they serve to offset the defeatist situation that our own people have tried to encourage."

Blames Small Merchants

"Many of these bad statements about Paterson," Fitzgerald said in reference to the defeatist attitude which the chamber scored, "have come from small merchants and small silk manufacturers."

"These parasites," he said, "should not be confounded with our good silk manufacturers and our good merchants."

Thanks The "Conscientious"

"To those conscientious municipal and county officials and employees who showed sympathy and heart within the severity of laws and ordinances much credit should go for bringing business and the taxpayer through ten years of about the bitterest experience anyone is called upon to experience in a life time," one of the few cheerful notes in the statement read.

Pastor Marks 25 Years In Pulpit

Fitting recognition of his completion of 25 years of ministerial leadership in the pulpit of the First Presbyterian church at Main and Ward streets, was accorded to the Rev. Louis Vanden Burg by his congregation this week.

Radio Patrol "Greatest Single Asset," Says Police Chief Dunn

Successful Far Beyond Expectations, He Says In Survey Of Month's Duties

In a statement issued this week, Acting Chief of Police Lawrence J. Dunn declared that the new police radio system, installed on May 31, is "the greatest single asset the department has ever obtained."

Chief Dunn said the radio system had proved successful far beyond the expectations of local police officials in the month or so that it has been used here. He said it has done much to increase the department's efficiency.

The chief's statement came in conjunction with the monthly report on police department activities which showed that the radio patrol squad had received and relayed 1,445 messages from headquarters during June.

Members of the Patrol also escorted 137 payroll messengers during the course of that period, a service which is open to all business men, Chief Dunn said, merely upon request at the police headquarters.

BILLS THAT PASS IN THE NIGHT

You never know about it until it happens to you. We're speaking about the many bills which are enacted into law at Trenton each session and which go through that process without the knowledge of perhaps as much as 99 per cent of the voting public.

Of an especially vicious nature, as far as the cause of flexible municipal government is concerned, are the many mandatory laws now on the state agenda which serve to hog-tie municipal officials each time they venture forth to institute some effective economy.

How did these bills, which in effect are to a greater extent detrimental than beneficial, become law? Simply by an old, political process of disguising them under numerical labels—of pushing them through with the least amount of publicity—of keeping the public in the dark about their nature.

In practically every instance where a mandatory law has been enacted, it has been done for the benefit of a small group which greedily sought special protection in the form of tenure or pensions.

The public has been victimized by these "bills that pass in the night" because it has not insisted upon legislative methods which would compel each proposed bill to be exposed to the fullest amount of publicity BEFORE they are voted upon in the state legislature.

Yes, the average citizen is unaware of the existence of most of our laws until one affects him directly. And by that time it is too late for him to do anything but complain bitterly that he has been duped by wily lobbyists and unscrupulous legislators who serve as their dupes.

QUITE AN "ACCOMPLISHMENT"

Of interest is the claim of Assemblyman Harry J. Donahue that he is the founder of the movement to have the Navy Department name one of its new super-dreadnaughts after the state of New Jersey.

It is of interest because it gives the voters of Passaic County an opportunity to learn at first hand what great and pressing matters one of its legislative representatives mulls over in his mind as he sits in behalf of the interests of his constituents in the august surroundings at Trenton.

Assemblyman Donahue could serve his fellow residents of Passaic county much better by starting a movement for lower taxes and for less parasitism in the state governmental than by inaugurating a drive for a battle-ship named "New Jersey."

GREEN LIGHT

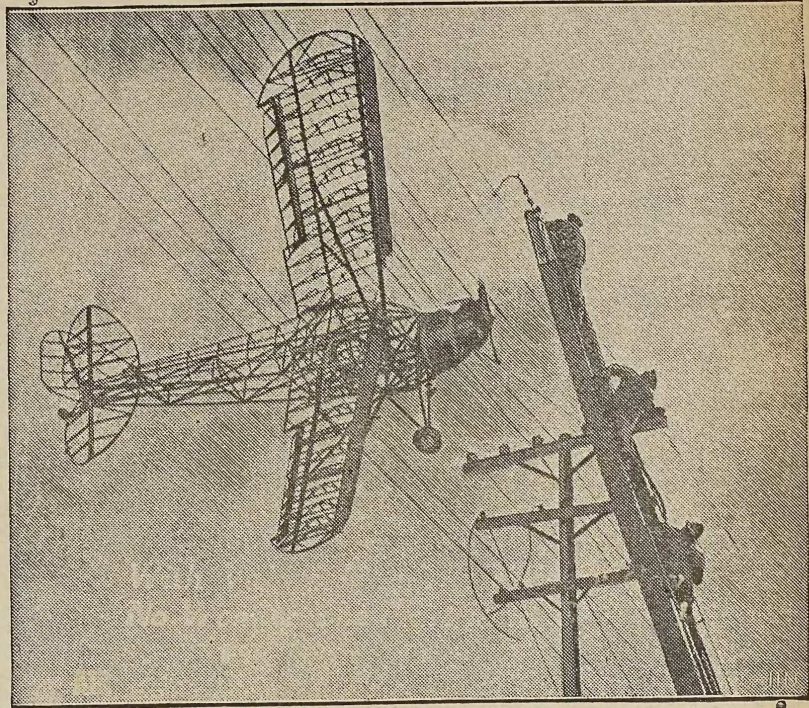

The Supreme Court of the United States recently handed down a decision of immense significance to the farmers of America.

The decision upheld the constitutionality of a Federal-State marketing agreement, established by the producers of the New York milk shed in 1938, designed to further the development of agricultural marketing cooperation, and to aid the farmer in getting a fair price for his milk.

The fact that the highest court in the land has thus definitely and finally upheld this policy will give the farm marketing cooperative movement a strong impetus. Its importance is not limited to New York—other groups of farmers, in other states, face the same marketing and price problems.

So marketing cooperation, under fair laws, has been given the green light. The rest is up to the farmers themselves—for after all, it will be their own work, rather than political charity which will win the day for them.

City To Appeal Compensation Verdict For Fireman's Widow

Common Pleas Court To Be Scene Of Hearing On Aug. 24; Delaney To Preside

The date of August 24 was fixed this week by Judge Joseph A. Delaney to hear the city's appeal against a verdict awarding Mrs. Lillian McIntyre Phillips-Smith full compensation for the death of her husband, Fireman William J. Smith from injuries he received in the St. Bonaventure fire of 1937.

Deputy Workmen's Compensation Commissioner Corbin recently awarded full compensation to Mrs. Phillips-Smith on the basis of her husband's death. While she was denied a pension, Mrs. Phillips-Smith nevertheless obtained 300 weeks compensation at $15.48 per week, funeral expenses of $200 and counsel fees of $800.

In its appeal, the city, through City Attorney Salvatore D. Viviano, is basing its action on verdicts handed down against the widows of two firemen who lost their lives in the Linn Economy store fire at 133-135 Main street on April 28, 1938. The verdicts were upheld by the Supreme Court.

BILL FURREY'S NAME bobbed up this week in connection with the rumor that he will be the Republican candidate for Mayor in the Fall . . . it is this column's prediction that Furrey will not be the Republican entry against Mayor Stafford . . . holding the inside track for the nomination is C. Walter Lotte, with Louis Schmerber looming as a "dark horse" candidate.

THE STOCK OF DR. CLAY, who made the run against former Mayor Hinchliffe four years ago and who had been prominently mentioned as a candidate in November, is reported to have hit the toboggan slide during the last few days . . . reason for this development may lie in the fact that the run he made against the Democratic candidate in his previous time out fell short of expectations.

ASSEMBLYMAN OSCAR R. WILENSKY is pretty anxious to get that state senator's nomination to judge by the way he's talking about the need for an experienced man "who knows the ropes" in Trenton . . . and he's not referring to the King of Siam, either.

REPORTS THEFT

Mrs. Mary Mallory of 260 Graham avenue this week reported to police the theft of a watch valued at $49.

LAUDS MAYOR

City Engineer Vincent J. Scanlan praised Mayor Stafford's administration in an address here this week.

As We Like It
...by MILO

A story published and circulated by a Paterson weekly to the effect that a "purge" will take place at City Hall in the event that Mayor Stafford is re-elected, we're telling you, is the "malarkey."

According to that little fairy tale, a certain commissioner (male) is supposed to have warned a city job-holder who reputedly was on the list of those who were to go in the impending axe-wielding. The story has no foundation, much less a vestige of truth.

As a matter of fact, City Hall biggies have reason to believe that the account, as published in the weekly, was concocted and written by the very person who is supposed to be on the "purge" list. All of which adds to the merry confusion which attends politics in Passaic county these days.

Well, friends, it looks like it will be the Republicans, and not the Democrats who will have a primary fight or two on their hands . . . my, my, how times do change.

From all indications, the appointment of John McCutcheon as superintendent of the Wanaque reservoir will be held over for a long time in order not to create any pre-election friction

Mayor's Stand On Strikers' Relief Praised

"Nobody Will Go Hungry Here," Says Stafford

Abramson Describes Moore Mudd Policy As 'Diabolical Scheme To Scare Men'

Mayor Bernard L. Stafford this week declared that labor strikers in this city will receive assistance from the local relief board "even if Paterson must foot the bill itself."

"Nobody eligible for relief will go hungry as long as I am mayor of Paterson, regardless of who will have to pay for it," Stafford declared in reply to an appeal by Irving Abramson, assistant regional director of the United Textile Workers of America.

Asked Aid In Strike

Abramson asked aid of the mayor in behalf of strikers at the World Bestos corporation's plant and the Taylor-Friedsam company's mill in this city.

His request came after Arthur Mudd, state financial assistance director, issued a bulletin warning municipalities they would not be reimbursed by his department for assistance extended to "those participating in or directly interested in labor disputes."

Praises Stafford, Greene

Abramson called it "just a diabolical scheme of the Governor's and Mr. Mudd's to put such fear in the workers that they would scab rather than face starvation, not because of themselves, but because of their families."

While bitterly criticizing Governor Moore and Mudd, Abramson, however, had high praise for Mayor Stafford and Director of Outdoor Relief John Greene for their aid in the matter.

43 Reported On Strike At WPA Projects

A total of 43 skilled workers were reported to have gone on strike at Passaic County WPA projects in protest against increased working hours at no extra pay this week.

The men are now required to work 130 hours per month at wages they previously received for 60 to 80 hours of work.

The federal act increasing hour standards went into effect here on Monday. WPA officials said the men would be removed from the rolls if they were

Comiskey Returns To Wars Against Pross Friday

Side Glances

—by "YANK"

Well, we see where they're going to feed Patrick Edward Comiskey another bindle-stiff at Long Branch tomorrow night. His name is Paul Pross and he is billed as the former New York State amateur heavyweight champion.

The publicity boys forgot to mention whether the "former" affixed to Mr. Pross' fancy tag means that he lost his amateur bauble or retired undefeated to enter the professional ranks—but that doesn't matter. Titles don't impress us too much, especially amateur ones.

Anyway, after Mr. Pross is duly flattened into the resin by our Patrick Edward Comiskey, it won't matter what title he brought with him into the Long Branch arena. It doesn't even matter now—before the fight.

It's something of an affront to the drawing powers of Patrick Edward that the Long Branch promoters are not taking any chances on having the card turn out to be a floperoo from a financial standpoint. At any rate, they're bringing in Arthur (What Again?) Donovan to referee the contest. It'll be interesting to ask Lil' Arthur how Comiskey shapes up as a possible opponent for Joe Louis in the future. Donovan, you know, has worked more Louis bouts than any other official.

It comes to a sad state of affairs when boxing has to rely upon referees to draw them into the arena. Personally, we fail to see how a referee, no matter how famous and renowned, could be a stellar attraction. They all do their work alike, except perhaps, when its time to hand in the decision slips. Then some do it honestly, others dishonestly and still others, quite stupidly.

Making a referee a stellar boxing attraction reminds us of the time Harry Balogh came down to the Armory to introduce Jack Dempsey to the local audience at the Diamond Gloves bouts. Balogh, the big-time announcer, decided to give the local fans an exhibition of his forensic powers. In presenting Dempsey to the local audience, he indulged in a 15-minute abuse of the English language that put the audience, including the Manassas Mauler, to sleep.

But when we get down to brass tacks, it really is Patrick Edward who will be the attraction at Long Branch. Every fight fan wants to get a peek at Pat, and Long Branch will be no exception. As a matter of fact, we feel that Pross is coming down just for a peek—which is probably all he'll have time to do before the leather starts flying in his face.

Trojans, Cellar Occupants, Hop Into Loop Lead

With two victories under their collective belts, the South Paterson Trojans, who finished at the bottom of the heap in the first half of the Babb-Smith Amateur baseball league, led the field in that loop as play opened this week.

The Trojans, making a remarkable comeback, downed the 20th Centuries, first half winners and the Columbia Squires, runners-up, to gain their advantage.

In a contest carded for tonight, the Centuries will take on the Amocos at National field. Tomorrow night, the Trojans will meet the Horseshoes at Pennington Park.

Four Games In Suburban Loop

Four Suburban baseball league contests will be played in this vicinity tonight and tomorrow night.

Three contests are scheduled for tonight. The Preakness Farmers take on the Second Warders at Parish Oval, the T. and R.'s meet the Tenth Warders at Totowa oval, and the Haledon A. C. meets Bloomingdale at Bloomingdale.

On Friday night, the Clifton Capitols will clash with the Hawthorne Merchants in the only loop contest of the day at Fair Lawn.

Oplinus Captures Prize In 2 Meets

For the second week in a row, Aime Oplinus, Triangle Cycling club's ace rider, rode off with top honors in the races held on McLean Boulevard Sunday afternoon.

On the day previous, Oplinus captured honors in the cycling meet held in Passaic's Third Ward Park.

Vellekoop Paces Local Shooters

Bill Vellekoop, sharpshooting bluecoat, led the Paterson Police Pistol team to victory in its meet with River Edge Saturday by a score of 1167 to 1086.

Vellekoop hung up a mark of 296. The match was a regular Hudson-Bergen-Passaic County Police Pistol League contest.

TO CLASH TONIGHT

Mountain View's baseball team will take on Pompton Lakes at the latter's field tonight.

PROSS AT ALLENDALE

The Allendale A's will play at home against the Hackensack Pros Sunday afternoon.

AT PINE BROOK

Pequannock's ball tossers travel to Pine Brook to play the team of that community tonight.

Gehrig Touched by Fans' Honor

Lou Gehrig breaks down as he speaks over microphone

Deeply moved by a gigantic ovation given him by 60,000 fans in New York, Lou Gehrig, the "Iron Horse" of baseball, weeps as he talks over a public address system. It was "Gehrig Day" and the veteran Yankee player received many gifts from fans, friends and club officials.

Chitwood, Renard, Nalon To Vie For Honors At Stadium Friday

Trio Stands Out Over Field Entered in Miget Car Races At Local Cement-Pile

Three drivers who demonstrated in their last time out that they are strong possibilities for top ranking honors in the competition at that track will be at the starting line in the weekly midget auto race meet at the Hinchliffe City Stadium in Paterson on Friday night.

Henry Renard of Brooklyn, Joe Chitwood, Oklahoma Indian; and Duke Nalon, Chicago star were the aces who stood out in beacon-light fashion during last week's meet on the new fifth-of-a-mile Paterson oval.

It was Renard, appearing on the Stadium track for the first time who carried off the feature 30-lap race and was consistent throughout the night from his best-time whirl around the track in the qualifying trials. Chitwood, also in his Paterson bow, won his elimination heat and then took the strong field in the second semi-final race to emerge with a pair of triumphs.

Nalon was hot, too, marking up victory in the first heat, taking second in the semi-final race which Chitwood won by nosing him out after a bitter fight, and then placing in the runner-up position in the feature race. On the strength of that performance, the Chicago star appears to have hit his stride and is certain of being a difficult obstacle to hurdle this year.

R. Q.'S TO PLAY

Ries and Quackenbush will clash with the Midland Park Rangers in a game at Eastside Park Friday night.

Local Heavy In Main Event At Long Branch

Meets Former N. Y. State Amateur Titleholder In Six-Round Embroglio

Paterson's slashing heavyweight hope, Patrick Edward Comiskey, returns to the wars Friday night when he faces Paul Pross in the main event of six rounds at the Long Branch arena.

The remainder of the card presents other promising heavyweights who will appear before Jersey Coast fans to show their wares.

Comiskey will be meeting, in Pross, a lad who won the New York State amateur heavyweight championship before turning professional. Pross, a clever boxer, is expected to give the Paterson Bomber who has run up an impressive list of knock-out victories, an interesting workout.

In his last time out, Comiskey stowed away his local rival, dusky Johnny Tuck, in two rounds in a match staged at Belmont Park in Garfield.

Working the main event as referee will be the famous Arthur Donovan whose last assignment was the Louis-Galento championship match. The card will go on at 9 p. m. with 40 rounds of boxing scheduled for the evening.

Airmen To Take On 3 Opponents Over Week-End

A busy week-end is ahead of the Wright Aeros baseball team with three contests scheduled to be played by that club before Sunday night's shadows fall in these parts.

Tonight the Airmen take on the Waldwick A. C. in a contest scheduled to be played at Eastside Park. The club then rests until Sunday, when it engages in a double-header.

In the morning, the Wrights meet the Wonders in a Paterson and District league game at Hinchliffe stadium, starting at 10:30 a.m., while in the afternoon, they are scheduled to play the Twentieth Centuries at Eastside Park.

Three interesting baseball tilts are carded for this area on Sunday afternoon.

The Smart Sets will play at Hinchliffe Stadium against the Jersey City Blue Sox, game starting at 3:15 p. m., and Mountain View will be at home with the Preakness Farmers. A contest between the Wardles and the Wyckoff Crescents at Wyckoff rounds out the schedule.

THEATRICAL NEWS

Behind the Scenes in HOLLYWOOD

By HARRISON CARROLL

Copyright, 1939
King Features Syndicate, Inc.

HOLLYWOOD.—For weeks there have been rumors on "The Women" set that Greta Garbo would pay a visit to the company. She and Director George Cukor being such great friends.

So the troupe fairly buzzed with excitement when a call came through: "Miss Garbo would like to visit the set. Could you please send a standby car to her dressing room?"

Greta Garbo

The car was sent and the company waited—frankly bursting with curiosity. Even though they have been fellow M-G-M stars for years, Norma Shearer, Joan Crawford and Rosalind Russell have exchanged very few words with Garbo.

Director Cukor enjoyed the drama of the occasion, too. He left the set and went to the door of the sound stage to greet the distinguished visitor. As the car drew up, he opened the door with a welcoming smile.

Then he looked sheepish, for out of the car stepped Practical Joker Ina Claire. She'd done the rib in style. . . . Was elaborately made up as Garbo. There was nothing for Cukor to do but take her on the set and let the company in on the laugh.

If Miriam Hopkins and Bette Davis are feuding, as the gossips still would like to believe, how do you explain this?

The blonde Miriam just came through with a check for $800 to aid Bette's pet charity—the training of guide dogs for the blind.

The money will train two dogs.

Charles Coburn, who directs the nationally famous Mohawk Drama Festival at Union college, has accepted an invitation from officials of the University of California to put on a similar festival on the coast. First series of plays may be given this fall, either here or in Berkeley.

Hollywood producers previously have made several offers to sponsor Coburn but he turned them down, fearing inter-studio jealousies.

New festival, of course, will not interfere with Coburn's screen career. You'll see him give a swell performance as David Niven's father in "Bachelor Mother."

Very tactful of Herbert Marshall to go to New York when Edna Best came to Hollywood to work in a picture. She'll be leaving for London in about three weeks, though, and you can expect Marshall back here to pick up his romance with Lee Russell.

Residents at Palos Verdes reports that Paul Muni and his wife are astounding the local folk by riding to market on a tandem bicycle. Reason is probably this: even Muni has to watch his weight. Warners confirm he'll have to slim down for his role in "We Are Not Alone."

Lionel Barrymore almost stole the show at Louis B. Myer's 53rd birthday party when he appeared minus the wheel chair and walked around without the aid of crutches. He's had such a tough time for the last three years . . . doing his screen roles mainly on nerve.

Like Carole Lombard, Lynn Bari has beaten an attack of appendicitis without surgery. She had her hospital reservations made but cancelled them and now is so much improved that she joins the Ritz Brothers and Jane Withers in the "Tin Hats" cast.

The Polish lieutenant who held Lew Ayres up at the border because he was an actor has written the star a letter of apology. Says he should have recognized him because he saw Lew in "All Quiet on the Western Front".

Deanna Durbin

Ona Munson, who wears red dresses as Belle Watling in G. W. T. W., must have really taken a fancy to the color. She's having her apartment done over in reds. . . . Add to new twosomes: Natalie Draper and Jean Negulesco at Marcel's. . . . Very strange to see Benny Rubin, now in the dress business, lunching out-of-town buyers at Card's. . . . The Deanna Durbin-Vaughn Paul romance continues despite studio discouragement. They celebrated the Fourth at the Coconut Grove. . . . Joy Hodges' mother will surprise her on her return from Des Moines with a new home in the valley. If they miss connections, though, and Joy goes on out to the old apartment, she'll walk right in on Lou Holtz, who's the new tenant. . . . And here's the height of Fourth of July precautions. Allan Jones bought asbestos gloves for his youngsters to wear when shooting fireworks.

FABIAN

Irving Berlin's new songs, Sonja Henie's sunny brilliance, Tyrone Power's gay romancing, Rudy Vallee's singing and Edna May Oliver's fun—one of the greatest combinations of talent ever gathered for one show is part of Irving Berlin's "Second Fiddle" now playing at the Fabian theatre.

How a ruthless one-man avenger counters the desperate activities of a notorious criminal gang, extricates himself from a false charge of murder and succeeds in escaping from the police who are baffled by his unusual escapades, provide the major theme of "The Saint in London," also at the Fabian. George Sanders, the outstanding British star, enacts the title role in this film.

U. S. THEATER

"Man About Town," with Jack Benny, and "Unmarried," with Helen Twelvetrees and Buck Jones, close their run at the U. S. theatre Friday.

Opening on Saturday is a three unit show which is headed by "Million Dollar Legs" which stars Betty Grable, Larry Crabbe, Jackie Coogan, Donald O'Connor and Joyce Matthews. The co-feature is "Grand Jury Secrets" with John Howard and Gail Patrick.

A special attraction on the program is "The Warning," a documentary film showing how England is prepared on land, sea and air—in the event of war.

RIVOLI

Those famous little toughies, the "Dead End" kids, are the stars of the Rivoli theatre's attraction, "Hell's Kitchen." In their newest picture, the "dirty-faced angels" turn the tables by turning reformers. Aiding and abetting them are Stanley Fields, Margaret Lindsay and Ronald Regan.

The latest picture for Republic "Mountain Rhythm," is showing at the Rivoli theater. The irrepressible Smiley Burnette walks off with the comedy honors, and June Storey is noteworthy as the pretty feminine lead.

GARDEN

From a handful of tobacco stemmed the beginnings of the greatest Empire the world has ever known.

That fact is graphically shown in the prologue to "The Sun Never Sets," Universal's romantic drama with Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. and Basil Rathbone, now playing at the Garden.

Background of the story lies in the British diplomatic service, which actually started in the 16th century when Sir Walter Raleigh brought a handful of American tobacco to Queen Elizabeth.

With a cast headed by two big favorites, Stuart Erwin and Gloria Stuart, the exciting new 20th Century-Fox film, "It Could Happen to You" is also showing at the Garden theatre.

REGENT

The Regent's bill of fare for the week-end consists of the finest film productions of Hollywood in accordance with that management's policy.

Playing today and Friday is a double feature which is headed by "Wuthering Heights" with Laurence Olivier and Merle Oberon. The companion feature is "Bridal Suite" with Robert Young and beautiful Annabella.

Beginning Saturday and playing through Tuesday, the Regent will show one of the finest aviation pictures ever made. It is "Only Angels Have Wings" with Cary Grant and Jean Arthur. The co-feature on the program is the mystery-laugh hit, "The Gorilla," with the Ritz Brothers and Bela Lugosi.
