My dear Miss Bradford:

Under date of May 2nd I received a note from Miss Malsheimer, the Financial Secretary, relative to the appeal for Whittier House. I regret that I have not been able to do more in promoting the interests of the work in recent months. It has been more impossible to command my time than at almost any other period of my life and I have not felt at liberty to urge contributions for Whittier House at this particular juncture.

I think you can understand the situation, but I take pleasure in sending herewith a Directory with certain names marked to whom the appeal could be sent. I should prefer, however, that at this time my name should not appear <sup>in signing the letters</sup> and that those to whom you write should not know that I had given you the list.

I am just getting away for the summer. I hope you may have good success in these weeks and that the financial campaign may bring the results which you desire.

Sincerely yours,

Miss Cornelia Bradford,
Whittier House,
Jersey City, New Jersey.
