GAVIN'S STAND DRAWS WARM SUPPORT HERE

Civic Groups Rally In Fight For Juvenile Home

Sheriff John A. Gavin's strong stand against the detention of juveniles in the county jail drew a volume of strong support from civic organizations all over the county, it was reported yesterday.

Many leading county organizations expressed their harmony with Sheriff Gavin's view that a separate county home of detention for juvenile delinquents be constructed with the help of federal funds. They felt, in resolutions and letters submitted to the sheriff, that the freeholders should lose no time in effecting a settlement of the problem.

Further Study

Sheriff Gavin, armed with his many endorsements, was meanwhile making a deeper study of the case. He continued to remain firm in his decision not to admit any juvenile delinquents to cells in the county jail which is under his supervision.

Wolber Rules In Favor Of Samuel Buser's Election

Decision Ends Long Fight Over Legality Of WPA Votes

A certificate confirming the election of Samuel Buser, Jr., to the post of councilman in North Haledon was yesterday formally signed by Judge Joseph Wolber. The move ended the fight of Charles Schweitzer to have the court reverse the results of last November's election.

Schweitzer had based his appeal on the claim that 75 TTC workers at the WPA camp in that borough had voted illegally. Their right to claim residence in North Haledon had been contested by the counsel for Schweitzer.

May Drop Charges

As a result of Judge Wolber's action, it seemed unlikely that charges of illegal voting would be pressed against the men.

It was contended by Schweitzer (continued on page 8)

SOMERS FUND GROWS

Contributions For Erection Of Memorial Keep Arriving

Additional contributions to the drive to erect a permanent reminder of the heroism of Hugh M. Somers, Paterson youth who lost his life in an attempt to save another from drowning, brought the fund total up to $450.25 yesterday.

Mayor Hinchliffe's civic committee is in charge of the collection. Funds collected will be used to memorialize the Grand street youth's heroism.

TABLE D'HOTE

Pigs Feast On $125 In Bills Lost In Garbage

It will require quite an effort on the part of the George Taylors of Pompton Lakes to be cheery this Christmas.

It's all because Mrs. Taylor accidentally dumped a bag containing $125 in her garbage can. The sum represented her Christmas shopping fund.

The money, of course, was skillfully traced to the farm of Vincent Rigoletto, where the garbage is dumped. Vincent, it seems, feeds his pigs on the township's refuse.

So it now develops that Vincent's pigs had their Christmas dinner somewhat prematurely. It was truly "table d'hôte" at $125 a serving. Wonder if the Taylors remembered to tip the waiter?

Barbour Likely Head Of State Security Board

Legislature Provides For Social Security Program Here

TRENTON—U. S. Senator Warren Barbour, who was defeated for re-election, loomed as the likely appointee to the chairmanship of the State Social Security board which will soon be invested with the power to administer this state's social security program.

Governor Hoffman's disclosure that Barbour was the only individual who as yet has been approached by the governor to serve upon the board gave rise to this conjecture.

Legislature Acts

Meanwhile plans were underway to mean the newly drawn up social security program of the state on a working basis. The state legislature today wrote into the law a plank providing for unemployment insurance as its first step in this direction.

The move was characterized as one that would prove "of tremendous value in avoiding human suffering" in the event of another depression.

CHRISTMAS NOTE

Municipal Buildings Gaily Decorated For Yuletide Season

Both the city hall and the city hall annex this week were appropriately decorated with Christmas lights in a manner to provide the city's outstanding symbol of the fact that the Yuletide season has arrived.

Heading the arrangement is a large electrically lighted sign over the Market street entrance of the municipal building which reads very eloquently:

"Merry Christmas."

First Of Mayor's 1937 Appointments

SAL D. VIVIANO

WALTER J. HUNZIKER

Patersonian On Way Home From War-Torn Spain

Gabriel Lichtman, Reported Lost, Now Safe On High Seas

Gabriel Lichtman, former Paterson lawyer and newspaperman, was reported to be on the high seas today, safely on his return from war-torn Spain where he served in the employ of the American Export Lines.

For a time, he was feared to be lost in the area where the present civil war is raging. He had been in Spain for three years, arriving there from Morocco.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob B. Lichtman of 578 East Twenty-Sixth Street.

Justice Harmon Guest Speaker At Bar Dinner

The principal speaker at the annual dinner of the Passaic County Bar Association will be Justice Harmon Black of the New York Supreme Court, it was announced yesterday.

Justice Black's appearance is expected to attract one of the largest gatherings of the members of the county bar. The dinner will be held on Saturday evening, January 9 at the Hotel Alexander Hamilton.

Heads Committee

Samuel Marcus heads the committee in charge of arrangements. Many prominent local members of the bar will serve on the welcoming committee to Justice Harmon.

HOLIDAY SPIRIT IN THE AIR AS XMAS SHOPPING SOARS

With Christmas Eve only a matter of hours away, the streets and homes of Paterson showed more than the usual signs of holiday celebration today. On the faces of children was written the joy of the Yuletide season, the waited visit of Santa. In shops, plants and stores there were gay people who had spent, and are still spending, the additional money that has come their way as a result of better times. In these same establishments were employers and executives, pleased with the "biggest" Christmas since the fabled days of '29.

But every Christmas, whether lean or fat economically, is an observance of Christ's birth, a sentimentally religious journey back to the first Christmas with the ancient shepherds following the light of the radiant star to the humble manger where the Babe was found.

Even in the temporal world with its cash registers, nervous salespeople and modern gadgets the phrase seemed to rise as it always does at this year. Amid the staccato rattle of typewriters in offices the jangle of the trolley car bell, the puffing of the locomotive and the grinding of gears and the jamming of automobile brakes it poured forth, a constantly recurring phrase: "A Child Is Born."

With songs of praise and adoration the weary travelers will rejoice in the re-awakening of hope and joy, just as the shepherds did when they heard the glad tidings of the angels: "Unto you is born this day in the City of David, a Savior, which is Christ the Lord" and the multitude of the heavenly host praising God: "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men."

Christmas Sunday inaugurated a week of joyful celebrations in the churches, which will be climaxed tomorrow with services glorifying the birth of Christ the King.

Protestant churches, for the most part, held their principal festivals Sunday: Episcopal churches and Catholic churches will usher in His natal day tonight with midnight masses and Choral Eucharists.

VIVIANO AGAIN APPOINTED AS CITY ATT'Y.

Mayor Also Re-Names Hunziker As Tax Receiver

Mayor John V. Hinchliffe today announced the reappointment of Salvatore D. Viviano as City Attorney. As a result of his action, Mr. Viviano will shortly begin his third term in this important municipal office.

At the same time, Mayor Hinchliffe renamed Walter J. Hunziker to the post of tax receiver. This, too, will be Mr. Hunziker's third term in office.

Fuld Named

Others reappointed were John A. Egan as city treasurer; John J. Shartell as streets commissioner, Moe I. Fuld as a member of the Board of Works, and Joseph Hammond as a member of the Board of Finance.

City Attorney Viviano, who has already served two three year terms, has long been a prominent leader in Italian-American Democratic ranks. He began his political career as secretary to Mayor Hinchliffe and succeeded Charles H. Roemer as city attorney in 1931.

Post-Office Copes With Huge Rush Of Holiday Mail

The local post office has done a business to date which shows an increase of 15 per cent over figures for a similar period last year, Postmaster Thomas L. Kelley announced yesterday.

Statistics which he released also showed that more mail has passed through the local branch this year than has been the case in any preceding year. Since the season's rush began, more than 60,000 letters have been cancelled daily.

Sharp Upswing

Mr. Kelley expressed the opinion that the figures indicated a sharp upswing in the volume of business being done in this area. More than 400 extra workers are now employed in the local post-office.

XMAS PRESENT

Mayor Gives City Employees 3 Day Holiday

With Mayor Hinchliffe's instructions that the City Hall be officially closed on Saturday, city employees were given a Christmas present in the form of a three day holiday.

The mayor saw no reason why the city hall should reopen for a half-day after Christmas.

Schools also were closed today for the annual Christmas vacation. Classes will re-open on January 4.

LOWER COST OF HOUSING MAKES RAPID STRIDES IN N. J. UNDER REGULATIONS OF F.H.A.

Rapid strides are being made in New Jersey in lower cost housing under the regulations of the Federal Housing Administration.

No less than fifteen such developments are under way in the Garden State either already approved by the Federal Housing Administration or have applications pending by Administration officials at Washington. All the projects have been filed in the New Jersey offices according to the statement of Thomas E. Colleton, State Director, and all have agreed to carry on their developments in accordance with Federal Housing Administration regulations, and all are within the price range of from $2,000 to $4,000 and are either of 4 or five rooms to a dwelling.

The most extensive of these new low cost housing tracts to carry Federal Housing Administration insured mortgage loans is located at Maple Hills Farms, Scotch Plains, Union County. It comprises 76 acres, which have been subdivided so far into 58 building lots of a quarter acre to a plot.

Another low cost housing development which takes in considerable acreage is located in the Preakness section of Wayne Township in Passaic County, and where once lived the man who originated the great Preakness horse race.

F. D. R. LISTS GOALS FACING CONGRESS OPENING JAN. 5th

Major "must" bills that confront the 1937 Congress include a neutrality measure, reduced appropriation bills, resolutions extending various temporary New Deal agencies, a tax revision program, Federal reorganization and a substitute for the late lamented National Recovery Act.

The tentative six point program, calling for economy in Federal expenditures and the new NRA, are taking shape under the direction of President Roosevelt and New Deal leaders.

Leaders of the Democratic party admit the difficulty of Federal reorganization, which they feel would sweep away agencies ripe with patronage. These leaders see a sharp controversy over Government regulation of industry and are skeptical about reducing appropriations drastically toward a balanced budget.

The most important immediate task for the Congress will be extension of powers of numerous bureaus and Administration authorities. Within a month, unless legislation is passed, the Government's gold stabilization powers and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation's lending authority will expire.

Speaker Bankhead predicted that the President's authority to operate the $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund would be continued by Congress "because there is no substantial opposition and the system has worked out well."

Bankhead and other White House conferees reported that the President was emphatically in favor of the principle of the corporate surplus tax. They indicated that any tax revision bill would carry only provisions removing possible inequities in the levy.

Doughton, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, cautiously avoided any prediction that taxes might be reduced. He predicted any revision on the Treasury's condition and the extent of

Wheat Scarcity To Cause Price Rise

Sensational price advances in wheat in the Mid-West is believed to have been caused by a prospective shortage in the new crop in the Northern Hemisphere.

One leading unofficial authority goes so far as to say the 1936-37 wheat situation is altogether unique inasmuch as figures regarding supplies suggest that there is an actual shortage as compared with probable demand.

The assertion is made that if consumer use of wheat during 1936-37 proves equal to the previous season's total, the world carryover at the end of the current crop last year will apparently be less than 500,000,000 bushels, the smallest in fifteen years and perhaps much longer, as records comparable with the present series are not available beyond 1922.

Tending to make importers take the bit in their teeth of late and aggressively buy wheat has been the announcement that world available stocks are now the smallest since 1926.

appropriations

"We haven't yet reached a balanced budget," Doughton said. "But we are going rapidly in that direction. I hope it won't be necessary to increase taxes, and there is nothing in sight right now indicating we will have to. Personally I would like to see the tax taken off of gasoline and tobacco, but the Treasury needs the money."

The House Appropriations Committee, now working on regular appropriation bills, was reported in difficulties over proposed cuts in expenditures.

Pace Quickens Showing Trade Gain, Activity

Many industrial divisions and an increased number of small manufacturers in diversified fields reported wider operations and the employment of extra shifts, according to a Dun & Bradstreet review. Manufacturers wielded the baton in stepping up the tempo of business and industry generally to reach new heights, not only for the year, but since 1929.

"Complaints multiplied regarding the scarcity of skilled labor, despite the offer of higher wages," the review reported.

Although motors and steel retained the lead, activity gained momentum in textiles, shoes, drugs and electrical appliances.

Retail distribution was 4 to 8 per cent over the preceding week and 12 to 25 per cent in excess of that for the comparative week of last year.

A number of cities reported volume at a seven year high.

Wholesale volume held at 20 to 25 per cent over the like week of last year. Dwindling inventories in many branches, however, limited the amount of business that could be booked.

More orders were booked in the hardware, lumber and building materials trades despite the lateness of the season, November building permits were 34.1 per cent greater than for the corresponding period of 1935.

The Continental Can Company has purchased a forty five acre site at Tampa on which it will build a new plant.

Report Italy And Britain In Accord On Balearic Pact

Well-informed circles said Great Britain and Italy have settled their differences in the Mediterranean and reached an accord to guarantee the present balance of power.

The rapprochement, it was said, noticeably eased the bitter anti-British feeling which has been accumulating in political circles since sanctions were levied against Italy during the Ethiopian war.

The reciprocal, accord reportedly reached in London yesterday, was believed to reimburse guarantees of freedom for communication routes throughout the Mediterranean and the Suez Canal.

In London a Foreign Office spokesman called the report premature but observers attached big significance to the visit of Ambassador Dino Grandi to Sir Robert G. Van Sittart, permanent Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs.

Although definite points of the accord were to be ratified through an exchange of letters, it was believed Italy has renounced any intention of changing the territorial or military equilibrium in the Mediterranean.

Such an understanding would mean Italy had disavowed any intentions of seizing the Balearic Islands from Spain.

The agreement was considered a step toward completing the gentlemen's agreement which did much to ease Italian British jealousies in the Mediterranean during the early fall.

Foreign Funds Fee To Be Asked Here

The Government may levy "a service charge" against foreign funds in this country similar to that which a bank imposes on short-term deposits, according to Wayne C. Taylor, assistant secretary of the treasury.

Speaking at a meeting Taylor compared the Government's position with that of a bank which suddenly receives a flood of new deposits.

"A prudent banker examines these deposits," he continued. "He may determine that this business on the whole is desirable and profitable, or that he can take care of it only if he imposes a service charge or certain limitations on accounts of this character, but it would be unusual if he decided that he would not accept these deposits on any basis."

Future international monetary stability will rest upon the type of co-operation afforded by the recent tripartite currency agreement, Taylor asserted. He predicted that coming years would see further co-operation in this sphere.

Eduardo Ciannelli, a noted playwright and Broadway actor currently playing a featured role in "Criminal Lawyer", following one in "Winter set", has a theater right in his own home, where he uses it as a playcraft workshop

Voluntary Public Service Rate Cut Is $1,500,000 Holiday Gift To Consumers; New Schedule To Take Effect January 1

The Public Service Electric and Gas Company will submit within the next few days a revised rate schedule providing an aggregate savings to consumers of "not less than $1,500,000." The proposed schedule will be placed before the Public Utilities Commission, Harry Bacharach, president of the company, announced. He added that the voluntary rate reduction followed negotiations with the company.

Public Service's proposal follows upon the announcement of Consolidated Edison of New York City that it would effect reductions of $7,000,000 next year to the people of that city.

Mr. Bacharach said the new rates would be studied by the commission and upon approval would become effective the first of the year.

As far as the New Jersey company is concerned, its proposed reduction follows one of $5,176,566 effected under commission order in May, 1935, after months of protracted rate hearings.

Revised schedules providing for lower rates, the commission president stated, had been offered by the Rockland Electric Company and the New Jersey Power and Light Company. They were rejected, however, and the companies were requested to submit new schedules with larger cuts. Negotiations also have been undertaken satisfactorily with the Jersey Central Power and Light Company, he said.

Mr. Bacharach said the Public Service cut would be scattered among various types of users. The percentages for home owners and others, however, will not be known until the revised schedule is filed and accepted. He said it was likely the schedule, showing the effects of the reduction on each classification, would be announced this week.

According to the commission, when the schedule is approved "the revised schedule for rates will become effective with bills rendered by the company in regular course on and after January 1, 1937. Where service is rendered under contract and billed for the calendar month, the reduction will be effective with the bill for January service."

"In the negotiations," Mr. Bacharach said, "the board has been mindful of the interests of labor, consumers and investors."

"It has taken into account economies in production in the benefit of which the consumer and investors are equitably entitled to share and the increasing level of labor, materials, taxes and other publicly imposed charges."

"It is possible that a somewhat greater reduction might have been effected through protracted and costly rate proceedings. The Board is satisfied as the result of its studies that this possible advantage of a formal proceeding is fully over come by the immediate going into effect of the negotiated reduction."

"With the going into effect of the revised schedule, the Board will follow its practice of continuous observance of the results there of and will take such steps as these results may indicate."

President Thomas N. McCarter, of Public Service said the reduction was made "though the immediate future is filled with factors of uncertainty."

He also said:

"It is the company's hope that these unfavorable factors and the amount of the proposed decrease in rates may be in part overcome through further economies in operation and a continued improvement in business conditions and that in acceding to the board's determination the action of the company may be justified and that the legitimate interests of its investors may not be prejudiced."

TRUE STORY

(ED. NOTE: A Christmas coincidence told to the narrator last year and saved for just such an opportunity as this. The names throughout have been fictionized.)

It happened in one of our near-by towns. Two days before Christmas, Roger Brown met his good friend Fred Arthur and stopped for a minute's chat.

After an exchange of pleasantries, Fred asked,

"Say, Roger, are you doing anything particular between eight and eight thirty tomorrow night?"

"Not that I know of," replied Roger.

"Well do me a favor then, will you?", asked Fred.

"Absolutely, be glad to." What do you want me to do?"

Well it's this way, Roge. I promised John Moore that I'd play Santa for his little girl tomorrow night and now I find I'll be out of town. They live at 225 Walnut Drive and it won't take you more than half an hour at the most to give the kid a treat. I've got the duds for the act and a few things I want to give the youngster myself but John and his wife will give you a load of stuff once you get there."

Roger thought the thing over for a minute and then convinced by Fred that it would be perfectly all right and that he would explain the matter to Moore, agreed to play Santa for the little girl. He noted the address and went on his way.

At seven thirty the next night, he got into the costume, pulled his car out of the garage, put the sack into the back of it and rode off. Going a short distance, he stopped for a minute to consult his notes for the address only to find that he did not have it with him. But after a moment's contemplation he was certain that it was 225 Walnut Street. Satisfied that he was right, he continued on his way.

Riding for a moment he came to 225 Walnut Street. The house seemed to be a modest frame structure but not particularly concerned with the looks of things, Roger climbed out of the car, slung his pack on his back and went up the steps, and rang the bell.

He started to say "Santa's here", as the door opened but the words froze in his mouth as he got a look into the interior of the house. Obviously it was not the home of the Moore's who were comfortably fixed. The furniture was shabby, the house cold and the woman who answered the door looked as though she

Realtors See '37 As A Lively Year; Officers Elected

Predictions by speakers that 1937 will be a lively year in real estate circles marked election of officers at the annual meeting of the Passaic County Real Estate Board at the Alexander Hamilton Hotel in Paterson last week.

William Dowe, partner in the firm of Duddleston and Greenwood, Paterson, was selected president, succeeding William R. Lambert, of Paterson, who held the office the last two years. William F. O'Brien, of DeMattia-O'Brien, of Passaic, was elected vice president and George Clair, of Paterson, was again given the post of secretary treasurer. Mr. Clair's re-election starts him off on his twenty-ninth consecutive year in that capacity.

Gilbert Bogert, Passaic; Henry G. Hershfield, Pompton Lakes; F. J. Hunziker, John Seckle and William R. Lambert of Paterson, make up the new board of trustees. H. Henry Stam, of Paterson, was appointed governor for Passaic county. The nominations committee consisted of John F. Lee, chairman Hershfield and Bogert.

There was a general feeling of optimism voiced by the realtors and the meeting was declared one of the finest held by the board in recent years. There were 26 members and guests present. The gathering paid tribute to Mr. Lee, whom Mr. Lambert introduced as the dean of the real estate fraternity in Passaic County.

Peter Hofstra, prominent real estate and title lawyer, who spoke on "Taxes, Our Constant Headache": J. W. Binder, Bergen County chamber of commerce secretary on "Rapid Transit for Northern New Jersey" John J. Fitzgerald, secretary of the Paterson Chamber of Commerce, were also speakers.

had seen a good deal of trouble.

Roger started to apologize when suddenly from behind the woman's skirts a childish treble called, excitedly

"Oh Mama, Santa did come. He heard me pray and now he's here!"

The little girl who uttered the words clapped her hands gleefully. Truly she felt that her prayers had been answered.

Without more than a moment's hesitation, through which much slipped through his mind, Roger, taking on the hearty bluntness with which he supposed most children felt Santa Claus was endowed, proceeded to haul out his gifts before the astounded woman and the delighted child. He stayed but for a brief moment, and as the child joyfully began pulling the gifts apart, he silenced the mother who was profuse in her thanks by saying,

"This is all part of the Christmas spirit."

It wasn't until he got into the car again to try to figure out just where the Moores might live when he remembered that the address was 225 Walnut Drive not 225 Walnut Street; the former address being in the restricted section of the town where our richer neighbors reside. As he drove off he was complacently certain that he could explain his delay to the Moores without their feeling that their youngster had been deprived of any of her own Christmas Cheer.

HEINZMANN GOES ON TRIAL JANUARY 8, CHANGING PLEA

Asking for settlement before January 1, City Counsel Joseph J. Weinberger fixed the Fidelity and Casualty Company's liability to the city of Passaic at $22,940.05 in the Heinzmann embezzlement case.

The company had been bonding the dismissed City Comptroller since 1927 on a $5,000 policy.

Unless the company makes some definite arrangement for settlement by today, Mr. Weinberger said, he will start civil action to collect.

The City Council has already taken action against the banks involved in the embezzlements. The banks, protected against such spoliation, will refer the actions to their insurance companies.

Although the former official has entered pleas of not guilty to eleven indictments of payroll padding at the City Hall, when arraigned before Judge Robert H. Davidson in Paterson, he will retract the pleas and enter ones of no defense on January 8.

It was stated by Mr. Greenberg for Mr. Heinzmann, said the "not guilty" pleas were entered so that he would not be confined over the holiday season.

Victor Greenberg, chief of counsel that Mr. Heinzmann would aid the city in every way possible so that the taxpayers will not suffer because of his breach of trust and that the $41,000 which had been stolen will be made up by the bonding companies.

Part of this sum will come from the company which underwrote Captain Heinzmann's bond and the balance will come from the companies which protect banks from suffering losses by means of forgeries, etc. Mr. Wilensky said that Captain Heinzmann has admitted to Prosecutor Arthur C. Dunn that the charges against him are true.

Trial date has been set for January 8. Mr. Wilensky said that Captain Heinzmann will change his pleas then and take his punishment. Judge Davidson is expected to immediately impose sentence.

Glass Backing For Stabilizing Fund, Capitol Surprised

Termed an "unreconstructed rebel" by President Roosevelt during the banking bill controversy last year, Carter Glass "seems to be reconstructing himself in tune with the times."

It was reported here today that the Administration's bill to extend the life of the $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund may bear the Virginian's name.

Glass, who always has opposed what he calls "tinkering" with the currency, was said to have assured Secretary Morgenthau that he would go along with the legislation and might even go so far as to sponsor it. The stabilization fund is due to expire January 30.

This would be a far cry from 3 years ago when Glass fought creation of the fund bitterly.

Administration leaders regard the stabilization fund as necessary to continuation of the monetary agreement with France and Great Britain which seeks to prevent serious currency fluctuations.

As to extension of President Roosevelt's authority to devalue the dollar, Capitol Hill leaders do not know whether Glass has been "reconstructed" enough to back this phase of the monetary legislation.

"PEACE ON EARTH....."

One year ago we celebrated Christmas in an atmosphere threatening war. The world today has moved considerably along the road to destruction as once again the message of "Peace on earth to men of good will" goes forth. Mankind is torn between conflicting goals today as never before in history. It is indeed an azure optimist who can visualize world peace during the next decade.

The great powers of Western Europe no longer question the possibility of war; they are proceeding on a full-time basis with plans for the next carnage. It is likely that Japan and Russia in the Far East await only major hostilities to inaugurate a war of their own.

The situation of one year ago is changed, however, in one important respect. The machinery for peace has been implemented in the Western Hemisphere. We can readily appreciate the difficulty of avoiding war in this country once it begins in Europe and Asia. Pressure from many sides will be brought to bear. But this half of the world appears to be on the way to isolate itself from the foolishness of the Old World. Economic pacts between the nations of North and South America is the best insurance the United States can obtain against involvement in Old World hostilities.

We repeat that few are aware of the modern devices of warfare which have been primed for the emergency. The mind finds it difficult to grasp a picture of machine-gunners dropping out of planes hinged to parachutes, gas and bomb attacks potent enough to destroy whole cities and inventions of chemistry capable of mass destruction.

It is at this season of the year then that we ought to resolve that the peace of the world must be kept at any cost. We should rouse ourselves to combat the propaganda that has plagued us for too long a time, canards that have caused us to lose our penchant for thinking clearly and intelligently, lies and the pressure of false ballyhoo that have always been potent enough to embroil us in war. We showed signs of having regained this faculty of removing the chaff from the wheat during the last election.

It is well once again to recall the words of Newton D. Baker, who has stated that wars are caused by greed. "The tensions in modern international relations are industrial and commercial, and the causes of modern war grow out of the efforts of nations to acquire economic security or economic dominance," Mr. Baker said.

NOTHING CAN STOP AMERICA

From every indication 1937 will be a year of still further progress in the rise of the nation out of the depression. Employment in manufacturing industries has risen steadily in the past year and is likely to reach or surpass the 1929 levels in the near future—possibly in the coming month.

General unemployment has fallen sharply and many economists believe that the census of the unemployed now planned by the Department of Commerce will show two things; first, that those who are without work and are seeking work number less than five million; second, that there is already an actual shortage of skilled labor in many trades, industries and communities. On this latter point no less an authority than Dr. Harold G. Moulton, head of the Brookings Institution, has already predicted that we shall have an actual shortage of labor within the next five years if industrial production recovers to the 1929 limit.

Further progress can be expected from federal fixing of manufacturing wages and hours and other arbitrary proposals emanating largely from professional labor leaders. There may be the 30-hour week to aid us and the further establishment of the various unions and guilds throughout the country.

Beyond these steps ahead, we are appreciative of the fact that wise and constructive leadership in business as well as government will help us toward complete recovery immeasurably. Both industry and government have the responsibility of completely restoring employment and then helping to stabilize jobs for the future.

There is an ancient truth, "nothing can stop America". It still holds.

FRUITS OF NEW DEAL?

The following figures appear to us to be of high significance. We feel no conclusions need be drawn.

In 1929 labor received in wages 65.5 per cent of the entire national income.

In 1935 (it was revealed last week) labor's share of the national income had risen to 67.3 per cent.

In 1929 14.3 per cent of the national income was paid out in dividends and interest.

In 1935 these payments dropped to 13.6 per cent.

More of the national income in wages at the bottom; less of national income in dividends at the top.

Are we seeing a beginning of that sensible and fair redistribution of national income on which business prosperity depends?

REAL ESTATE LOOKS UP

Along with the Passaic County Real Estate Board, we look forward to a lively year in real estate here. We look for the worm to turn, for the burden of taxes to be lifted partially from real estate. Little more than that is needed for values to rise. They have, in fact, risen considerably during the past several months, but this is as nothing compared to the progress it should make, and will make, if the burden of taxation is lightened.

Remember, real estate has a long way to go to catch up with the values of former years. That it will catch up eventually none will doubt. We look for a greater demand at better levels in 1937.

THE BOYS WAKE UP

It is announced that a revised rate schedule providing an aggregate reduction to consumers of "not less than $1,500,000" will be submitted within the next few days by Public Service to the Public Utilities Commission. The new rates will probably go into effect the first of the year.

This follows on the heels of an announcement from Consolidated Edison in New York City that it will reduce its rates to provide savings of $7,000,000 to consumers of that city.

Utility magnates would have us believe that economies in production and mechanical progress have prompted these reductions. We wonder, however, whether these savings would be volunteered by the utilities if it were not for the threat from the Government to loan funds to municipalities to build their own power plants. The New York utility was apparently frightened into making these reductions when it realized that New York City was prepared to build a municipal plant that would outstrip the private corporation. Unless Public Service decides to stop "milk-ing" the people of New Jersey it may face competition from publicly-owned and operated projects.

50 Firms Will Take Part In Local Exhibit

Y. M. C. A. Will Be Scene Of Fifth
Annual Industrial Show

Nearly 50 local industries have announced their intentions to take part in the fifth annual Paterson industrial exhibition, Herbert L. Jaycox, chairman, announced yesterday.

The exhibition will be held beginning January 5 to January 9 on the main floor of the Young Men's Christian Association building here.

New and interesting exhibits are being planned for the occasion. They will be distinguished by their originality and variety, the committee in charge promises.

FOR DEPOSITORS

Hamilton Trust Co. Institutes New Protective Device

A new scientific safeguard for deposits will be introduced Monday morning in the Hamilton Trust company, it was announced yesterday.

The process involves the photographing of each entry made in a depositor's bank book, thus providing a means for greater safety and efficiency in the handling and recording of savings deposits.

The Hamilton Trust Company, by installing this new system, will become the second bank in the country to recognize the value of photography to serve in this capacity.

County Employees Will Find Out
Monday Afternoon

Skeptics among the wondering populace of this county will be shown by the committee in charge of arrangements for the annual hobby tree social to be held in the county building Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock by the court house attaches that there is a Santa Claus after all.

County employees are in for a definite surprise when Santa makes his scheduled appearance at that time. The committee in charge, headed by Court Attendant Harold Burpo, guarantees his appearance. But it won't tell just who Santa Claus is—not yet, anyway.

Truck Driver Reports Hold-Up

Stephen Ferraro, 18, of 28 Oak Street, last night told police that he had been held up, kidnapped and hi-jacked by three men on Union avenue yesterday afternoon.

According to Ferraro's story, he had driven a truck owned by the Ferraro Brothers' coal company to Union avenue to make a coal delivery and had been accosted by 3 men in a car who had commandeered his truck, stolen the coal, and taken him to Fairfield where they robbed him of approximately $12 in cash.

Truck Recovered

The truck was later recovered by the police at Mill and Ward streets where it evidently was abandoned. Investigation of the case will be continued today, the police stated.

Pope's Condition Vastly Improved

VATICAN CITY—Professor Armita Milani, the Pope's personal physician, announced today that His Holiness was completely out of danger and would be "wholly cured" within a short time.

Because his improvement has been steady and general for the past week, Dr. Milani said that the Pope would be able to make his Christmas Eve radio speech as planned. He had pleaded with the Pope to make his address a short one in order that he should not tire himself unduly by the effort.

Replica Of Christ Child Story Built By Local Dyer

Imbued with the true Christmas spirit, Anthony Catalano, a dyer who resides at 364 East Twenty-First street, and his son Frank have completed a labor of love in the form of a large manger which depicts the birth of Christ and some of the episodes surrounding that event.

Adorned with pottery some of which was imported from Europe, the product of the Catalanos' meticulous craftsmanship is a work of art. It is on display in their home.

Took 3 Months

The entire manger is about 15 feet square and took three months to build. Included in it are replicas of King Herod's castle, the Child Jesus, Mary and Joseph together with worshippers shepherds, cattle and horses.

The display is also equipped with a stream of water and is brightened by remarkable lighting effects.

The Sports Current

by GEORGE GERO

THE WHITE MENACE

A bright young man, fresh out of New York University, has made himself a figure to be reckoned with in the heavyweight ranks. By virtue of his smashing victory over Ray Impellittere, the Beanstalk of Beacon, Bob Pastor must be ranked as one of the three foremost challengers for the throne worn by James J. Braddock. Bob will face Joe Louis in the Garden some time next month.

Bob spotted the giant from upstate New York fifty five pounds and then treated him to a fearful shellacking. In spite of the many physical handicaps that confronted him, the N. Y. U. lad didn't take long to cut the gargantuan gentleman down to his own size.

In the very first round he dropped Impellittere with a beautifully executed left hook, followed by a right hand smash to the jaw. He spilled the large fellow again in the sixth and put him away for keeps in the seventh.

It was a treat to watch the Pastor boy leave his feet to score with lefts to the head. He was faced with a freak sized foe. There is no question he would have looked even better against almost any other fighter you might care to name. And don't forget that he looked a right smart fighter Friday night.

We are not going on record as picking him to beat Shufflin' Joe Louis. In fact, we wouldn't think of picking anybody to beat Joe, not even Max Schmeling. But we do say that Bob Pastor is going to be a tough nut to crack.

Joe Louis can be hurt, as Schmeling proved. There are weak links in the Louis defense, as Schmeling proved. Joe Louis can be easily flustered, as Schmeling proved. And Max isn't exactly a brilliant fighter.

Bob Pastor has a world of class and appears able to deal it out and take it as well. It is true that he is young and that his best years figure to lie ahead of him. He may not be ready to take the Dark Angel, but it is our guess that there will be many times during the evening when the Celestial Senegambian will wish he were in a place that more closely approximated Paradise than the Garden ring.

Win or lose against Louis, watch this Pastor kid. He will get up there or thereabouts.

Although it has nothing to do with the foregoing, it is nice to believe that, in any case, Americans do not place too much stress on the importance of box fights. If Schmeling should again achieve the heavyweight title the Nazis will call it a victory for Aryanism. We, in this country, know that it is not important who holds the title, although we appear to take more interest in box-fighting than any other people. It is also a tribute to American sportsmanship that a home grown ringworm likes to see the best man win, whether he's white, yellow, red, black or brown.

Five Training Quarters Now Open For Golden Gloves Boys To Get In Condition

In keeping with the fact that condition is half the battle of the amateur glove swinger. The Morning Call and the Letter Carriers Association is endeavoring to present as fine a squad of well conditioned performers as ever took part in a simon pure tournament on Thursday night, January 14, when the Golden Gloves competition gets under way.

Arrangements were completed over the week-end with Sam Taylor of the New Life Gymnasium for the use of his fine training headquarters by Golden Gloves candidates thus completing a link of 5 conditioning centers in Paterson and Passaic. In addition to Taylor's place, amateur boxers without any expense whatsoever can now train at Tos's Gymnasium on Washington Place, Passaic, Frank Genaro's Gym on River Street, Tom Brown's place on Godwin St. and Larry O'Toole's quarters at St. Agnes Lyceum, in Paterson.

No less an authority than Paul Cavalier declared this week that the set of training quarters selected by The Morning Call affords the Golden Gloves boxers with the very finest in the way of conditioning places. "And conditioning is the foundation for boxing, whether it be amateur or professional", Cavalier declared.

Another break which bobbed up in the direction of the simon pure boxers was the added announcement by Cavalier that beginning this week he will be available as a boxing instructor at the New Life Gymnasium. Cavalier, who is still one of the greatest boxers in the world, in the closing weeks will endeavor to acquaint his pupils with the vital points of the game. Cavalier will be present at the gymnasium at regular periods during night sessions.

Bob Whiting, assistant sports editor of The Morning Call, who is directing arrangements, once again pointed to the importance of filing entry blanks. "Saturday night, January 2, is now a little more than one week off and it will behoove all interested parties to get busy at once," Whiting stated. No entry blanks will be honored after January 2.

Larry Kelley's "Soccer Kick" Is Voted Football's Oddity Number 1 For 1936; 3 Errors On One Play Baseball's No. 1

To match last year's leap of a twelfth man to line up with the Dartmouth team against Princeton at the goal-line stand against the Tigers, the oddest occurrence of 1936 has been listed as Captain (Yale) Larry Kelley's famous soccer kick against the Navy at Baltimore.

This play ranks as Freak Play No. 1 in the "Ivy league" season in the opinion of 59 out of 76 sports editors contributing their views to a sports poll. No other unusual incident or development received anything but incidental mention

Here's how it happened: With Navy leading, 7 to 6, in the third period, Yale punted from deep in its own territory. Sneed Schmidt, later a hero of the Army game but the "goat" of this one, received the kick on his own 25 as Kelley, among other Ells bore down on him. Schmidt fumbled and dropped the ball. Kelley's foot connected instantly and drove it sharply toward the Navy goal. Kelley then won the race for the loose pigskin and fell on it on Navy's 3. Clint Frank bucked across for the touchdown that enabled Yale to CALL it "the flowing bowl"—the "cup that cheers"—"Wassail," or any other fine old phrase... still, the punch bowl continues to do the honors on New Year's Day! And, just to get away from the ordinary run of punches, we've found this delicious blending of coffee, chocolate, almond and cream, a real inspiration of friendly hospitality!

Coffee Ice Cream Punch

1 quart coffee ¼ teaspoon almond flavoring

1 quart chocolate ice cream ½ pint whipping cream Nutmeg

Chill the coffee and pour into a punch bowl. Add ½ of the chocolate ice cream and stir until it is partially dissolved. Add the almond flavoring to the cream and whip until stiff. Place the whipped cream and the remaining ice cream alternately on top of the first mixture. Sprinkle the cream lightly with the nutmeg. Serves 12 to 15.

win, 13 to 7.

Football rules specify it is a foul if a loose ball is kicked "intentionally." Such is Kelly's reputation as an opportunist that the Eli ace was credited by some critics with pulling a "smart." He denied, however, that it was anything but an accidental kick and the officials so decided, on the spot.

Oddest happenings otherwise, during the football season, included Fordham's 7-0 victory over Southern Methodist despite the Mustangs' advantage of 14 to 1 on first downs Southern California's 13-13 tie with Notre Dame, which had an 18 to 1 margin in first downs; and the absence of penalties in the Pennsylvania Cornell game.

"As long as there are young men eager to work, yet idle thru no fault of their own the CCC can continue to be an effective part of our national policy, because of the work of conservation which needs doing is so great as to be able to use for many years the services of many men.

"The average boy who has served a few months in the corps is much more likely to get and hold a job than he would have been without his training in the corps.

"If the corps is permanent, it is strongly urged and recommended that all positions save enrollees and intermittent workers should be placed under the classified civil service". — Robert Fechner, director of emergency conservation work of the CCC.

Regent To Have Little Jack Little For New Year's

Little Jack Little, personally, and his musical aggregation, probably have been more in demand and kept busier than any other similar attraction in the radio and theater field, during the past five years.

A brief resume of their career will attest to this statement. Little, then doing a solo song and patter act, began a series of six a week broadcasts over the Columbia network, and kept at it, from February, 1932 to the spring of 1933, the while making other guest appearances, including the "Old Gold" radio series. He then organized his first orchestra, opening in November, 1933, at the Silver Grill of the Lexington hotel.

Commercial sponsors, forever on the alert for "something different" at once beckoned them and in February, 1934, the company joined the "Happy Wonder Bakers" for an extended series. From June to September, 1934, the popular maestro and his boys were the summer's highlights, broadcasting from the Ambassador hotel in Atlantic City, October 1934, saw Little Jack Little and his music making crew back at the Lexington hotel, for three broadcasts a week, up to April, 1935. During the latter period, Little reverted to his single specialty act on a radio series.

Little Jack Little, in person, and his orchestra, will be the featured attraction on the stage for the New Year's Eve midnight show at the Regent theatre, Paterson.

U. S. Theater Offers Holiday Double Feature

Joan Crawford and Clark Gable have the time of their lives in their new co-starring picture, "Love on the Run," which opens tomorrow at the U. S. Theatre and it is a safe bet to say that the film public viewing this picture will have the time of its life as well.

Acted to perfection by its ace team of stars with the support of Franchot Tone, Reginald Owen, Mona Barrie and others, the new offering has that combination of wit, charm and pulsating action which marked such earlier hits as "The Thin Man" and "It Happened One Night."

Co-Feature

Grand National's all color adventure picture, "Captain Calamity," is also on the same program.

George Houston and Marian Nixon have the leading parts.

Majestic Plans Elaborate New Year's Program

Snappy dialogues, tuneful melodies, jazzy dancing, elaborate costuming, beautiful trappings and all the thrills that go to make up a program of charming quality will be found in the big stage and screen show to be presented at the Majestic theatre in Paterson on New Year's Eve, Thursday evening, December 31.

The program will, without a doubt, prove to be one of the best entertainments ever afforded theatergoers. For the stage part of the bill which will be over two hours in length, managers A. Louis Ginsburg and Jack Ginsberg have selected eight of the fastest, funniest most novel acts in showbusiness. The cast of these acts will be made up from stars of radio, stage and screen. For the screen part of this "Carnival of Joy" two unusual fine photoplays have been booked.

Tickets for the show, which will get under way at 10 P. M. have already been placed on sale and they may be obtained at the box-office any day between the hours of 1 P. M. and 11 P. M.
