Independence Program At Camp Hope

Historical Sketches And Treasure Hunt Features

This year's celebration of Independence Day is one of the 125 boys who are the county's guests at Camp Hope are not likely to forget for many years to come, even though there were not a lot of fireworks to impress it upon their young minds.

The playground at the camp which has been established on the 125 acre 113th infantry reservation at Huntsville, Sussex county was the scene of an impressive gathering last evening, when a patriotic program was presented for the benefit of the young campers.

Historical sketches, presented by the counsellors and a number of the older campers, featured the program, which was given under the general direction of Miss Mary H. Fadace, one of the counsellors, with Alfred Nordstrom, camp director, officiating as master of ceremonies.

Religious services were held at the camp Sunday, opening with one of the Salesian Fathers of the Don Bosco monastery, of Newton, delivering a talk to the Roman Catholic campers in the morning on the subject of "Choosing One's Companions in Life" in which he stressed the fact that "a good tree bears good fruit." The Roman Catholic services were conducted from a specially constructed altar, bedecked with wild flowers.

In the afternoon, the Rev. William Goodrich, pastor of the Anderson M. E. church, delivered a talk to the Protestant campers and then led them in the community singing of a number of hymns and patriotic songs.

Camp Director Nordstrom announced recently that similar religious services will be conducted at the camp every Sunday.

City Hall Was Opened Forty-One Years Ago

Building Cost Total Of $500,000—Braun Was Mayor

Paterson's City Hall was opened for business 41 years ago Tuesday. Dedication of the municipal building was held on July 6, 1896. The fire came along on Feb. 9, 1902. The City Hall was almost completely gutted.

The movement for the construction of the new City Hall was launched during the celebration of the city's centennial anniversary in 1891. A citizens' committee of 100, of which Edward Bell was the chairman, proposed the idea. At that time the municipal business was transacted in a building which formerly had been used as a dwelling and which was located in Washington street, on the present site of the police headquarters.

Bounded by Market, Washington Ellison and Colt streets, the City Hall is in the geographic center of the city. The original area of the plot on which it stands was 33,550 square feet. Its exterior is of Indiana limestone. The building is 151 feet 4 inches in length on the exterior and 79 feet 8 inches in depth. The height above the sidewalk is 70 feet and above the foundation 83 feet. The tower rises 164 feet above the foundation and is 22 feet 6 inches square.

FHA DOES OVER A BILLION IN THREE YEARS OF LIFE; ALL TYPES OF LOANS CITED

Development Of Insured Mortgage System Pleases Government Officials — See Protective Devices In Business

The third birthday of the Federal Housing Administration was celebrated recently with the announcement that the gross business entered upon its book nationally, had reached nearly $1,750,000,000.

This gross total includes mortgages selected for appraisal, modernization and repair notes insured and large scale housing projects approved. The FHA lends no money and the capital represented in its program comes entirely from private lending sources.

"As we arrive at our third anniversary," Housing Administrator Stewart McDonald said in Washington today, "we review with satisfaction the development of the insured mortgage system and what it has achieved. With this new idea in the field of mortgage financing, we have produced a system that includes many protective devices which have been of decided benefit both to borrowers and lenders."

"By removing old and outmoded elements of uncertainty we are developing a more stable mortgage market; we have through our system of mortgage risk rating, encouraged better building standard and the construction of more livable homes in sound, well planned neighborhoods of monthly payment in equal installments, the clear knowledge of the total obligation from the outset; the absence of hidden charges and the general soundness of the FHA insured mortgage are factors that have had much to do with the general public acceptance of this new way to home ownership."

Since June 27, 1934, when the National Housing Act was passed by Congress, the achievements of the Housing Administration in providing better living conditions, in revitalizing the mortgage market, and in the encouragement of higher standards of construction have shown their effect.

The records of the FHA reveal as of June 19, 206,794 residential mortgages committed for insurance amounting to $835,317,627. These mortgages were financed with capital provided by 5,893 private lending institutions.

Mortgages on large scale rental projects accepted for insurance by the Housing Administration as of June 19, amounted to 34, involving mortgages totaling $27,508,000.

During the operation of the insured modernization credit plan, 1,449,233 modernization notes, amounting to $560,731,602 were insured by the Housing Administration.

N. J. STARTS '37 IN BLUE

Big Balance Of Finances Due To Liquor Fees, Tax Income

New Jersey's new fiscal year began this week with a substantial cash balance despite supplemental appropriations exceeding $3,000,000 voted after the regular fiscal bills were approved. Heavy increases in the beverage and inheritance tax receipts were responsible for the balance.

Controller Murray reported a cash balance of $7,376,016, but this will be reduced considerably when bills incurred prior to June 30 are paid. Bills already known to have been incurred total $2,587,757. The state also owes $1,332,702 to the teacher's pension fund. When these are paid, the balance will be $2,955,557. From $900,000 to $1,000,000 will be held for salary increases to state employees for the next fiscal year, probably including all employees up to $3,000 annually.

Technically, the state balance will be debited also by $1,175,000 for the institutional construction fund, since the money was appropriated without a provision that it would lapse if unspent. Although $1,200,000 was appropriated last June for institutional construction which was reported to be very necessary, only $25,000 has been spent. While the remainder represents cash in the treasury, it cannot be used except for institutional construction.

1,000 Purple Heart Medal Holders Off To Sunday Meet

Ten New Jersey Men Will Be Decorated With Order

It is expected that more than 1,000 holders of the Purple Heart Medal from Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania will assemble at the annual reunion and convention of the Military Order of the Purple Heart at Sea Girt, Sunday.

The outstanding features will be the memorial service on the lawn of the Governor's mansion Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at which Governor Harold G. Hoffman will be the principal speaker. The 113th Infantry, under command of Colonel John F. Lee, of Paterson, and members of the Military Order of the Purple Heart will march to the Governor's mansion in a body. Music will be furnished by 113th Infantry Band and services will be conducted by Chaplain George J. Crone, chaplain of the 113th Infantry and Chaplain Michael Corr, national chaplain of the Military Order of the Purple Heart. In the afternoon ten New Jersey men will be decorated with the Order of the Purple Heart, by order of the War Department and the Medals will be presented by Governor Harold G. Hoffman and General Winfield S. Price. The 113th Infantry will then pass in review before members of the Military Order of the Purple Heart.

The Purple Heart is the oldest military decoration in the United States. It was founded by General George Washington at Newburgh, New York, August 7, 1782, and is awarded to all members of the Army who were wounded in action under meritorious circumstances. There are approximately 58,000 holders of the Purple Heart Medal in the United States.

Recently a Passaic man was killed by a hit and run car. An autopsy revealed impeded in the body part of a radiator cap ornament. A check on all cars that used the ornament in the town brought police to the hit and run

SAFE DRIVERS TO GET HONOR N. J. MEDALS

Those Showing Good Record For 25,000 Miles To Get Honor

"Who are the Safe Drivers of New Jersey?"

This question is being asked by the New Jersey Safe Drivers' committee, a non partisan, non pecuniary movement organized to pay a deserved tribute to license motor vehicle drivers in New Jersey who can show a record of 25,000 or more miles without having been in a reportable accident as defined by the State motor vehicle law.

The recently reported record of Harry B. Haines, owner and publisher of the Paterson Evening News, who has in thirty five years owned and operated forty five cars and driven over one million miles without having ever been involved in a reportable accident, is closely matched by the record of Clarence A. de Goll, of Elizabeth, N. J. who has been driving since 1906, a total of more than a million miles, without causing an accident to any other driver. Mr. de Goll's car was run into by other drivers on two separate occasions during this period with only slight damage. The drivers admitted they were to blame and paid the trifling damages, but aside from these two cases during the entire thirty year period, Mr. de Goll has never been involved in a motor vehicle accident in which he was responsible.

The New Jersey Safe Drivers' Committee is eager to publicly honor every driver who has driven 25,000 miles or more without a reportable accident and who can qualify for a Safe Driving Award. Every Mayor and Township Committee Chairman in New Jersey has been invited to become Honorary Chairman of the Safe Driver Committee of his community and appoint a local committee to further the search for New Jersey's safe drivers. In the great majority of instances, they have been glad to cooperate so their citizens would be given the same opportunity to be honored and receive Safe Driving Awards as are the citizens in other communities. Newspapers have been equally cooperative in furthering the movement and its success has been due in large part to the support given by the New Jersey Press.

Most, if not all, of the safety educational campaigns heretofore have stressed the acts of the reckless and careless bad drivers, quite losing sight of the fact that there are thousands of conscientious citizens who do drive safely and sanely and that these deserve to be publicly recognized for their good work in the cause of increased highway safety.

"Are you one of New Jersey's Safe Drivers?" If you are, the committee wants to know it so that it may present you with one of its Honor Awards and enroll you as a member of the State Committee. There is no cost, the committee does not solicit nor accept contributions or fees from any driver.

driver's car and his confession.

This example is a prominent one being given the horde of policemen who visit the crime detection laboratories at Trenton these days. Colonel Mark O. Kimberling, state police superintendent, believes that if local police take advantage of the plan a new efficiency in crime prevention and detection will be achieved.

116,339 HERE ELIGIBLE FOR S. S. PENSION

Reid, Opening Social Security Office Here, In Statement

Reporting an estimated number of 116,339 persons covered by old age benefits, who will be eligible to receive them upon reaching the age of 65, J. Herbert Reid opened the local office of the Federal Bureau of Old Age Benefits, a branch of the Social Security Board which administers that phase of the National Social Security Act.

The most important function of the Passaic office will be to assist employers and employees with information and advice on their respective responsibilities under the old age benefit section of the Social Security Act.

Another important function will be to handle the enumeration of employees, all inquiries growing out of the assignment of benefit account numbers, and death claims and other claims made under the Act.

Mr. Reid said today that claim procedure had been simplified to the extent that forms required placed no unnecessary burdens upon applicants and lump sum awards were being made in less than three weeks from the date claims were received. Tax features of the Act, he added, came under the jurisdiction of the Bureau of Internal Revenue. Question concerning the unemployment compensation section of the Act, he said, were not being answered by the Passaic office, but should be referred to the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

"Since Italian soldiers were not sent to Spain by the government, the government has no means to recall them. It cannot do it and in the present circumstances, it will not." . . . Il Popolo D'Italia, Rome newspaper.

B. L. Outlook Is Improved As Gain In Confidence Set

Estimate At Mid-Year Shows Better Conditions Appear

In the best position it has been their fortune to occupy in a decade, building and loan associations of New Jersey as a whole appear to have gained tremendously turning mid-year of 1937.

Passage of Assembly 341 as one of the final acts of the 1937 Legislature, devising means toward adjustment of difficult building and loan situations through mergers and segregation of troublesome real estate assets: putting into effect federal insurance and share, holding interests in going associations, and the measurably improved salability of real estate, all serve in the development of an outlook of optimism for months just ahead. The whole year, at the present progress in readjustment, should prove one of accomplishment.

Fewer and stronger institutions in the building and loan field are the assured outcome.

Close co-operation between the New Jersey Building and Loan League and the State Department of Banking and Insurance, through the latter's bureau of building and loan associations—a cause of hesitancy at some points along the road—seems "at long last" to have reached a point at which both governmental and private supervision and example are working in harmony toward their common goal, restoration of public confidence in the mutual thrift and savings institutions.

Before the year is ended, it is freely predicted there will be a "washout" of discomfiting conditions admittedly facing many units and hence handicapping the whole building and loan movement.

ALL COUNTRY GOES PLACES REPORT SAYS

Figures For Half Of '37 Point To All-Time Travel Record

Statistics gathered during the last several days from officials of companies and associations representing steamship, rail, air, bus and private automobile travel and resort hotels indicate that the first six months of this year point to 1937's distinction as one of the greatest travel years in the history of the country.

Almost all reported increases over last year ranging up to as much as 50 per cent. Steamship lines said their increases were as high as 35 per cent, and the trend extends to next winter's cruises. Ships sailing next January and February have sold more than half their accommodations.

Private automobile travel within the country was said to be 42 per cent above that of the first six months of last year, and thousands were driving cars into Canada and Mexico or taking them abroad. Steamship piers were like beehives, with some large lines taking out more passengers than in any one week since 1929.

Airlines said that June was restoring their passenger figures and they expected that July and August would be as big as any

Billy Rose Vetoes Venus at Cleveland's Exposition

BILLY ROSE, whose two mammoth productions are the feature of the new 1937 Great Lakes Exposition at Cleveland, which continues open for 101 days until September 6, rose in his wrath this week and banned Venus de Milos from his 5,000-seat Aquacade.

"Even if she had arms I wouldn't let her in the chorus," shouted Billy. "She'll have to reduce before she can typify the modern American stream-lined beauties who are in my shows."

"What I want is a Greek statue that looks like my No. 1 Aquabelle, Eleanor Holm Jarrett. Take that fat woman from Milos away—Eleanor can tie her hands behind her and beat her any day."

Rose's other show, the Pioneer Palace at the big 150-acre Exposition which has more free attractions than any other ever held, is headed by Tom Patricola. More than 5,000,000 people will visit Cleveland's big show this summer, many camping in Trailer City there.

5,000 WPA PROJECT WORKERS WILL BE OUT BY JULY 16th

Drop 2 Districts As Sails Of WPA Are Trimmed

Ely Says Dismissal Decried To Accomplish Economies Asked

State WPA Administrator William H. J. Ely announced this week dismissal of about 5,000 project workers and 500 district and state headquarters administrative workers and consolidation of the present seven WPA districts in the State into five.

The curtailment effective July 16, is in line with a program of paring WPA rolls ordered recently by the Federal government.

District 3, embracing Essex county alone, and District 2, covering Hudson County alone will remain unchanged in the consideration. District 1 will retain Bergen, Passaic and Sussex counties and will acquire Morris and Warren counties from the present District 4.

District 4 will retain Union, Middlesex, Hunterdon and Somerset counties and will acquire Mercer and Monmouth counties from the present District 7. District 5 will retain Atlantic, Cumberland and Cape May counties and will acquire Camden, Gloucester and Salem counties from the present District 6 and Burlington and Ocean counties from the present District

7. Ely said the dismissal of project workers was decreed to accomplish economies made necessary by the reduced appropriation in the $1,500,000 work relief bill signed this week by President Roosevelt. The district consolidation and dismissal of administrative workers, he said represented a reduction in administrative expense and personnel to correspond with that in project expenditure and personnel.

Ely said that as far as possible the project workers dropped will be those shown by recent surveys to be no longer in dire need, or likely to obtain employment in private industry. He added the administrative workers dismissed will be those whose work is least necessary under the reduced program in districts and at state headquarters.

Effective July 16 also, workers will be paid by the Treasury Department. The WPA paymaster unit will be abolished.

Ely said curtailment of the WPA sewing rooms is being made but will result in transfer to other projects of one half the present force of about 7,000 women. Projects to absorb these women are being considered. The reduction in sewing rooms is being made because the production of garments may be more than enough to supply those remaining on relief.

Ely said consideration is being given to extension of the white collar program if it can be kept within the limit of cost per month and if the vocational classification of workers warrants such a move

MAKE FDIC 1936 REPORT

Methods Taken To Keep Banks Sound Cited By Head

The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, making its annual report this week, said 24 banks had been cited "for unsafe and unsound practices" during 1936. Of these, three banks corrected their practices, four closed and one was absorbed by another bank. The remaining cases were pending at the end of the year.

Chairman Leo T. Crowley said citations, including those issued in 1936, were pending against about 30 banks, and that a close check was being made on about 200 others.

The most common types of practices considered by the corporation to be unsound or unsafe were operation with inadequate capital, excessive extension of credit to officers, or directors, "other unduly hazardous, or illegal extension of credit," holding of an excessive volume of hazardous assets and "operation with dishonest, incompetent or careless management."

A recent news item declared that Thomas N. McCarter, president of Public Service, and J. P. Morgan, world famous financier won New York honors for their tulips.

CHILDREN SHOULD BE WATCHED

With school out until September, thousands of local children will have the hazardous privilege of spending waking hours playing in the streets. It's really risky business and parents and motorists should take due notice. The danger can be reduced if drivers will use less speed and more caution. The police are trying to reduce traffic accidents of all types and enlist the support of motorists to that end.

If parents tell their kids to stay on the sidewalk, not to cross in the middle of the block and to look both ways before crossing, the advice lasts until the ball is batted out of the lot. Then follows a dash across the street, a blast from a horn and disaster. The use of more judgment and less gas in Paterson streets where children play will go far to improve a bad situation.

PATERSON CAN FOLLOW

Belleville scored heavily in results with the theory that the best way to stop speeding is temporarily to stop the speeders. The recorder in that town suspended licenses of offending drivers. There are penalties on a mileage basis. For instance, a driver who exceeds the speed limit by 25 miles draws a suspension of 25 days and a fine of $25.

Naturally, speeders don't like it, but they must admit the plan has possibilities. It should hold true that you can't speed if you can't drive. It's an idea that is not copyrighted and open for adoption or improvement. Paterson should give it a trial!

LOW WORK WEEK RECORD

A 32½-hour work week was written into a labor agreement in New York recently and appears as the lowest work week yet. Included is a wage scale with no decrease in pay, but on the contrary a slight increase. This agreement affects cloak makers and employer associations in the metropolitan area.

Consenting to postpone the shorter week until 1939, when existing 35-hour week labor pacts in other districts shall have expired, the union leaders recognized the result that might follow to compel immediate recognition of the standard. However, employers in this area, will have to pay their help more—a 10 per cent rise for piece workers and $5 a week for regular workers. Both sides admit that a 3 to 5 per cent increase in production cost will result. Following will be a jump in retail cost, with better grade products absorbing most of the increases.

The union will extend its gains as fast as possible, but does itself credit by respecting present obligations. Whether reduced hours will give more persons work will depend on demand of production, governed by higher costs upon prices. Since the contract is for 3 years, we have a chance to see the relation of production and prices to employment and consumption.

A GRAND STATE

In spite of such incidental disadvantages as tax rates and annual overdoses of politics, our state is a most habitable one. Citizens may indulge in a bit of local pride about its recreational contributions to the more or less abundant life, without being tuffy about it. Nearby are the mountains, woods and seashore offering a choice of outdoor sport that is unsurpassed.

Golf courses are abundant. Trout and bass are almost as numerous as the anglers who rush quiet streams in quest of them. Countless thousands go to the beaches to swim or pose. The Delaware lures the canoeist and the camper. The Summer season, scarcely begun, shows a new revival of sailing along the coast, on the Hopatcong and allied lakes.

There are trim sneak boats, moths, comets and snipes. The crew that has been finding its pleasure in sail boats has no time for the noisier if swifter motors of the outboard or the sleek cruiser.

Sailing has become a grand sport in a state that is just oozing with opportunities for every recreation!

JUDGES AS WITNESSES

In the light of recent activities on the part of judges in the Parker trial, it appears that the judicial authorities would be justified in defining a code of conduct for the easy-going gentlemen appearing as character witnesses in criminal prosecutions. Judges and city officials appeared in this trial and were outwardly "good fellows" in the character witness line.

If these men wish to lend themselves as character witnesses, they ought to get off the bench and thereby put an end to this particular form of judicial exploitation indulged in mainly to overawe the jurors.

The Parker jury was not persuaded to find for the defendants by the array of judicial witnesses unearthed by the defense. All jurors will not stand up so well against the judicial lobby. Judges from other and superior courts, by taking the witness stand convey to more gullible jurors the impression that were the accused being tried in their courts he would be considered innocent. In brief, by telling what a fine fellow John Doe is, judges give John Doe a clean bill of health and thereby thwart the administration of justice.

If judges want the courts respected as they should be respected, they should voluntarily put a halt to this petty business. The Chancellor of the state and the Chief Justice would be justified in using their power, whether it be moral otherwise, if they do not end it.

As for the politicians, you needn't expect any better. This sort of business is their stock in trade and it will be tolerated just so long as public opinion puts up with it. Still, it is scandalous for judges to be utilized for such low purposes.

A REAL ESTATE BOOM?

The territory including South Bergen and Passaic County appears to be in the midst of a realty boom. In some instances reports have it that the realty business is paralleling the peak of 1928. The difficulty in finding ample homes, flats and apartments is very evident the entire section over.

The rapid upward trend in realty values can be attributed largely to the partial return of prosperity, though a pertinent factor is probably the efforts of officials in this territory to give taxpayers an economic and efficient administration.

The Clairvoyant

Though he is not literary, he is judicious... J. G. Lockhart

Freeholder Wardle filed his petition for mayor yesterday and now his headaches are about to start. In the event that he is beaten he will spoil his chances of advancing. His chances of election in the general election seem small while he might slide through the primary.

Former Sheriff Thomas E. Manly, M. D., is considering the advice of friends that he be a candidate for mayor. He is serious and will no doubt be in the race for the Democratic nomination and probably oppose Mayor Hinchliffe.

The oldest ladies' Democratic auxiliary, the Thomas Jefferson's are planning another of their famous boatrides for July 25.

The Charles V. Duffy league get together on Monday should prove interesting to those who attend. Refreshments and "eats" will no doubt be more interesting than the social program planned.

Alderman James "Nick" Kearney, already has two opponents for the primary election in Cosmo Dovidio and Dominic Scandella.

To date the 10th ward had but one candidate for alderman in Frank McElhattan.

George Dutcher, present Republican alderman of the Sixth is still unopposed. His Democratic opponent has as yet not been announced.

What prominent county official gets tips on the "gee gees" and has won considerable dough?

Republicans are up in arms since Mrs. Marjorie A. Sweetman received a State position. Many wonder why they too were not rewarded for a long period of service in the Republican party.

Friends of Charles K. Barton, police and fire commissioner are pleased to hear that he is recovering.

The Democrats are still without a ticket for the coming elections and now the county chairman without a care or worry has left for vacation.

The Central Republicans intend to remain on the firing line all summer. They are going to further arrangements for their outing on August 21, at Idlewild Park.

County Republican Leader Lloyd B. Marsh is on the receiving end for much criticism from the voters of the county.

Freeholder Robert Wardle is not anxious to make the run for mayor but he is of the opinion that he has been drafted to run.

Thomas F. Vigorito is still in the fight and has many friends going about boosting his chances.

Tommy Vigorito and Senator Powell are expected to upset the apple cart of the Republicans within the next few weeks.

Even the Clairvoyant has left the political and business scenes and is enjoying a honeymoon along the New England coast.

Former Recreation Commissioner Edward J. Cody is planning to take 1,000 children to the ball game in New York City with the aid of Alexander Hamilton Post, No. 139, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

While talking about the horses, we find that one can place bets about town much easier than ever.

Sheriff John A. Gavin has proven himself a good official in office and has made many friends. His fight for the men under him and return of their salaries has been one of the pleasing features of his administration and this was accomplished within his budget.

There will be many surprises in the coming elections. With both parties split open the results will be worth watching. First in the primary.

Passaic County lost a new jail. The WPA could have been secured to lend aid to save the county money but now that this branch of government relief is going out of existence the country will probably have to "stuck" the full expense at a later date on the taxpayers of the county.

For the next couple of weeks while the weather is real hot there will be very little political discussion.

Now comes the word that Sammy Raff will stick to writing politics instead of running for office. Wise man is this Mr. Raff.

New Jersey's Phone Pioneers Elected C. T. McNamara President

Carl T. McNamara, telephone company equipment superintendent in the Paterson area, has been elected president of New Jersey's Telephone Pioneers for the telephone. The New Jersey chapter was organized in 1921. Twenty one years of service in the industry are required for membership.

McNamara, who lives in Verona, will succeed Jesse A. Moir of Maplewood as president of the chapter. He has been district equipment superintendent for the Paterson area since 1930. He started his career as a public pay station operator in Newark, later going to Montclair, where he became wire chief.

During the War McNamara served in the Navy, and he is now commanding officer of the New Jersey Naval Militia in charge of the naval stations at Jersey City, Perth Amboy and Camden.

McNamara's election was announced today following State wide balloting by the 1,500 members of the H. G. McCully Chapter of Telephone Pioneers of America, who also selected three new vice presidents and four Executive Committee members.

Other officers elected were: vice presidents, F. M. Oliver, E. Orange; T. E. Merklinger, Newark; N. D. Pease, E. Orange; Executive Committee, E. McNaughton, Jr., Rosel

House Practical Of P. S. To Open In Sept., Remodeled

The House Practical of Public Service Electric and Gas Company, located at 70 Park Place, Newark, closed June 30 for remodeling and a new House Practical will open the latter part of September.

More than 130,000 persons have visited the house since its opening October 1, 1936. This number includes representatives of 375 Women's Clubs from Newark and near by towns.

The House Practical to be built for next year will be of Georgian architecture and the decorations and furnishings will have a new touch. The house will be of red brick with a delicately detailed main entrance and bay windows on either side. There will be nine rooms and basement, including a nursery, a sewing room, a dark room for developing moving pictures, and a specially designed playroom for showing them.

The dining room of the new House Practical will be particularly interesting. Three sides of the room will be finished with early American texture plastered walls and the fourth side with imported French wallpaper. The furnishings also are to be early American and will include a South Jersey table, a Pennsylvania dough box dresser and painted Dutch chairs.

Statistics released by our own Chamber of Commerce reveal that persons employed here rose from 24,524 in 1929 to 30,069 in 1937. And it was found too, that the payroll for the area increased from $31,771,642 in 1929 to $32,333,513 at the close of 1936.

Il Duce's Paper Scores Britain

Charges Britain And France Have Violated Spanish Pact

Benito Mussolini

The Milan Il Popolo D'Italia, Premier Mussolini's newspaper, attacked Great Britain and France this week accusing them of violation of the Spanish non-intervention accord. Il Popolo D'Italia is regarded as the Premier's favorite newspaper.

The editorial regarded as from the pen of Il Duce himself on account of its slashing style, termed English non-intervention "a fable in which only imbeciles can believe," and charged neutrality "never has been respected by France."

Great Britain, it declared, had furnished "the Reds" (the Valencia government) with "officers and soldiers, arms, airplanes and munitions" while recruiting stations for war volunteers "operated in Paris and other French cities under the warm and benevolent eyes of the popular Front police."

On the other hand, the editorial said, Italy had "frankly respected" the agreement since it went into effect last Fall.

LOUIS FIGHTS FARR IN FALL

Promoter M. Jacobs announced this week that Heavyweight champion Joe Louis will defend his newly acquired title against Tom Farr, wearer of the British and Empire crown, in the United States in August or September.

"Uncle" Mike came to an agreement with Farr's manager, Ted Broadribb, yesterday.

This agreement apparently killed England's last hopes of a Summer title fight between Farr and Max Schmeling.

Presence of former champion Jimmy Braddock and his manager Joe Gould in Jacob's office during the transatlantic negotiations yesterday led to the belief that Jacobs might be planning to match Farr with Braddock before he gave him a chance at Louis.

THE use of honey in jams, preserves and jellies offers many new and interesting possibilities. In some recipes all the sugar may be replaced by honey but, generally, finer texture and flavor are obtained if varying proportions of sugar and honey are used.

Honey varies in flavor with the type of flower from which the bee extracts the nectar. Some types of honey are very mild in flavor while others are spicy. The mild honeys are favored for use in jams and jellies while the spicy-flavored types give added zest to pickled fruits and preserves made of tart berries and fruits.

A few jars of the suggested preserves and jellies will make next winter's menus most pleasing to the family.

Sunshine Preserves

1. Allow one pound of honey for every pound of fresh fruit.
2. Mix and spread on platters.
3. Place platters in box slightly higher at back than front.
4. Cover with glass, place in sunshine.
5. Stir once each day. When thick, pack in sterilized jars and seal.

Apple, Peach or Pear Pickles
3 cups honey 2 cups water
3 cups vinegar 1 tsp. salt

Bring these ingredients to a boil. Add fruit and cook until tender. Pack in sterilized jars, cover with pickling syrup and seal.

For apples tie the spices (cloves and cinnamon) in cheesecloth sack and boil in pickling syrup.

For pears and peaches stick two or three whole cloves in the fruit and allow stick cinnamon to cook in the pickling syrup.

Orange Marmalade

3 medium sized oranges 1 cup water
2 cups honey 6 tbsp. lemon juice

$\frac{1}{4}$ cup liquid fruit pectin

Cut oranges in half and run through food chopper (fine knife). Measure and there should be from one and three-quarters to scant two cups ground orange (skin, pulp and all). Add water, simmer fifteen minutes after it has come to a good boil. Add honey, bring to a boil, simmer very slowly thirty minutes. Add lemon juice, add liquid pectin. Bring to full rolling boil and allow to boil thirty seconds. Remove from fire, skim by turns for about five minutes, during which time sufficient cooling takes place to prevent floating fruit. Pour quickly in sterilized glasses, cover with paraffin at once.

Crabapple, Plum, Quince or Currant Jelly

1 cup juice $\frac{1}{2}$ cup honey
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup sugar

Boil the juice for ten minutes. Add sugar, heat to the boiling point then add honey and cook until the temperature reaches 220 degrees or the jelly stage is reached. Skim and pour into hot sterilized glasses. Cover with paraffin.

Plum Jam

1 pt. plums $\frac{1}{2}$ cup honey
1 cup water $\frac{1}{2}$ cup sugar

Wash and prick plums. Remove stones. Cook plums in water until softened. Add sugar and honey and cook until clear and thick. Pour into sterilized jars and seal with paraffin.

At Paterson Stadium Every Tuesday LABOR ON MARCH TO BETTER TIMES

Increase in Men Most Marked in Heavy Industries Here

The first six months of 1937 showed that Labor was on the march to better times. There were widespread strikes, long interruptions of work, and internal strife. Nevertheless, the sharp increase in employment and payrolls, well under way in 1936, continued steadily into the new year.

A composite index for employment and payrolls in the manufacturing industries in the first 4 months of 1937 tells the story. Employment was up at least ten percent each month of January, February, March and April over the corresponding months of 1936. Payrolls were up from ten to 30 percent during the same months in comparison with those of 1936.

This is the composite of all manufacturing industries. The increases were sharper in the durable goods industries, machinery, shipbuilding, farm equipment, than elsewhere, for these industries found the heaviest replacement needs.

The course continued upward in May. There was considerable speculation, however, as to whether the steel strikes and other labor disputes, broadening out in June, had leveled off the upward trend.

The course of labor troubles has held to its historic course. Organized labor's strength declines in panics, holds on during the leanest years and builds anew during the revivals.

In the current upswing of the cycle begun in 1929 a further factor entered the scene, the John L. Lewis Committee for Industrial Organization, with its bitter opposition to the established American Federation of Labor.

The CIO carried its organizational campaign into such basic industries as steel, unchallenged since the strike of 1919, led by William Foster, and automobiles, rubber and electrical radio equipment.

The estimates of the National Industrial Conference Board show 45,900,000 persons employed in April in agricultural and non-agricultural pursuits, as compared with 47,360,000 in 1929.

Although manufacturing employment is above 1929, the April totals are behind 1929.

ICED TEA AND COFFEE FOR SUMMER DAYS

CHEF ERNEST MEYER of Essex House in New York City has gained year 'round fame for his cooking—and in summer he is especially noted for his iced tea and iced coffee. Making them by careful methods, he deprecates the weak liquid served on countless menus.

Each beverage, he says, should be freshly made, chilled in the electric refrigerator, and never diluted by a deluge of plain ice. Instead, for iced coffee he freezes coffee in the refrigerator tray. Then he pours chilled coffee over the frozen cubes which keep the drink at the same strength after it reaches the table. Iced tea must have a more delicate flavor and, as he prepares it, requires only one pale amber cube of frozen tea to keep it tasty.

This chef's recipes are advocated by Miss Frances Weedman, Director of Kelvin Kitchen, Nash-Kelvinator's home economics laboratory, as the perfect way to make iced tea and coffee.

Iced Tea
Chill freshly steeped tea in refrigerator shortly before serving. Fill tall glasses $\frac{3}{4}$ full of shaved ice cubes, pour chilled tea into glasses, and add one or two cubes of frozen tea. Serve with lemon, thinly sliced and halved, and sugar individually to taste. Frosted mint leaves look dainty and increase the fragrance of iced tea.

Iced Coffee
Into each glass put two frozen coffee cubes and a small quantity of crushed ice. Fill glass with strong, chilled coffee. Cream separates and curdles when mixed with iced coffee before serving; so always serve heavy cream and sugar separately to be added, as desired, to the iced beverage.

MISTER NUVOLARI

It followed a few of the other scribes down from the press rows to the crowd which was quickly forming about Dr. Giuseppe Farina and Tazio Nuvolari, the two crack Italian drivers in the Roosevelt Classic at Long Island Monday afternoon.

An interpreter for the two riders was a fellow reporter on the Il Progresso, New York Italian newspaper.

The first request from the crowd of admirers was for an autograph of the famous riders. At first they hesitated. But informed by the Progresso scribe that Americans won't stand being refused autographs, both riders obliged.

Nuvolari was still reluctant to sign, while Dr. Farina acquiesced with the finesse and grace of a finished Hollywood actor cornered by a horde of admirers almost anywhere.

I asked Nuvolari what his chances were for coping honors in the race. He was frank to admit the superiority of the German cars even before the race, but he believed that if he could get enough speed around the curves, he might be able to cop. Nuvolari reminded me that last year the picture was utterly different because he knew how superior were the Italian motors.

"Last year," Nuvolari said, "we coasted to victory. We know how good the Italian motors were. But this year, we know how good those German motors are."

His prediction was borne out in the running. Rosemeyer's bundle of speed couldn't be matched in the stretch. At the curves he could be seen seconds apart from his pursuers. But down the stretch, the story was entirely different, his speed chariot was faster than greased lightning down hill.

MEETING RALPH DE PALMA

One of the big stars at the race Monday was Ralph De Palma, veteran of the speedways and retired in the service of the Cadillac La Salle people, for whom he tours the country as a demonstrator.

Mr. De Palma had the race well sized up. Who should know better?

"How do you figure the race, Mr. De Palma?" I asked the grey-haired veteran.

"Well, son," he began, "if Nuvolari had a faster car I'm sure he'd be able to give Rosemeyer a run for his money. But as you know the highest speed Nuvolari can get out of his buggy is 138 miles an hour. And keeping that pressure on the car he's driving won't permit it to hold up for long. Rosemeyer's car is built for lightning speed and I think he's going to be a hard man to tag on the stretch."

If you read the accounts of the race, you can see how close was De Palma's prediction.

Weissman Hears Sentence Today

Disbarred Lawyer Faces 3 - Year Term For Fake Evidence Case

Judge J. Wallace Leyden in Special Sessions Court this morning is expected to sentence Irving Weissman, disbarred Passaic lawyer, for conspiring with six others to fake evidence in a $500 damage suit tried in East Rutherford District Court.

Weissman faces a maximum of three years in prison. He pleaded no defense to the charge a week ago while he was on trial.

The former lawyer represented Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Yacons, of 231 Summer Street, Passaic, in a suit against the Hackensack Arena. Mrs. Yacons fell while roller skating at the arena in March, 1936. In her suit she alleged serious injuries which she now says she did not receive. She said Weissman induced her to give the false testimony.

The Yacons and three others have admitted their guilt but have not been sentenced. The others are Mr. and Mrs. William Connolly and Mrs. Helen Soltis, all of Passaic.

A seventh defendant, Dr. Martin Nemirov, of Passaic, aided the State's case against Weissman last week. He will probably be tried during the September court term.

"A Family Affair" At U. S. Theater

Lionel Barrymore and a capable cast appear in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, "A Family Affair", which will open tomorrow at the U. S. Theater in Paterson, with "Forever Yours" starring Beniamino Gigli, who is acclaimed the world's greatest tenor.

"A Family Affair" is a strong story of life in any average small town in America. An old family, long respected in the community, comes to grief when an older married daughter indiscreetly gets involved with another man. At the same time the father, a courageous old county judge, returns a decision on a public project which is bitterly opposed by his townspeople.

Barrymore, as the justice, portrays the character with his usual depth of understanding and the supporting cast is admirable. Many of them appeared in "Ah Wilderness!" also produced by MGM. The cast includes Cecilia Parker, Eric Linden, Mickey Rooney, Charley Grapewin, Spring Byington, Julie Haydon and Sara Maden. George Seitz was the director.

When the family is caught in the shadow of grief and shame, it is the old judge who saves his daughter from marital disaster and restores himself in the eyes of his fellows by proving his decision.

Music lovers are scheduled for a real treat when "Forever Yours", the elaborately staged musical screen romance, sponsored by the Grand National is portrayed.

Hitherto, Beniamino Gigli's magnificent voice, regarded by many as the greatest since Caruso, has only been heard on the concert and operatic stage. Now for the first time it may be heard by screen audiences in selections from some of his greatest roles in opera and in song numbers, with a romantic story background, that will have a tremendous popular appeal.

3 Marx Bros. At Fabian Theater

Marxmania at its gayest is seen in "A Day At The Races" which opens tomorrow at the Fabian as the newest laugh extravaganza of that trio of uninhibited and imitable laughmakers, the Three Marx Brothers.

Groucho appears as Dr. Hugo Z. Hachenbush a veterinarian who takes charge of a sanitarium inherited with all its mortgages by Maureen O'Sullivan. There he endeavors to administer to human patients with the same delicate touch that held down draft horses in the throes of heaves. You can picture how delicate his touch is when he attempts to persuade Margaret Dumont, one of his patients, to swallow a pill the size of a hen's egg!

Harpo plays the role of a jockey who, in the hysterically exciting race at the conclusion of the picture, spurs his horse to win by showing the animal the photograph of a man whom the horse hates; Chico is seen as a somewhat shady gentleman of the race tracks who sells both ice cream cones and tips on horses, neither being of a high quality.

It would be futile to attempt to go into the story of a Marx Brothers epic; sufficient to say that the Maxes go to Maureen O'Sullivan's rescue when creditors attempt to take the sanitarium away from her, and they also aid in perfecting a tangled romance between Maureen and that talented young tenor, Allan Jones.

"Torture Money" is the title of another of the "Crime Does Not Pay" series that are getting more popular every day. This subject exposes the insurance racket.
