IF THOMAS F. VIGORITO, former naturalization clerk, gets the Democratic nod for county clerk, as it now appears likely, we'll find a most interesting set-up in the November election . . . Vigorito, if you recall, was a former Marsh henchman . . . as a matter of fact, he worked side by side with the present county clerk . . . as the opposition's candidate, his contest with Marsh will provide just about as hot a political feud as this county has ever seen.

A YEAR AGO, EVEN LESS than that, the likelihood of Vigorito opposing his former boss as a candidate in an election would have been labeled rather far-fetched . . . but politics, as many an observer before us has pointed out, is a game that is just about unequalled for unpredictable developments . . . Vigorito has risen rapidly in the ranks of the Democratic party and today is one of its most powerful figures . . . he has achieved a position that was denied him as a member of the opposition party despite the many years of loyal service he contributed to its cause.

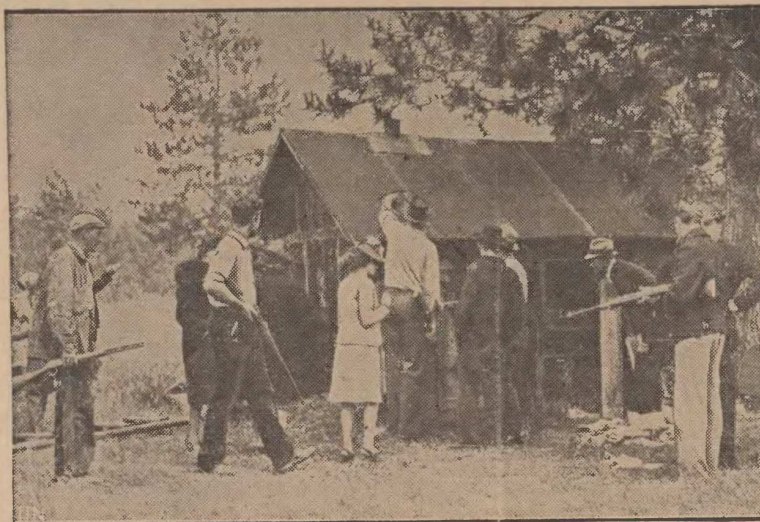

A FEW LINES BACK IN this column, we were commenting on the unpredictable nature of political events . . . and speaking of the devil, himself, here's another crazy-quilt development in the Democratic party . . . you'll see Mayor Stafford back again as county chairman when all the political decks are again cleared for action . . . what caused the crazy-quilt pattern was the topsy-turvy maneuvering of political strategists shortly after Mayor Stafford's resignation as county leader.

A TIP-OFF ON HOW MATTERS within the party stood was provided at that meeting of the city's Democratic ward leaders this week . . . when the only topic of conversation was the party leadership . . . with the eight ward leaders present voting to petition Stafford to step back into the chairmanship of the party . . . under the present set-up, the party cannot make any progress, since it is riddled with dissension . . . fence-straddlers, especially, have found the situation particularly trying and have looked quite, quite ridiculous in their aimless scramble for position.

THEREFORE, IT IS EVIDENT that Mayor Stafford will have to return to the party leadership in the interests of Democratic solidarity . . . he is just about the only man who could weld all dissenting factions together . . . a task, the accomplishment of which is an absolute necessity if the party is to wrest victory from the Republicans in the Fall . . . without

May Curtail 2,600 WPA, NYA Jobs

Shrinkage Of Funds Noted As Federal Fiscal Period Ends

Rumor 1,400 May Be Laid Off
By WPA And 1,200 May Lose
Youth Administration Posts

John J. Gilhooly, branch manager of the Paterson district of WPA, yesterday scoffed at rumors of wholesale lay-offs on local projects.

"Don't pay the slightest attention to those reports," Gilhooly urged. "They're just the result of malicious gossip."

Drastic curtailment of WPA and NYA employment was expected to take place here tomorrow as the fiscal year for the Federal government is about to close on June 30.

While there was no confirmation of reports that wholesale lay-offs would take place on local WPA projects, it was generally predicted that such would be the case since funds for both the WPA and the National Youth Administration are reported to be running low.

2,600 Affected

The rumors affected approximately 1,200 young people who, it is said, will have to be taken off the employment list as a result of the shrinkage in funds appropriated for this Federal agency, and some 1,400 employees of WPA projects in the Paterson district who will be laid off for the same reason.

Both the WPA and the NYA are the principal emergency employment agencies of the Federal government and have played an important part in reducing unemployment in Paterson and surrounding communities which include those in the counties of Passaic, Bergen, Sussex and Morris.

Funds Run Low

The possibility still loomed, however, that congress might make an emergency appropriation which would enable new projects to be set up here and which would make it possible to prevent an increase in unemployment figures for this area.

HOUSING NEED IS EVIDENT

With an opportunity for applying a remedy to the deplorable housing conditions in this city at a ridiculously low cost staring the city in the face, it is inconceivable that Paterson will wilfully throw away such a chance to ameliorate living conditions here.

Twenty-eight cities in the state of New Jersey have applied for and received funds earmarked for housing, but here in Paterson we find a group of slum-section landlords opposed to a local housing project—looking to the practicalities of today without any vision in respect to what such improvements will bring tomorrow.

How they can block such an improvement in the face of established statistics which depict clearly how neglected the low-income groups are in this city is beyond honest justification. Statistics taken in a survey made in 1934 show that ten percent of the housing facilities in this city are unfit for human habitation—that conditions in Paterson are among the worst in the country for a city its size—that approximately 1,000 families in this city do not even have bath facilities!

Even if the city had to bear the entire cost itself, a housing project should be undertaken in the name of humanity alone for it will mean the rehabilitation of more than 1,000 local families who have suffered because of the general economic depression of the last decade. It will mean better facilities for the raising of children, creation of a more wholesome environment, a decrease in crime, and beautification of the city which will raise real estate values and attract industry.

But the city will not have to pay more than a fraction of the cost of such a project. It now has the opportunity to avail itself of Federal funds for this purpose. Yet there are those who would prefer to see the housing problem fester and eventually be side-tracked.

If they succeed in their selfish purpose, we wonder how they can justify their obstructionist actions to the next generation for the miserable heritage they will have been instrumental in leaving it.

We find ourselves in complete agreement with the Dyers when they say that they want to see a good office-holder remain on the job for three and four terms. And thus, we echo their gentle admonition: "Take care of your health, Mr. President, and be prepared for a third term."

CENTENARIAN WISDOM

In 1922 the late Senator Cornelius Cole was 100 years old, and Los Angeles gave him a banquet, at which, his mind as alert as ever, he spoke.

He said, according to the Saturday Evening Post, that he had only one message for those present, and that it had been impressed on him through long experience: namely, that human liberties were won in this country at heavy sacrifice of blood and fortune; that liberty is easily lost; that we must be ready to fight again if necessary to keep it; that we must never suffer any man to arrogate to himself the powers of a king, emperor or dictator.

At that banquet was Paul G. Hoffman, now head of the Studebaker company. Speaking in New York recently, Mr. Hoffman recalled Senator Cole's statement, and said:

"We listened tolerantly because he was an old man, but privately most of us thought he was living in a world of ideas belonging wholly to the past. . . . What did an old man's warning have to do with us? We had just finished making the world safe for democracy.

"I have thought of that address a thousand times. The old senator was not in his dotage. It was we who were blind."

Mr. Hoffman is right. Today we find more sinister forces than ever before in the world's history at work attempting to undermine the foundations of liberty and freedom—synonymous with the meaning of democracy.

And unless we awaken to the peril and deal with it in the proper manner—while these influences are still without a foothold in this country, we may find it a more serious problem in the not so distant future—just as those who scoffed at Senator Cole in 1922 find his words to contain basic, imperishable truths today.

Swap Husbands, 14 Children and One Cow!

Mrs. Edith June, left, and Mrs. Mildred Davis

In an amazing exchange, Mrs. Edith June, 47-year-old grandmother, and Mrs. Mildred Davis, 27, friendly farm wives living near Columbiaville, Mich., swapped their husbands, divided 14 children and threw in a cow to boot so that the woman with the younger children could have enough milk to feed them. Mrs. June now is keeping house for George Davis, 45, and seven of her 12 children. Mrs. Davis is cooking for Clarence June, 24, four of her children and three of the June children. Two other June children are married. The two couples plan to get divorces and then marry.

Your editorial, "Unmitigated Blessing" in the June 22nd issue of "The Messenger", I think, sums up the feelings of most voters about the accomplishments of President Roosevelt in office.

The administration may have made some mistakes, but the many constructive laws passed will stand as monuments to the most intelligent administration this country has ever had.

ABOUT CAMPS

June 26, 1939

To the editor:

One of the most beneficial programs for social welfare in this city, it seems to me, is found in the various summer charity camps sponsored by local organizations, such as Camp Hope, Camp Christmas Seal, and the Y.M.C.A. and Y.M.H.A. camps.

They take care of hundreds of needy boys and girls in this city, but represent only a scratch on the surface of what can be done here. If the press would start a campaign to augment their facilities and finances, I think it would be doing a real social service to the community.

As We Like It

...by MILO

It's about time the little fellow in politics, who is on the way up, got a break in this column, so in today's short-short, we'll doff our cap to Bob Lobraico of the Ninth Ward Lobraicos.

You probably remember Bob Lobraico as the guy who used to toot the whistle at Paterson Panthers' football games a couple of seasons back and who officiated at contests of the Union City Rams of the American Football Association last season. An honest, straight-shooting official, Bob has a host of friends.

This year marked Bob's first fling at politics and it's a pretty healthy one, too. He has his eye on the Aldermanic post in the Ninth Ward and there is a strong likelihood that he may make it, too.

Backing him is the thriving and enthusiastic Bob Lobraico Association, the spirit and energy of which is not surpassed anywhere else in the city. Its members are out to put their standard-bearer over with a bang in November and the impressive turnout at its recent installation has given many a veteran food for thought.

Seek 3rd Term, Dyers' Union Urges F. D. R.

"Keep Healthy, Be Prepared" Is Its Appeal

Resolution Pledging Support Of Thousands Of Members Sent To President

In a telegram dispatched to President Franklin D. Roosevelt in Washington this week, the Federation of Dyers, Printers and Bleachers, which commands a large membership in this city, petitioned the chief executive of the nation to run for a third term in office and at the same time pledged its support to him.

Present Resolution

The message to President Roosevelt was in the form of a resolution and was signed by the Federation's chief officers. They are Joseph W. Knapik, president; Frank J. Benti, vice-president, and Vito Fritz, secretary-treasurer.

"As trade unionists," the message read, "we are not against our tried and trusted officials to run for a third and fourth term for any office. We judge our officers by the service they render us.

"You have served us well. We urge you to keep healthy and be prepared to serve us a third term."

The remainder of the telegram read:

"Whereas the Federation of Dyers, Printers and Bleachers of America, part of the Textile Workers' Union of America, C.I.O., in convention assembled is greatly aware of the forces of reaction who would, if given a chance, destroy all labor gains under your able leadership;

Praise Social Laws

"Whereas the dye workers who have benefitted from the various labor, social and other laws passed during your administration realize that in you we have a man, as President, who has great sympathy, understanding and courage to carry through a national program of recovery which will free our people from starvation and unemployment and will once again help to restore peace, security and freedom;

"Be it resolved that we workers who make up thousands of our citizens and voters pledge ourselves to support you in your efforts to further develop the New Deal program and we urge you, our friend and President, that if you are asked to run for a third term you should not refuse to serve us."

Political Figures Stud Sandy Hill Democrats' Installation Dinner

James V. Alois And Staff Take Office; Gavin O'Byrne Preside At Ceremonies

The Ninth Ward Sandy Hill Democratic Club held its installation dinner at Alois Grill last week with 225 friends and members of the Sandy Hill section of the city in attendance.

Sheriff John Gavin acted as toastmaster for the evening and State Committeeman Edward J. O'Byrne served as installing officer. Mayor Irving Watson of Haledon and a former old time resident of Sandy Hill spoke on his activities in the Sandy Hill section and was pleased to be present with his friends and school chums. Freeholder Ernest T. Scheideman, Captain James Smith of the Police Department, Thomas Vigorito, Theodore Rosenberg and Commissioner Jake Breslin congratulated the organization on its rapid strides and also lauded the members on their record in past elections.

Mayor Bernard L. Stafford, Postmaster Thomas L. Kelly, James J. Murner, Thomas Milson, Acting County Chairman; Anthony J. Grossi and August time M. King all sent telegrams wishing the organization success and also expressed regret at their inability to be present.

compact ranks, the election would be a shambles as far as Democratic chances are concerned.

DISSENSION, IN POLITICAL ranks, is largely a temporal affair . . . and there is virtually no situation which cannot be remedied by virtue of a few plain-spoken man-to-man talks pervaded by a spirit of compromise . . . not much unlike a family squabble, wonders can often be achieved if papa lets Johnny ride the bicycle for a few minutes instead of letting Willie have it all the time.

MAYOR STAFFORD HAS repeatedly illustrated his ability to deal with recalcitrants in an intelligent and fair fashion . . . for this reason, he is now generally regarded as the most enlightened leader the party has had in many years . . . and his reward, to compensate for the many headaches the job has provoked, has been the widespread and deep-seated esteem and respect in which all presently squabbling factions continue to hold him.

FABIAN

Bringing with them a "Tarzan, Junior", Johnny Weissmuller and Maureen O'Sullivan come to the Fabian theater today in "Tarzan Finds a Son", fourth of the famous jungle adventure romances based on the Edgar Rice Burroughs characters.

In the new story they find a wrecked plane in the jungle, and rear the baby which is the only survivor. The role is played by five-year-old Johnny Sheffield, America's most amazing boy athlete, who played the child in "On Borrowed Time" on the New York stage.

Matching the underworld bullet for bullet is a relatively minor assignment in the exacting duties of the policeman of today. That fact and others are on display in Universal's drama, "Inside Information", this week's co-feature picture with June Lang, Dick Foran, Harry Carey and Mary Carlisle featured.

Vitaphone presents a dramatic featurette entitled "Sons of Liberty" featuring Claude Rains, Gale Sondergaard, Donald Crisp, Montague Love, James Stephenson and Ted Osborne.

3-A Stars To Compete At Hinchliffe Stadium Friday

Side Glances

—by "YANK"

When Jackie "Kid" Berg blew into this section of the state a few weeks back to meet Garfield's high ranking lightweight star, "Tippy" Larkin, in the feature of the curtain-raising card at Belmont Park, he was hitting the skids so fast that compared to the shine on the seat of his pants the fancy lighting at the World's Fair looked like the feeble light of a glow-worm.

But today it's a different story, as the Belmont Park promoters themselves have found out. They got Berg to appear against Larkin for peanuts—little over $100 for a ten-round spin against a guy who had been hailed as a top-notch lightweight contender.

That's quite a come-down for a guy who once held the junior welterweight championship, and who had headlined Madison Square Garden cards for figures many times that price. You can imagine how desperate the British wind-mill must have been to agree to play the role of a stumble-bum for the local pride and joy.

But that Berg must have had something up his sleeve, else he wouldn't have been so eager to fight for such a paltry reward in such an obscure arena as that which is now the center of the fisticuff business at Garfield.

We have it from a reliable source that Berg was so confident that he would take Larkin's measure that he plunked his end of the purse down at odds of 6 to 1 on his chances of winning, and walked out of the arena not only with the prestige of a sensational upset victory to his credit, but a bankroll that approached something like the sum that the job he did was worth.

Today Berg is on a tour of the mid-west and doing nicely, thank you, while Friend Larkin is dithering around in Garfield waiting for his injured mitt to heal. Naturally, to the entrepreneurs at the Belmont arena, the only logical thing to do, now that a return bout between Larkin and Berg is out of the question for the time being, is to match Berg with Clifton's Johnny Rohrig.

But as matters now stand, the guy who leaped at the offer of $100 to step into the ring with Larkin is acting a little independently about terms for facing the Flying Dutchman from Clifton. And you can't blame him much. It's poetic justice if we ever saw it.

MEET MUD HENS

The Roovan A. A. will travel to Mountain View Friday night to take on the Mud Hens in a softball game.

Smart Sets To Meet Red Sox, 20th Centuries

The Paterson Colored Smart Sets will open their twilight baseball season at Hinchliffe stadium tonight when they meet the powerful Chevrolet Red Sox in a seven-inning tilt.

The Smart Sets will rely upon Alexander Newkirk, ace elbow-er, to turn back the Sox who are now in third place in the Paterson and District Baseball league. Bob "Spooks" Smith will do the receiving.

Facing the colored club which has won seven of nine games this season will be either Jackie Eelman or Joe McNally on the mound with George Simmons catching.

The Smart Sets will be at home in Hinchliffe stadium again on Sunday afternoon when they meet the Twentieth Century Club of Garfield.

4 Tilts On Tap In Suburban League

Four contests are scheduled during the remainder of the week in the Suburban baseball league, according to the schedule released Monday.

Rough Evening For The Champ

Although conked on the button twice by Tony "Cheerful Little Beerful" Galento's ponderous fists, Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis nevertheless came through to victory in another of his numerous title defenses at the Yankee Stadium last night. It was a close call, Louis hitting the canvas on one occasion, but the champ came through in fine style to kayo the Beer Barrel That Walks Like A Man.

Wrights To Meet New York Black Crusaders At Eastside

Game Tops Fine Card Of Semi-Pro Baseball Games Scheduled For Week-End

Heavy firing is scheduled in independent semi-pro baseball ranks once more over the week-end with several interesting contests listed on the program for that period.

On Saturday, the Mountain View Oval will be the scene of a clash between the Wardles and the Midland Park Rangers. On the same afternoon the Hawthorne Rotarians will travel to Pompton Plains to meet the Pompton Plains A. C.

Sunday's schedule is even more attractive with the Wright Aeros playing at Eastside Park against the New York Black Crusaders in the feature home game of the afternoon. The remainder of the schedule for the day finds local clubs exclusively on the road.

The Wardles will travel to Closter where they will conclude an extremely busy week of campaigning, and Pine Brook will play the Crescents at Wyckoff while Uncle Sam's Bees round out the day's card by meeting the Tuxedo club in a game that will be played at Tuxedo, N. Y.

Lure Of Cash Prizes Attracts Crack Drivers

Paterson's Own Bob Sall Entered In Midget Car Derby; No Races July 4th

Thrilled over the lightning-fast surface and enthusiastic audience reaction at the new midget auto racetrack pitched in the Hinchliffe City Stadium, leading 3-A stars will compete in another meet there Friday night.

Promoter John Kochman has announced that there will be no race program at Paterson on next Tuesday, July 4. As a result, Friday's meet will find all the drivers seeking to make up for lost time by carrying off all the prize money they can capture in this appearance.

Carl Hattel, popular West Coast driver will be one of the aces in this meet and is determined to break into the top-bracket of the speedsters who are competing on the Kochman oval over the fifth-of-a-mile distance. Off to a poor start this season, the Pacific product aims to break through in his next time out and he promises to be an extremely stubborn obstacle.

Other drivers set to bid for lucre and laurels at the Stadium are Wes Saegesser, one-armed star; new favorites Walt Fusco and Harry Felton, Ernie Gesell, Red Redmond, Jack Moon, Len Duncan, Frankie Bailey, Honey Purick, Bob Sall, Jim Forte, Babe Bower, and Mike Joseph among others. In addition, several of the top-notchers who have been appearing in a special meeting in Chicago are expected back for this program.

Rec Loop Entries Face Busy Card

A full calendar of games will be played in the various softball leagues being sponsored by the city's department of recreation tonight and Friday night, it was announced this week.

Teams in the Industrial division as well as in the "A" and "B" divisions of the softball circuit will see action at that time.

LEAD THE LEAGUE

Leadership in the People's Park Softball league was held at the start of this week by the Wardle Clowns with 9 victories and 3 defeats.

THEATRICAL NEWS

Behind the Scenes in HOLLYWOOD

By HARRISON CARROLL

Copyright, 1939
King Features Syndicate, Inc.
HOLLYWOOD—After a series of romantic but unprofitable investments, it looks as if Errol Flynn really may cash in on the short subjects featuring Howard Hill, the archer. If the rest are as good as the first two, it's claimed that Flynn may get anywhere from $50,000 to $100,000 out of the venture.

The Irish star has rounded up a pusher type plane, which he will pilot for the next short, while Hill, in a front cockpit, will kill wild fowl in the air with a bow and arrow. For good measure, they also hope to shoot a few coyotes from the plane.

Errol Flynn

Better keep an eye on the Ann Sheridan-Johnny Conte romance. After this pair left the House of Murphy the other night, the waiter found one of Murphy's souvenir postcards which Ann had addressed:

"Johnny Conte, care of Ann Sheridan, Warner Brothers studio."

A bit of lowdown for you. . . Paramount has changed the script of "Death of a Champion" because of pressure from the Tailwaggers' organization. This story originally called for scenes dealing with the murder of a blue ribbon pooch at a dog show. The studio contacted the Tailwaggers to get the dogs needed for the picture, but the organization said "nothing doing" . . . "too harrowing for dog lovers." . . . So the script now will eliminate the scenes. The murder will be established in dialogue.

One of the biggest laughs in "Daughters Courageous" is where Claude Rains says:

"Nobody will be home until morning. They've all gone to a double feature."

Evidently, Warner brothers meant that recent blast against the dual bills.

Too bad some of Hollywood's other youngsters don't take a tip from Jackie Cooper. He gets around to the night clubs, usually with Pat Stewart, but his mother still insists on a midnight curfew.

Most promising sign, though, is Jackie's own attitude.

"She's right," he says, "I'm still a kid. People might think I'm a fresh punk if I stayed out late."

"No polo until the picture is over," is R-K-O's ultimatum to Tim Holt, who gets his best break to date in "My Fifth Avenue Girl." The studio isn't being unreasonable. . . Young Holt carries silver wires in his jaw from a polo accident of a little more than a year ago.

You'll hardly know Marjorie Rambeau, she's so thin. Saw her the other day, for the first time in months, on "The Rains Came" set. She dropped 52 pounds in 11 weeks on a diet supplied by the same doctor who took so much tonnage off Jack Oakie. Says her weight never varies now more than two pounds . . . and that it isn't tough to keep it that way.

If you can believe Paulette Goddard, now working in "The Women," Charlie Chaplin has ordered the Ghetto sets for "The Dictator," and definitely expects to start production on the comedy soon. Paulette says the disappointing box office returns on "Confessions of a Nazi Spy" don't worry Charlie, as his picture isn't anti-Nazi . . . only uses dictators as an excuse for laughs. She points out that they also told Charlie he couldn't use the World war as a background for laughs. And look what "Shoulder Arms" did.

At the age of a year and a half, Bela Lugosi's youngster is visiting the dentist. He fell while trying to climb out of his wire-enclosed pen and chipped off his front teeth. . . Few know it but the reason Helen Morgan has been ducking out between shows at Marcel's is to be with her adopted daughter, who has been ill. . . The Perc Westmore (Gloria Dixon) are inviting their whole wedding party to the celebration of their first anniversary . . . and are asking them to come in the same clothes that they wore to the ceremony. . . Warner Brothers shot three versions of the big scene between Bette Davis and Miriam Hopkins in "The Old Maid." Sneak previews will determine which one gets into the final cut of the picture. . . Dolores Del Rio says that Vera Zorina didn't start the no-fingernail-polish fad in Hollywood . . . that she hasn't worn any for a long time. . . How time flies note: Gene Raymond and Jeanette MacDonald have been married for two years.

RIVOLI

A love triangle in swingtime is the theme of "Naughty But Nice," Warner Bros.' novel musical comedy opening at the Rivoli theater. Ann Sheridan, Dick Powell and Gale Page headline the cast and are the parties of the hilarious triangle, with plenty of additional comedy provided by Helen Broderick, Allen Jenkins, Ronald Reagan, Zasu Pitts, Maxie Rosenbloom and Jerry Colonna.

Harry Warren and Al Dubin penned the four hit tunes, with acknowledgments to Richard Wagner, Franz Liszt, Wolfgang Mozart and Johannes Sebastian Bach. The strictly live numbers (which are already being heard over the air-waves) are "Corn Pickin'," "Hooray For Spinach," "I'm Happy About The Whole Thing," and "In A Moment of Weakness."

The most famous broadcast scare of the century—the Orson Welles Martian invasion—serves as the basis for the climax of Republic's "SAS—Tidal Wave," which also is at the Rivoli theater.

REGENCY

Myrna Loy and Robert Taylor are seen in the feature attraction of the bill now playing at the Regent theater. It is their latest hit, "Lucky Night" one of the finest either star has played in.

A new program will come to the Regent Saturday and play through Monday. It consists of "Ex-Champ" with Victor McLaglen, and "Union Pacific" with Barbara Stanwyck and Joel McCrea.
