Early draft Pres Comm Release

TENTATIVE PLAN FOR ORGANIZATION OF
 PRESIDENT'S COMMITTEE FOR HUNGARIAN REFUGEE RELIEF

This would be a non-governmental committee.

Funds for the expenses of the committee would be raised privately, and it would not use any money collected for Hungarian refugee relief.

It would have a head office in Washington, not in government space.
 It would have a branch office at Camp Kilmer, where most of the work would be done.

It would have a representative in Austria who would be working with the American Ambassador.

It would be the machinery which I was directed by the President to set up for coordination of the efforts of the various voluntary agencies and the coordination of their work with that of governmental agencies. It would also make recommendations as to steps which may be necessary for the government or governmental agencies to take.

December 10, 1956

The President today announced creation of "The President's Committee for Hungarian Refugee Relief".

In recently appointing Tracy S. Voorhees as his representative in connection with Hungarian refugee relief and resettlement activities, the President directed him, among other duties, to assure full coordination of the work of the voluntary agencies with each other and with the government agencies involved, and to see that effective machinery is promptly set up for this purpose. Acting upon Mr. Voorhees' recommendation that the best organization to accomplish this is a small group of persons actively interested in this field of endeavor, including representatives of the ~~three~~ principal religious faiths currently concerned with this problem, the President today appointed the Committee with the following initial membership:

Lewis W. Douglas, Honorary Chairman X

Tracy S. Voorhees, Chairman X

J. Lawton Collins, Vice Chairman and Director X

William Hallam Tuck, Vice Chairman X

Alfred M. Gruenther X

Lewis Hoskins

Mrs. John C. Hughes

William J. Donovan, Counsel X

In addition to its coordinating functions, the Committee will be a focal point to which offers of assistance to refugees, such as jobs, homes and educational opportunities can be directed and referred to the appropriate agencies.

The functions of the Committee, the President said, will not include fund raising, nor will they impinge upon "the devoted work of the various religious and other voluntary groups already so inspiringly engaged in practical relief work for the refugees". On the contrary, the Committee's function will be to assist such voluntary efforts in every way possible.

The Committee will have a head office in Washington and an office at Camp Kilmer, where much of the work will be done in close contact with the voluntary agencies. Mr. Tuck will be the Committee's representative in Austria acting in a liaison capacity with the American Ambassador Llewelyn E. Thompson.

The members of the Committee will serve without compensation. No expenses of the Committee will be paid from any funds raised for Hungarian refugee relief.

It is not the function of the President's Committee to raise funds. The Committee, after an initial study of the situation, unanimously approved and supported the policy already in effect under which the refugees coming to the United States are all brought to the Joyce Kilmer Reception Center at Elizabeth, New Jersey. FUNCTIONS OF THE PRESIDENT'S COMMITTEE

On December 12, 1956, President Eisenhower announced the creation of The President's Committee for Hungarian Refugee Relief.

Functions of this Committee include assisting in every way possible the various religious and other voluntary agencies engaged in work for Hungarian refugees, and coordinating their efforts, with special emphasis on those activities of the agencies related to resettlement of the refugees. To this end, the President's Committee serves as a focal point to which offers of homes and jobs may come and be made available in the most effective manner for use by the different voluntary groups.

The Committee also seeks to coordinate the efforts of the voluntary agencies with the work of the interested government departments. While the resettlement task has constituted the most immediate area in which coordination was needed, the Committee is also laying a foundation for coordination of the work of U. S. agencies being conducted in Austria for the Hungarian refugees.

It is not the function of the President's Committee to raise funds. The Committee, after an initial study of the situation, unanimously concurred in and supported the policy already in effect under which the refugees coming to the United States are all brought to the Joyce Kilmer Reception Center at Kilmer, New Jersey. There, the Army houses and feeds them, and if necessary, provides hospitalization and gives them any medical and dental care immediately requisite.

Organization and Administration of The President's Committee at Kilmer

There are 22 government and voluntary agencies participating in the refugee reception and resettlement program at Kilmer. These agencies are independent of one another and are directly responsible to their own individual headquarters located, as to the voluntary agencies, for the most part in New York and, as to the government agencies and the Red Cross, in Washington. In order to improve coordination of the work of these many separate groups, all of which are performing most useful and indeed essential services, they have agreed, on recommendation of The President's Committee, on an organizational plan for the Kilmer operation which is already in effect. This is shown on Chart 1 which follows. The President's Committee's work at Kilmer is under the functional administration of Leo C. Beebe, Vice Chairman of the Committee. He reports directly to General J. Lawton Collins, Ret., Vice Chairman and Director of the Committee, at the Washington office at 1413 K Street, N. W.

Reporting directly to Mr. Beebe are three executives, one of whom works with the government agencies directly concerned with the resettlement program; another with the voluntary agencies sponsoring the refugees; and a third with a group of cooperating agencies not directly concerned with sponsoring refugees.

In addition to these three agency coordinators, Mr. Beebe is assisted by four principal staff departments -- Public Information, Administrative Services, Data Processing Services, and Educational Services -- that provide essential facilities and services for the operation of the Center.

Reception and Resettlement Procedure at Kilmer

Refugees arriving in the United States by ship and airplane are transported immediately to the Joyce Kilmer Refugee Reception Center. There they are provided with temporary housing and given necessary clothing, practically all of which is privately contributed. After receiving a careful medical examination by doctors of the U. S. Public Health Service, they are interviewed by the United States Customs, and by immigrant inspectors of the Immigration and Naturalization Service. Hospital and medical care are provided as required. The refugees are then interviewed by representatives of the United States Employment Service, who determine their occupation, education, and skills, and their housing requirements. All the information obtained in the foregoing steps is appropriately catalogued for subsequent use.

Meanwhile throughout the United States, interested individuals, firms, voluntary organizations, and church groups are locating available jobs and housing facilities, and are incorporating them in offers of sponsorship. These offers are funneled to Kilmer to the President's Committee for distribution among the accredited sponsoring agencies, or they come directly to the latter.

Individuals and organizations offering jobs or homes are asked not to come personally to the Kilmer Center to make such offers. Careful and effective resettlement requirements in such large numbers make it impractical for the public to interview and carry away individuals hastily on any impromptu basis. To be intelligently utilized, such offers should be made in writing to the President's Committee at the Joyce Kilmer Reception Center, Kilmer, New Jersey, where, by the use of IBM machine processes, the offers will be matched with the vocational and other pertinent qualifications of the refugees.

The facts concerning the job offer and the immigrant's qualifications and desires concerning resettlement are then matched through the IBM machines and a resulting "Suggested Disposition for Employment and/or Housing" form is prepared and given to the sponsoring agency concerned with the refugee to enable prompt utilization of offers of help from individuals, industries, and communities. Flow charts 2, 3, and 4, which are reproduced herein describe the process.

Personal interviews with the refugee by representatives of the respective agencies sponsoring them then follow to insure the best possible matching of abilities and needs and the satisfaction both of the refugee, and those making the offers to take them.

Appended hereto are copies of the printed forms "Offer of Housing and/or Employment" and "Position Classification Form" which are used in this matching process.

It will materially facilitate the resettlement if all job and housing offers are initially submitted on the above Housing and Employment Form, so that we can at once get them on the machine cards copies. They are available in any desired number at the President's Committee office in Washington.

There are a few categories of refugees for whom special placement machinery has been provided for use when the usual placement efforts of the voluntary agencies cannot adequately meet a particular situation. These include:

Medical Cases -- Provision has been made by the Public Health Service for those who will require hospitalization after their departure from the Reception Center. State hospitals have made beds and services available to augment those in federal institutions. The families of hospitalized patients will be provided jobs and housing in the general vicinity of the hospitals.

Scientists -- Interviewers have been instructed to single out scientists and to notify the National Research Council of the National Academy of Sciences of their availability for appropriate employment.

Doctors of Medicine -- In like manner, doctors of medicine are referred to the American Medical Association for professional placement.

Students -- Of the first 21,500 refugees, the President's Committee estimates that there will be included about 2,000 students; many of these are university students and include many students of very promising ability.

Dr. John A. Krout, a member of the President's Committee and also Provost of Columbia University, has agreed to act as a sub-committee of one, assisted by the Institute for International Education and World University Service to assure appropriate educational opportunities for this group, and to make the best possible use of the many generous offers of scholarships which have been received from educational institutions throughout the country.

Accordingly, offers of scholarship assistance should be addressed directly to Dr. John A. Krout, Columbia University, New York City.

The Governors of all the states are being asked to create or to continue committees to coordinate resettlement efforts in their own state -- either directly or through creation of Mayor's Committees in the principal cities.

EXPEDITING RESETTLEMENT

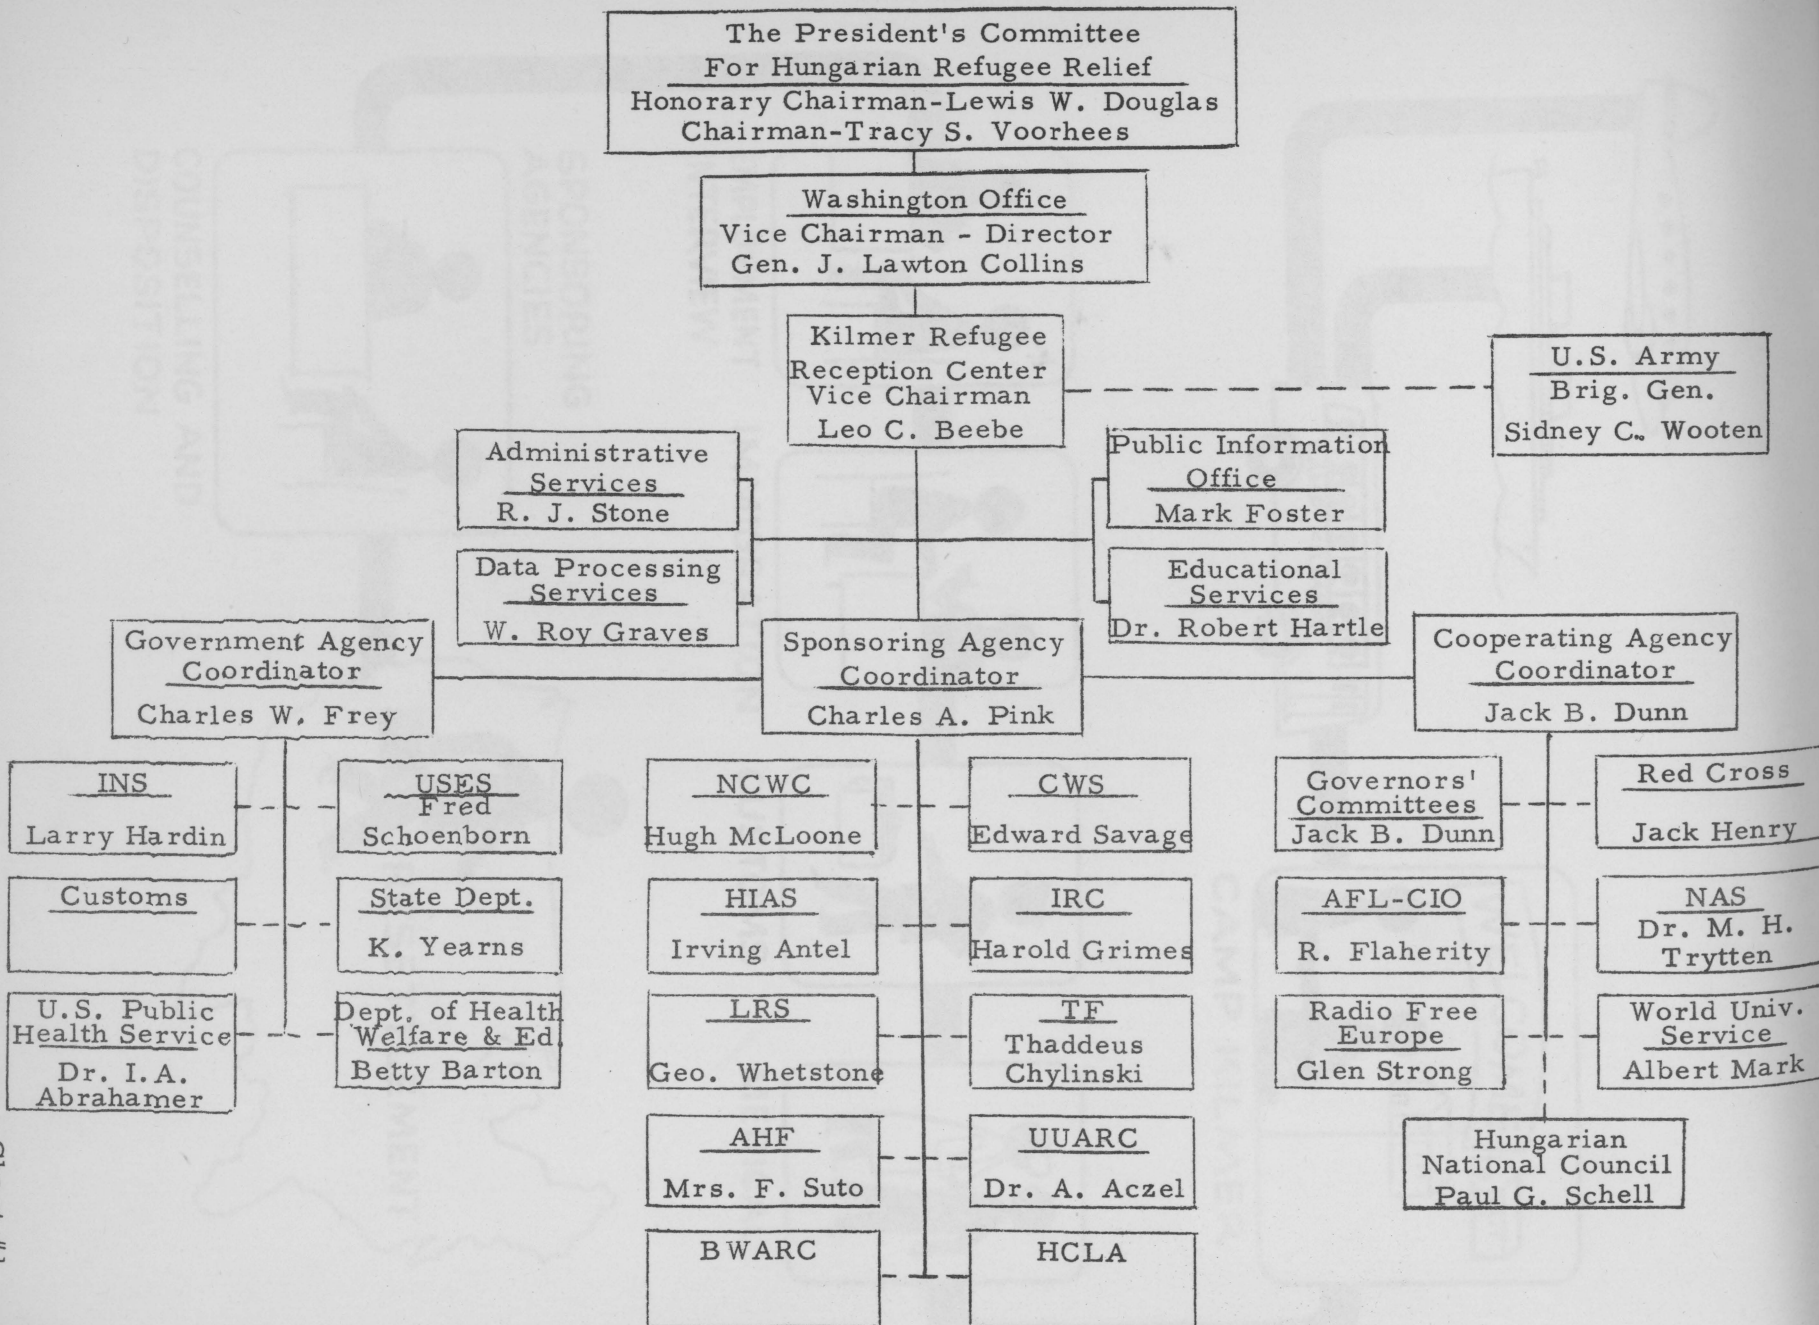

Although in the first week of December the average number of refugees resettled per day was only about 100, improved procedures, governmental and private, have already resulted in increasing this figure to about 450 per day. Accordingly, it is not expected, even with the arrivals of the anticipated ocean lift in January (numbering approximately 5,000), that the facilities and operations at the Joyce Kilmer Reception Center will be overtaxed. Nevertheless, the need for vigorous resettlement efforts remains. As all media of communication are being utilized to inform public and private agencies concerning procedures for offering aid to the refugees, the increasingly efficient marshalling of homes, jobs, and educational facilities will progressively enable us to meet the needs of the refugees without lost motion.

PUBLIC CONTRIBUTIONS FOR REFUGEE RELIEF

Many individuals have asked the President's Committee where donations for Hungarian relief may be sent. There are a number of highly reputable religious and other voluntary organizations engaged in this work. Contributions to any of them will be well used.

If for any reason a donor does not wish to give directly to any of them, the American Council of Voluntary Agencies for Foreign Service, Inc.,

20 West 40th Street, New York 18, New York, has a special committee of private citizens, none of whom are members of the Council or any of its agencies, which is prepared to allocate equitably gifts received by the Council among the various responsible voluntary agencies engaging in Hungarian relief, including agencies which are not members of the Council. The Council will report these allocations monthly to the President's Committee. Any contributions received by the President's Committee for Hungarian Refugee Relief are transferred to the American Council for such allocation. However, the President's Committee asks that contributions not be made to it, as it is not engaged in fund raising.

January 28, 1957

Dear Mr. Voorhees:

On December 12, 1956, the President created the President's Committee for Hungarian Refugee Relief, and appointed the members of that Committee.

The Committee's functions are (1) to assure full coordination of the work of the voluntary agencies operating in this field both with each other and with the Government agencies concerned, (2) to act as a focal point to which offers of assistance to refugees, such as jobs, homes, and educational opportunities can be directed and referred to the appropriate agencies, and (3) to support in every way possible the various religious and other voluntary groups which are engaged in work for these refugees.

It is apparent that this Committee is an official ad hoc committee having both governmental and eleemosynary functions. While its functions do not include fund raising, there is nothing that would prevent the Committee from receiving donations for its necessary expenses from charitable corporations such as, for example, The Rockefeller Foundation.

Sincerely,

Gerald D. Morgan

THE PRESIDENT'S COMMITTEE FOR HUNGARIAN REFUGEE RELIEF

March 8, 1957

Dear Walter:

You may have thought that I must have died since I postponed for so long communicating with you further concerning your generous contribution of $1000, which you later of your own initiative raised to $2500, from The Maguire Foundation for use of The President's Committee for Hungarian Refugee Relief.

The reason for my delay was that the Rockefeller Foundation, which voted a very substantial gift to the Committee, felt that it should have a ruling, or at least a letter, from the Bureau of Internal Revenue to make certain that there would not be criticism later of the tax exempt status of the Foundation if it made this contribution. Accordingly, I felt that the Maguire Foundation should have similar protection, and so deferred asking you for the payment until this matter was straightened out.

While neither Mr. Morgan, the President's Special Counsel, nor Mr. Scribner, General Counsel to the Secretary of the Treasury, thought any real question existed, we did ask for a ruling from the Bureau to satisfy Rockefeller. Due to the normal processes of the Bureau it took some time to get this. I have now received it and enclose a copy.

This precedent therefore definitely covers The Maguire Foundation, and I am using it myself as the justification for a contribution of $1500 which our own little family charitable corporation is making to The President's Committee from funds derived from a generous and, like yours, unsolicited gift from a friend of mine.

As our Committee has been somewhat embarrassed due to the delay in getting the ruling, and therefore in obtaining the funds from the Rockefeller Foundation, I am very glad to have this situation cleared up so that we can, without risk of loss of tax exempt status to anyone, get the necessary funds in.

With your contribution together with that coming through our family charitable corporation and the Rockefeller Foundation gift, we have $39,000 of the $40,000 figure needed, and I can readily obtain the balance.

While this was being straightened out, I held the $1000 check which you sent with your letter of December 3rd, and this check is therefore enclosed herewith. I should appreciate it if you would have the new check drawn to the order of "The President's Committee for Hungarian Refugee Relief."

Let me thank you again for your generous willingness to help. As the emergency phase of the work for which the President called me to the White House has now passed, I terminated my White House post last week. However, we are continuing The President's Committee for a reasonable further interval as it is still performing a most useful service. As my letter to the President is in the nature of a brief report on the situation, I thought you might be interested in it, and enclose a copy of it and his reply.

I am also sending to you separately a copy of a brochure describing the work of the Committee at Kilmer, which I thought would be of interest to you.

May I ask that any mail be addressed to me at the Washington Office of the Committee?

With my sincere gratitude to you,

Yours faithfully,

[SIGNED

April 9, 1957

Dear Walter:

On my return from a short trip to Europe in connection with work for the Department of Defense, I found your very kind letter of March 25 enclosing check of the Maguire Foundation, Inc. for $2,500 to The President's Committee for Hungarian Refugee Relief.

I cannot tell you how much I appreciate this. Your contribution, together with that of the Rockefeller Foundation and that of another personal friend like yourself whose gift was also unsolicited, made possible the public relations work which formed such a big part in our success in the resettlement of these refugees.

A meeting last week with the Chairmen of the Governors' Committees for Refugees from twenty-nine states, which have in total accepted over 91% of the refugees, indicated what a good job of resettlement had been done.

I am distressed, as I know you are, by the news of the very serious illness of Bill Donovan. He has been a perfectly wonderful friend to me, and I felt very deeply the bad news as to his condition which I received on returning home the other day and talking with Mrs. Donovan.

Again with my thanks to you,

Yours faithfully,
SIGNED
