Wright Employees Sign New Contract

GOP Lack Votes In Conference Old Agreement Expires Tuesday

With the Hague influence hovering over the Assembly and the absence of lame duck assemblymen at tomorrow's session of the Assembly, a lack of Republican votes is evident in the fight to pass the Hudson County court bills which were approved in the Senate on November 13th. A conference on or promises of them. The question will be taken up again at Friday of Republican leaders failed to produce the votes tomorrow morning's caucus.

The bills would take most of the criminal jurisdiction from Hudson County police courts and place it in four district criminal court judges named by the Legislature.

GOP Favor Bills

H. Alexander Smith, chairman of the Republican State Committee, and other leaders favor the bills, but the campaign carried on by Mayor Hague has caused House members to act cautiously.

Smith and Senator Hendrickson of Gloucester are trying to get support for the measures on the basis their purpose is merely to meet the Supreme Court's objection to the law which set up the courts. The court held the district judges did not have the exclusive jurisdiction the Legislature attempted to give them, and the purpose of the bills is to take jurisdiction from the police courts.

Hague Charges Hang

Smith also feels that if the Republicans back down on the measures there may be charges that Hague intimidated them.

Sentiment for withholding action on the bills to give counties and municipalities $5,000,000 highway funds developed at the conference. Although there is still a strong faction attempting to get approval, Smith and other leaders feel it would be best to wait until the 1942 session convenes before passing out such subsidies.

Spent Money Wisely

It was indicated that if the fund measures are approved they may carry amendments to require the counties and municipalities to reduce local tax rates to the same extent that the "windfall from the state benefits them." The freeholders it was reported, are against such amendments, contending they should be trusted to spend the money wisely.

The bills provide $3,000,000 for counties and $2,000,000 for municipalities. In their present form the money could be spent for almost any purpose.

Limit Non-Defense Funds

Smith feels the Legislature should limit all non-defense spending and that there may be claim other than those of the counties and municipalities which should be heard before the money is allocated. He mentioned schools as a possible claimant.

Referring to non-defense spending, Smith said he felt the full impact of defense taxes will be felt in March and that it is up to state and local government to curtail spending so taxpayers will have a chance to meet higher income levies.

Lou Costello And Partner Break Records

Movie teams come and go in Hollywood but Lou Costello, Paterson's contribution to the silver screen, and Bud Abbott, who have posted box-office records from coast to coast, bid fair to outlive them all.

Abbott and Costello leaped into cinema fame with their first picture, "Buck Privates." East succeeding film has clinched their hold on the public's fancy.

Even such a potent footlight team as Olsen and Johnson headline comedians for more than a quarter of a century, met with indifferent success

GOV CHARLES EDISON

The Chief Executive of the State held a long luncheon conference at his home with H. Alexander Smith, Republican State chairman. While neither would reveal the subject of the discussion, it is reported that they talked about the Hudson County court bills now before the Assembly for consideration.

Hoffman For Senator Gets Local Support

Among the speculations in Trenton is whether or not Harold Hoffman will run for the Republican nomination for United States Senator in 1942.

The former governor would not comment on the reports that he seeks the candidacy, but rumor has it that he has many followers in Paterson and vicinity who will back him whenever he chooses to run.

He is at present executive director of the Unemployment Compensation Commission. His only political defeat was suffered in 1939 when he was defeated in the gubernatorial race.

From reliable sources, The Sunday Chronicle learned yesterday that the Wright Aeronautical Corporation management has reached a new agreement with the 20,000 employees of the five plants located in the City. The old contract expires on Tuesday with the Wright Aeronautical Employees' Association as the bargaining body for the workers in the new negotiations. The new contract, scheduled for official announcement this week, calls for either a 10 per cent raise or a 10 cents an hour increase for all employees.

In the event that no agreement can be reached by Tuesday, the old contract will remain in force for thirty days as there is a month's grace period at the termination of the current contract. The workers and management have always maintained pleasant relationships so there is little doubt that the new contract will be turned down in any way.

The boost in wages will in no way effect the special bonus paid the Wright workers, it was pointed out. When the contract is made public, it will also stipulate a new arrangement whereby all workers will be upgraded according to the length of service and merit.

Shift Rotation Proposal

The one item which held up the adoption of the agreement was the rotation of shifts proposal which was placed before the Wright management by the Grievance Committee of the workers' group. It was finally agreed that nothing can be done at the present time to grant request of the members of the second and third shifts who had drawn up a petition at the last public meeting of the Association held at the Paterson Armory on October 26. With the five plants taxed to capacity in turning out engines in the defense program, the Wright officials opined that it was not advisable to experiment with rotation of shifts as the new change might hinder production.

The announcement made last week, as reported exclusively by The Sunday Chronicle, drew quite a bit of comment from the second and third shift workers who were disappointed to hear that their shift plan had been flatly turned down. The company officials withheld announcement of the new contract until this all-important question was solved or adjusted in some manner. After a meeting held this past Friday with the members of the Grievance Committee, the workers' representatives agreed with the management on their stand to postpone any action on the shift rotations.

Officials Clarify Issue

The situation was clarified in an official notice posted on all department bulletin boards. Signed by P. B. Taylor, assistant general manager, the notice gave a detailed report on the reasons for the postponement of the shift plan.

The new arrangement was also explained how the men would be upgraded.

Mr. Taylor pointed out that hereafter all new men hired on first shifts would be transferred to either the second or third shifts after their period of training has ended. Another operator, equally qualified, would then take his place. That this situation would prevail with men hired within the last two years was not decided at press time.

Preference Given

If any vacancies exist in the 8:10 A. M. to 4 P. M. first shift, men from the second or third shift will get the preference. Seniority men from the second or third shifts will be transferred from time to time to the first shift.

As it was previously indicated, the company cannot at this time attempt any wholesale changes without jeopardizing production which must be uninterrupted. Voluntary shift changes, however, will be permitted among machine operators on the three shifts provided they are approved by the department head.

New Traffic Set-Up Starts Tomorrow

Several new traffic developments will go into effect tomorrow morning to insure smoother flowing traffic and greater public convenience in the midtown shopping areas in time for the unprecedented Christmas rush.

Parking meters are being removed from certain congested blocks and no parking ruling will be enforced. Double parking and tailboard loading is tabooed and other similar traffic moves are being projected.

Commissioner Joseph C. Bamford, president of the Fire and Police Commission, is in charge of the municipal traffic survey being conducted by Ernest P. Goodrich, prominent traffic engineer.

"Public safety demands the program of traffic control revision in the City's midtown area," said Commissioner Bamford. "Our action is designed for the benefit of the shopping public and merchants. It is only with wholehearted public co-operation that our plans will meet with success."

Special green, unfixable summonses will be issued by the alert police officers who will be on the lookout for traffic violators, especially those breaking the no double parking rule.

Commissioner Bamford told a Chronicle interviewer yesterday that during shopping hours when the rush is at a peak, the midtown streets are congested to a point that public safety is endangered.

"In the event of such emergencies as fires, it would be difficult for fire apparatus to get through under circumstances when minutes and seconds mean control of a great fire or catastrophe," warned the Commissioner. "Inability of ambulances to get through might result in similar unspeakable tragedies. This is indeed a situation that calls for concerted public action in co-operation with the local police."

COSTELLO & ABBOTT BREAK ALL RECORDS

Moran and Mack, Laurel and Hardy, Dane and Arthur, McLaglen and Lowe, Sidney and Murray were hit teams in their day. But their success was interrupted by extended absences from the screen, death and drops in box-office.

Arthur Lubin, director of five Abbott and Costello films, said that the pictures were popular because different locales were used for each film.

"We've had to vary the backgrounds for each Abbott and Costello feature," says Director Lubin. "First, an Army picture, then a Navy film, a mystery, a Western and Flying story. Our next will be a South Sea island story, and from then on it will be a really decided problem to find a new background."

Heroine

Pretty Nancy Douglass plays "Molly Stark," heroine of Owen Wister's novel "The Virginian," dramatized currently on "Stories America Loves," on Columbia network. Born in Blomington, Indiana, Miss Douglass made her stage debut in Cleveland, Ohio, in 1932, broke into radio in Chicago in 1936. She came to New York in 1940 and has been busy with radio ever since. Her only ambition besides acting used to be school teaching. She now combines the two, for "Molly Stark" is a school teacher.

OFFER PRAYERS FOR BISHOP MCLAUGHLIN

Prayers for the speedy recovery of the Most Rev. Bishop Thomas H. McLaughlin will be asked today in all the churches of the Diocese of Paterson.

PATERSON Merry-Go-Round

Week-ends may come,
Week-ends may go,
But there's very little about Paterson,
That we don't know

Local draftee prospects had better enjoy the forthcoming holidays in the view of the recent Washington announcement which predicts a sharp upturn in the rate service inductions. This is all due to the Army's announced plans to expand land and air forces to some 2,000,000 officers and men. . . . MARIE KLEBER THIENES, Clifton mezzo-soprano, scored a personal triumph in singing the leading and title role of "Carmen" at the Eastside High School auditorium on Friday night. . . . Bravo, Mme. Thienes. . . . JOE SPROVIERE, local attorney who is one of the defendants in the so-called "mud-circular" case, showed that he wasn't worried about the outcome of the case by providing all the laughs at that dinner held during the past week in honor of Deputy Police Chief STEVE JORLETT who observed his 30th anniversary as a member of the local police force. The local barrister proved to be the entertainment hit of the evening. . . .

MEMBERS OF the Fourth Estate throughout the County will be guests of honor at a pre-Christmas cocktail party to be sponsored by the Propeller Division of the Curtiss-Wright Corporation at the Hamilton Club next Friday. . . . HARRY GROSSMAN, of the Paterson News reportorial staff, ghosted-dits the Clifton Journal, leading weekly of that City published by MAX KROLL. . . . RECOMMENDED — If you like your movies with plenty of excitement and mystery, don't fail to see "LADIES IN RETIREMENT" with Ida Lupino and Louis Hayward now playing at the U.S. Theatre. . . . Associate feature is "Two Latins From Manhattan" with Jinx Falkenburg and Joan Davis. . . .

Eastside High's celebrated backfield duo, LARRY DOBY and AL KACHADURIAN, made the second-team backfield at halfback and fullback respectively on the New York World-Telegram's annual All-Metropolitan football team selections picked by Lou Miller, Scholastic sports editor of that paper. . . . The "V for Victory" game which has supplanted the outlawed game of Bingo in an experimentation at Cleveland Ohio is soon destined to get a try-out in this City. . . . The game, as described by persons familiar with it, differs only in that cards instead of grains of corn are used and that when a row has been filled, players shout "Victory!" instead of the usual "Bingo!"

RABBI MAX RAISIN of Barnert Temple will be feted this evening at the Jewish Center, 152 Van Houten Street, on the occasion of his twentieth anniversary as head of the Barnert congregation. . . . Prominent Rabbis and Christian ministers will be on hand to pay tribute to the local Rabbi. . . . JOE WILD, son of Police Lieutenant Eugene Wild, was elected president of the freshmen class at St. Bonaventure College, Allegheny, N. Y., where he is studying medicine. . . . Outstanding among the local yuletide program being planned by City groups in the City is the ambitious project undertaken by the Paterson Woman's Club of which Mrs. BILL GRIFFIN, Jr., is drama chairman in charge of Christmas arrangements. . . . Members of the Kappa Tau Sigma Sorority will hold a winter formal dance at the Park Central Hotel, Newark on Saturday, Dec. 27th. . . .

Congratulations are in order for the following six Patersonians who were among the 48 throughout the State who qualified in the October examination for licenses to practice medicine and surgery in New Jersey: Simeon Siegel, 594 Twentieth Avenue; Donald W. Morrison, Paterson General Hospital; Joseph Sarokhan, 137 Knickerbocker Avenue; Theodore F. Zmigrodski, St. Joseph's Hospital; Alex Hochman, 260 Hamilton Avenue; Arnold Korman, 402 Ninth Avenue. . . .

BERTRAM H. SAUNDEIS, Ho-Ho-Kus Bleachery proxy and a director of the Paterson Chamber of Commerce, was re-elected vice-president of the Regional Plan Association at a meeting of the group held in New York City during the past week. . . . Defense production and post-defense welfare in this area were the subject discussed by the group. . . . The Christmas trees have made their appearance in Paterson as is customary at this time of the year. . . . It is noted that prices for the trees are remarkably higher. . . . Retail dealers are paying $3 and $3.25 for a bundle as against $2 and $2.50 last season. . . . There usually are between five and seven trees in a bundle. . . . VIC TURI of Paterson who is now quartered at Camp Blanding, Florida, was recently promoted to the rank of corporal in Headquarters Battery, First Battalion, 35th Field Artillery regiment. . . . Corporal Turi was inducted into the Army last May 8th via the draft. . . .

P. S. There are only thirteen (13) shopping days left in which to make your Christmas gift purchases so hurry. . . . hurry. . . . and avoid the usual last-minute rush. . . . And don't forget to buy your share of Christmas Seals!!!

Christmas Seals help support the Cardiac Clinics in Passaic County where over 1,100 patients were treated this year.

The Yellow Jackets are prepared for a hard, gruelling fight. With a team made up of many former Villanova players, they have been winning their games to continue that growing victory string. All their backs are products of the Penn school with many standout performers on the squad. Former Villanova players in their lineup are Jerry Neri, Al Sindall, John Gogolinski, Art Raimo, Harvey Buek, Tom McMahon, Sam Monaca, Bill Romanowski, John Howlett, and Jordan Oliver.

Oliver, playing strong coach of the team, is at tackle and is one of the aces in the team's strong line which also finds such bulwarks as Bob Hunt, Adam Shorriak, Perry Scott, John Munchak and Hal Undike. Scott and Munchak won little All-American honors.

Members of the football teams of the Central, Eastside and East Rutherford high schools to be the guests of the Panthers today. Between the halves, Mayor Wm. P. Furrey will present trophies won by the bands and marching units of these schools at the recent competitions.

The Panthers will have as their guests the football squads of the following high schools; Central, Eastside, Hawthorne, East Rutherford, Passaic, Garfield, Clifton, Passaic Valley Regional, Butler, Pompton Lakes, Ridgewood, Hackensack, Ramsey, Dover, Boonton, Bloomfield, Nutley, Verona and Montclair.

Coach Dale Burnett is determined to bring his Panthers out of this game victorious. The team is still chagrined over the tough game dropped at Wilmington last week and the players and mentor are anxious to resume their winning traits. The playoffs are coming up and the club means business.

REPORT NOVEMBER BANK CLEARINGS

Hostess Action

Despite warnings issued by the Excise Commission, several taverns and night-clubs in the City have deliberately employed hostesses to solicit drinks from male patrons. It was gratifying to learn that some action has been taken on this important situation during the past week when the A.B.C. agents invaded several spots in the City and nabbed several hostesses in an "all-out" raid against the harpies who have come to Paterson.

The hostess problem has been more pressing in recent months due to the activity in Paterson's vital defense area. Wherever there is a traffic of money, these hostesses will prey. It is for this reason that Paterson enforcement authorities have been plagued by the unwelcome female parasites.

How about the local gendarmes lending a hand in this clean-up campaign? With so many policemen elevated to sergeant, lieutenant and captain posts, surely there can be a better supervision. An eternal vigilance must be maintained lest this hostess racket become a sore spot in the City.

The SUNDAY CHRONICLE has for many months championed the cause of better taverns and night-clubs in Paterson without the presence of these social parasites. Let's all cooperate in ridding our City of all hostesses.

Traffic Congestion

From time to time, we have pointed out the crying need for an improvement in the City's traffic congestion, particularly in the busy downtown shopping area. It is with pleasure that we learn the adoption of several new traffic changes which go into effect tomorrow.

Conceived at this time of the year when the holiday shopping rush is at its peak, the new traffic set-up will be very welcomed by all concerned.

Here's hoping that the new traffic routine will be permanent and that other improvements made in the immediate future.

The citizens, especially the car operators, should pay strict attention to the new regulations. Let's make Paterson a safe city for pedestrians and motorists alike.

Timely Warning

Paterson police officials yesterday issued a timely warning to local merchants and store managers to prevent the continuance of a budding crime wave in this vicinity. Two hold-ups, one in Clifton and the other in Preakness, have led to the adoption of precautionary measures by the local gendarmes.

With the holiday shopping season causing a wide traffic of money in Paterson's many merchandise mart's, the police have sought means to nip the crime wave in the bud. The co-operation of all concerned will help to make the plans of the police a great deal easier.

Police Chief James Walker opines that there cannot be no excuse for any successful hold-ups in the City as reserve officers of the police department are always on hand for guard duty to anyone in the City who has large sums of money to transport from one place to another or who keep a large sum of money on hand to cash the checks of defense and other workers in this area.

It is only natural for the hold-up men to concentrate their activities in this section with the huge sums of money circulating about due to the higher wage wages paid defense workers and the ever-increasing number of workers.

The oft-repeated axiom, "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," holds true in this matter. Persons handling large sums of money should call police headquarters whenever they feel that a guard is needed. In this way, the bandits will be frustrated.

Disillusion

The late-lamented gas "shortage" which blew up and broke right in the very red face of Mr. Harold Ickes, its father and inventor, left a particularly bad taste in the collective mouth of the nation. Instead of bringing the necessity for care and economy in the use of basic materials home to John Q. Public and his motoring wife, the gigantic fizzle served to disillusion the public. If there were to be an actual need for reducing the consumption of gasoline at some future date, it will be indeed difficult to obtain the wholehearted co-operation of the vast majority of people. They won't scare easily again to the cry of "wolf."

Now another disillusioning activity of those, who would bring home the need for conservation, has come to our attention. A bulletin, recently sent out, with a request that it be conspicuously posted, serves to enlist the aid of all in saving paper and paper products. The poster states that "A Million Tons of Paper (is) Needed For Each Five Million Dollars for Defense," and lists various government paper requirements, all of which lead to condition which is "rapidly becoming critical," according to the poster.

In the first place, if we take the original statement, that a million tons of paper is needed for each five million dollars for defense, and if we assume that paper costs only five cents a pound and we grant that the conditions made in the statement are correct, the total cost of paper alone during our defense spending would amount to one hundred and sixty billion dollars. In other words according to the circular's figures, if we spend $8,000,000,000 (as we will) for defense the paper cost will be $160,000,000,000 additional! Ever hear anything more ridiculous... more asinine?

The poster asserts that "100,000,000 pounds of paper (is needed) for soldier's handbooks." If the statement is correct, each soldier would have to cart around fifty pounds of handbooks. A Webster's New International Dictionary contains 2,736 pages. It is 9x12 inches by 5 inches thick. It weighs fifteen pounds... therefore each soldier would have to carry the equivalent of more than three dictionaries.

It is exaggerated, or purposely false statements of this kind that make us lose faith in what's going on in Washington today.

OUR TOWN

WE COMMENCE our column this week with something of a sermon which we hope will not fall on deaf ears... We believe in speeders being fined, ordinance violators punished, thieves imprisoned, and murderers sent to the Big house, etc. and also in "mud circular" authors being brought to justice...

However, we cannot for the life of us see what earthly good it will do the community to continue publicizing the "mud circular" case... Representing nothing but "personal prosecution" as others have dubbed the entire issue, the attack definitely has been over played in the public press... It's been several weeks since the election, and the case still occupies page one on the local dailies... Splashed throughout the columns of the daily press and featured by banner headlines, the local publishers have almost continuously hammered at this issue... It seems to be almost in a tone of telling the people of Paterson what to do and what to expect.

THE ALLEGED ATTACK upon Mayor Furrey at election time may have been sensational at that time, but it's stale news right now... Our President has been the subject of more vicious attacks such as being called "Rosenfeld" several years ago, but the F.B.I. weren't sent out to ferret out the persons who damaged the president's good name... They took it from whence it came and continue on their more important task of bringing saboteurs and arch criminals to justice...

It has always been our belief that the Grand Jury, a body of 23 men and women, was a body constituted for the purpose of bringing probable offenders to court for trial... The Grand Jury is sworn to conduct its business and hear evidence being bound to secrecy. The jury members are prohibited to reveal anything that transpires in their weekly sessions...

YET, OUR DAILIES take delight in giving prominent space to the "mud circular" case by using the following journalistic phrases: "pointed out," "reported," and "indicated". In ten cases out of ten, the stories are later found to be true... How come the leakage?... Where does it originate?... In this particular instance, the Grand Jury action will not become a matter of public record until it is reported to the court, yet the newspapers carry headlines which foreshadow the action of the Grand Jury... Something's amiss somewhere... While we're at this job of investigating, wouldn't it be funny if there was an investigation of the Grand Jury.

From Trenton comes word that Lloyd B. Marsh, Passaic County Republican leader, hopes to have a candidate for the governor's chair in 1943... Who this person is not known yet, but the philanthropic Mr. Marsh is ready to let Essex or Bergen Counties have the GOP nomination for United States Senator next year with the slight proviso that they will not go after the governorship in 1943...

IN A CIRCULAR printed on antique-finish paper stock with distinctive type, the New Jersey Committee for Court Reform, a predominantly Republican group, informs the public that Senate Bills No. 460 and 468 are sound and constructive and should become law... These two bills are more familiarly known as the "Hudson County court bills" which hope to take the authority away from the local courts and place them in the hands of the Criminal District Courts... Which was distributed in Paterson and vicinity, target of the circular, was Mayor Hague, the perennial nemesis of the Republican party...

With the possible exception of several additional plans, all of the necessary papers in the matter of the proposed low-cost housing and slum-clearance project in Paterson are now in Washington where they are being considered by the U.S. Housing Authority representatives... If the plans are needed, early action on the housing project will be forthcoming before the end of this month... In Washington for the Municipal Law Convention, City Counsel John F. Evans is taking time out from convention duties to give the local matter a little push...

Advancing the theory that within the next ten years, additional housing units are likely to be granted Paterson, those in the know are talking in terms of $6,000,000 for the City's grant instead of the $1,500,000, the sum asked for in the original grant now being considered...
