Bureau Boom Not Gun Shot Say Officials

Two conflicting reports of a shooting in the Paterson Detective Bureau were in circulation yesterday, although both Police Commissioner John W. Kent and Chief James Walker denied knowledge of the purported incidents.

The stories were confirmed, however, by sources close to the Bureau and despite the conflict in the reasons for the shooting there was agreement that a shot had been fired. As either one of them is ample confirmation of last week's story here that turbulent conditions exist within the Bureau, THE SUNDAY CHRONICLE feels justified in airing both versions as a public duty.

Version No. 1 is that a member of the plainclothes force, slightly inebriated and feeling his oats as well as an urge to play Dick Tracy, pulled out his gun and let fire with one shot to awaken slumbering men on the night shift around 2 a. m., recently. Fortunately, the detective was sober enough to direct his shot away from his fellow workers.

The second story is a triangle that started out as a "rib" and wound up by one of the trio reaching for his hip in the best accepted manner and firing a shot at the feet of another detective. The third member of the group is said to have been pushed around quite a bit, and not in fun either, because of certain remarks involving the honesty and ability of another.

In tracking down the reports, the CHRONICLE reporter had little difficulty in getting men close to the Police Department to "spill the beans", and the reporter is confident that these men are not the type to bear false tales.

Whether or not they had received second hand accounts could not be determined, although this possibility was explored. However, all of them are in a position to know what happened — if it did.

TIME CHANGES IN EAST TODAY

The person who went to sleep last night and forgot to turn his watch or clock FORWARD one hour may very well miss church services and other important engagements unless the oversight is remedied. For, by proclamation of Mayor William P. Furey and Governor Charles Edison, as well as municipal and state officials in the East, this section of the country on Eastern Daylight Saving Time at 2 a. m. this morning.

Local taverns expelled their customers an hour earlier than usual because of the sudden jump at 2 a. m. to the regular curfew of 3 a. m., and while there was grumbling from the die-hards, owners who remembered that last September they got an extra hour of business did not complain very much.

Originally intended as a war measure, Daylight Saving has become established in the last 20 years as a boon to workers during the summer months, for in that way the day shifts get an extra hour of sunshine. There have been attempts to maintain the hour-forward plan of the clock all year around, but labor has blocked that since it would send many men to work while it was still dark, particularly during the winter months.

Churchill To Reply To Critics Today

London — Prime Minister Winston Churchill will broadcast a speech at 9 p. m. (4 p. m. EDT) today.

It was assumed that Churchill would review the war in Greece and the Mediterranean generally and possibly reply to critics of the British campaign in Greece.

All outlets of the British Broadcasting Company at home and overseas, will broadcast the speech.

The program will be broadcast over major radio networks in the United States. Metropolitan New York and vicinity will hear Prime Minister Churchill over Stations WEF, WOR, WJZ, and WABC at 4 p. m. Daylight Saving Time.

BULLETINS

London — Britain, defeated in the Battle of the Balkans, hurried soldiers and arms to the danger zones of Suez and Gibraltar and braced herself for extension of the air battles of London and Berlin.

"The main theatre of war remains the British Isles and their maritime approaches", a reliable source declared, but he indicated Britain was rallying strength for the immediate task of holding the eastern and western ends of the Mediterranean lifelines, as well as in the Atlantic.

Athens — The British Imperial Expeditionary Force was fighting its last battle of the Greek campaign tonight in the storied mountains on the northern shores of the Gulf of Corinth.

City's Licensing Powers Upheld

Bolstered by a decision of the Court of Error and Appeals upholding a New Brunswick ordinance imposing license fees on super markets, members of the Board of Aldermen were said yesterday to be preparing further legislation to cover stores here.

At present, only the Big Bear is paying fees — of $1300 a year — under the local ordinance which requires a payment for every concession in a super-market, which is defined as a store with four or more concessions.

HOLD ROONEY FOR ATTEMPTED ASSAULT ON GIRL

Twenty-two year old John Rooney, 177 Crooks avenue, was in a police cell last night awaiting arraignment in Police Court tomorrow on a charge that he attempted to criminally assault a young girl yesterday.

Rooney was arrested by Sergeant Simpson of the Detective Bureau following a complaint by Mrs. Lucille Belfi, of 198 Crooks avenue.

SLIGHT BLAZES BRING FIREMEN

Firemen were kept busy hustling to fires just out of business area shortly before 10 o'clock last night, but neither of the two alarm resulted in damage of any extent.

Chimney trouble in the building at 162 River street, occupied by Ben Stinky and owned by Isadore Klenert, brought engines, police and a large crowd to the scene but the small blaze which caused no loss was quickly stifled.

Soon after engines were called out to 369 Summer street, where R. H. Gardner was boiling coffee over his oil stove. The sight of smoke by the overflowing pot caused a passerby to ring an alarm, but here again there was no damage.

SHED BURNS

Dry wood burned rapidly and destructively yesterday afternoon, destroying a woodshed in the rear of a home occupied by John Clark at 116 Nagle street. The shed was of little value.

In the New Brunswick case, the Court upheld the fixing of a $500 fee for each concessionaire above two renting from operators of a food store. This was attacked by the American Grocery Company, which is the Big Bear in the retail field, on the grounds that it was deprived of its business, property and liberty due process of law.

It was submitted that the ordinance was passed in bad faith, not as a revenue measure but in the interest of certain retail merchants to thwart competition. Ironically enough, the tax is no longer being collected in New Brunswick because the Big Bear eliminated all concessions and is now only conducting a food business.

Since the passage ordinance over the protests of the Big Bear proprietors, efforts have been made in a quiet way to bring other super-markets into the same category, since many authorities are of the belief that Paterson taxpayers would gain considerably if other stores in the super-market class were licensed in the same way.

The present trend to super markets has caused the small retailers a great deal of anxiety, and while there has been great pressure against passage of an all-covering ordinance which would bring the other big concerns into the tax field in the same way as the Big Bear, they were said yesterday to have been greatly encouraged by the decision of the Errors and Appeals court.

1940 Relief Bills Must Be Paid by June, State Rules

A letter over the signature of Charles R. Erdman, Jr., Director of the Municipal Aid Administration, has been mailed to all mayors or chairmen of township committees, to the chief financial officers, and to the overseers of the poor or directors of welfare of all municipalities in New Jersey notifying them that his administration will not consider any 1940 commitments unless paid by June 1, 1941, and unless an audited report of such payments is filed with his office on or before June 15, 1941.

Mr. Erdman, in other words, is allowing the municipalities five full months in which to clean up their commitments for 1940, and an additional two weeks to file their reports with the Municipal Aid Administration. No one can complain that Mr. Erdman has not given the municipalities ample time to close their 1940 books and report, and if any of them, thru failure to meet the deadlines of June 1 and June 15, should receive less State aid in 1941 than they would otherwise be entitled to, they will have no one but themselves to blame.

Miss Boyle, Retired Principal Succumbs

Miss Minnie E. Boyle, member of an old Paterson family, and retired principal of School No. 22, died yesterday morning at her home 820 Madison avenue.

Miss Boyle had been in poor health for some time, and had been seriously ill for two weeks.

She was born in Paterson, daughter of the late Nathaniel and Ellen Boyle, in what is now the St. John's Cathedral parish. Educated in the public schools of the city, she served as critic teacher in the Paterson State Normal School for a number of years, previous to her appointment as principal of School 22.

She served the Paterson school system more than ten years, and retired about seven years ago.

Miss Boyle was a member of St. Joseph's Altar Society, the Paterson Teachers' Association, the Mt. Carmel Guild, and was active in many other organizations prior to her illness.

Surviving are two brothers, Charles and Nathaniel, both of Paterson.

Funeral arrangements will be made by John J. Feeney.

Pica Club Diners Miss Mayor Furrey

Newspaper men, assisted by professional actors and a director, provided some 200 guests at the annual Gridiron Dinner of the Pica Club with some interesting political lampoons at the Hamilton Club last night.

Although practically every one of importance in county and city politics and business was present at the off-the-record show, Mayor William P. Furrey was among the few missing and his absence caused considerable surprise. There was a skit satirizing the present administration, but this was not believed to be the reason for the Mayor's failure to appear as it was of a mild nature.

The recent gambling probe, City Hall and Court House activities were among the issues presented in a light vein by the actors.

The law covering the fiscal program for relief in New Jersey, approved by Governor Edison, provides that the cost of a municipality's relief in the preceding year is to be used as the basis for establishing the State's share of the cost for the current year.

The law provides further that authority to determine the actual cost of relief in each municipality is vested in the Director of the Municipal Aid Administration. In order to fix the exact amount of this cost, however, it is obvious that municipalities must discharge their commitments for the preceding year and render an accounting to the State office.

Parochial Bus Bill Cost Data Sought

Trenton — Assemblywoman Sanford of Essex, chairman of the House education committee, asked State Education Commissioner Elliott today to compile data on the cost to the state of the parochial school bus bill. The committee will conduct a public hearing on the measure Friday.

Citing contradictory claims for the bill, Mrs. Sanford asked Elliott to estimate the probable cost and also to report whether public schools could absorb the parochial school populations. One of the arguments advanced for the bill is that without parochial schools public education costs would increase materially.

Mrs. Sanford asked for the data on the basis her committee "is anxious to decide this question in the best interest of all concerned".

Mrs. Sanford wrote:

"The proponents of this bill, in their petition which they have presented with many signatures, claim there would be no additional cost involved. Those groups which do not favor the bill believe that it will cost at least several hundred thousand dollars. In order that our committee may have before it accurate statistics on what additional cost, if any, would be involved, may I respectfully request that your department make this survey and report your finding to us at the earliest possible moment".

Mrs. Sanford, member of the Nutley school board, asked Elliott to report district by district the effect on the public school system if parochial schools were closed.

She said there has been a steady decline in public enrollment the last five years with many class rooms not filled to capacity.

Bill To Create Toll Parkways Will Be Moved

Trenton — Assemblyman Glickhaus of Essex may seek a House vote next week on his measure creating a four-member State Parkway Authority to construct and operate toll parkways in New Jersey.

Under the legislation, which has tentative approval of Governor Edison, a four-member authority would be appointed by the Governor with Senate confirmation. The board would be bipartisan. Members would serve, six-year terms at $3,500 annually. Members could be removed by the Senate on charges after a hearing and the state highway commissioner would be a member ex officio, but with no voting power except in case of a tie.

The authority would have power to acquire land, construct parkways, levy tolls and issue bonds for maintenance and operation of the roads. Each bond would be backed by the parkway tolls alone and would carry a statement that the state's credit was in no way involved. A $25,000 appropriation would be provided for initial expenses.

Employers Relax Age Restrictions

The Social Security Board reports a study of labor shortages showed New Jersey employers "are tending to relax their former specifications regarding upper age limits, previous experience and training, recency of employment, WPA status, and education. There is some willingness to employ women on jobs in which men were formerly preferred, and to retain women employees who marry". But "there does not yet appear to be any marked tendency to relax color and religious restrictions."

Restriction of recent origin, the report said, "which may be regarded as temporary, arises from the reluctance of some employers to hire men of draft age," particularly single men between 21 and 25. The report said "employers are refusing to hire 'non-citizens'—going far beyond the legal requirements fixed by the government—in industries indirectly or closely related to defense—and even among industries remotely associated with the actual production of finished defense goods".

The survey reports 72,300 alien men out of a total of 617,000 male employees in New Jersey manufacturing and mechanical occupations, representing 11.7 percent of the total number of workers—or approximately one alien for every eight workers.

Petty Gamblers Fined In Punchboard Cases

New Jersey Welcomes V.F.W. Commander

Dr. Joseph C. Menendez of New Orleans, national commander of Veterans of Foreign Wars, yesterday was welcomed to New Jersey by Mayor Ellenstein, of Newark. Dr. Menendez made Newark his first stop on an official state visit. The commander was met on Pulaski Skyway by a police motor cycle escort which preceded him to City Hall.

Dr. Menendez said his organization seeks to achieve three goals; protection of America; protection and promotion of Americanism, and protection for America's defenders, the nation's war veterans and their dependents.

Dr. Menendez was accompanied by Peter Lutz of Jersey City, state commander; Leo Neimeyer, county commander; Theodore Laux, vice commander; Arthur Millmore, deputy chief of staff; James G. Caffrey, past commander of Vailsburg Post, and a detail of State Police.

After his reception at City Hall Dr. Menendez presented Mayor Ellenstein a V.F.W. citizenship medal. The Municipal Firing Squad and Boy Scouts formed an honor guard.

NOW LISTEN HERE. SOLDIER

When a retired sergeant re-enlists in the Army just to give a little "personal guidance" to a certain new draftee there's promise of some fast comedy in khaki. And that's exactly what's offered the nation's radio listeners by "Dear Mom," Columbia network's new Sunday series about life in an Army camp. Each episode is based on the humorous adventures of "Homer Stubbs" (right) and "Red" (left) in their encounters with tough "Sgt. Monahan" (center). "Stubbs" is played by John Walsh; "Red" is Dolph Nelson; and the sergeant is Marvin Mueller.

Station WPAT Planning
Programs of Wide Interest

A broad educational program that will include broadcasts of a religious, scholastic and social nature, is being planned by Paterson's new radio station, WPAT, which hopes to be on the wave lengths by next Saturday. Final mechanical touches to permit the opening broadcast that will feature city and state notables are being made at the studios in the building formerly occupied by WODA on Ellison street.

Cost Accountants
Dinner Dance Mon.

Newark Chapter, National Association of Cost Accountants will hold a dinner dance at the Moresque, West Orange, on Monday evening, April 28. This is an annual function of many years standing and is open to all members and their guests. Mr. Herbert Thorpe of Short Hills, Director of Membership of the chapter, is chairman of the Committee of Arrangements for the party.

Conducted by Paterson men, the station, which will be found at 930 on the radio dial, has already been contacted by church and school authorities for programs of particular interest to those groups and an announcement of the nature of these broadcasts will soon be released.

While it is located in Paterson, with a transmitter in Clifton, WPAT expects to serve the entire North Jersey area with broadcasts of local as well as national interest.

Because of the strict control by the Federal Communications Commission, reports that the station could be used for political purposes were discounted although with the coming mayoralty campaign in Paterson this year it will enable candidates to get messages across to the voters that otherwise might be buried in the newspapers.

The attitude of the Paterson newspapers to this likely source of advertising competition has shown a split existing between the Evening News and Morning Call, which usually co-operate in such matters. Yesterday's church page of The Call carried a story of a gospel broadcast planned by the station for every Sunday morning, with the name of the station displayed. In The News, the name was eliminated giving rise to reports of opposition on the part of the evening paper to the new enterprise.

Selection of the chairman for the 1942 Easter sunrise service will also be made at this meeting. The 1941 sunrise service was largely attended since the beginning of these services at Garret Mountain Reservation 11 years ago.

FOREST FIRE
MENACE EXISTS

The light rains of Wednesday night aided crops, but failed to check effectively the forest fire menace in the state, it was stated yesterday by authorities.

The temporary benefit to the woods has been lost through subsequent drying out, according to Divisional Fire Warden Bonham of Toms River, who warned sectional fire wardens yesterday that danger of bad fires was present again. A threatening fire broke out Friday near Beachwood, but was gotten under control before burning any buildings.

Washington, D. C. — A safety for Britain-bound ships— a strip some 200 miles wide and extending half way across the Atlantic under constant patrol of United States warships and planes — was predicted by informed officials as solution of the convoy question.

Through this lane ships carrying vital cargoes to England would proceed separately, not in convoys, receiving instant word of the position of any sea raider spotted by the United States patrol.

The zone is expected to extend at least as far east as the longitude of Greenland, where the United States is moving to take action against any German forces stationed there.

already partly under Navy control, is to be taken over in its entirety by the Navy and converted into a huge naval air station, May- or LaGuardia announced yesterday.

Tenants of the eight $250,000 steel and concrete hangars, who signed five-year leases (with a Navy clause) on April 1, were notified yesterday that they would have to vacate by May 20.

Washington, D. C. — A committee representing the 21 American republics agreed upon a plan for commandeering foreign vessels war-immobilized in their ports— with every prospect a portion of the tonnage involved would be used to ease England's shipping shortage.

PATERSON
THIS WEEK

By Ruth Blye

AWAITED by an interested crowd of several hundred spectators at the Board of Aldermen meeting MONDAY, the "apology" by Taxpayer Ted Haefeli to former Alderman Michael U. De Vita had all the elements of excitement which brought the large gathering to City Hall. Although the statement was in the first person and boasted that "like Lafayette, I am here", it was read by Attorney James Dunn, brother of the Prosecutor.

CHARITY got very little of the $290,314.12 gross receipts from the Elks' lottery, Supreme Court Justice Harry Heher told the April

Grand Jury TUESDAY when he charged them with the duty of indicting the five-man syndicate from out of the city which conducted the lottery. The Justice's move, predicted in THE SUNDAY CHRONICLE, presaged a continuation of the January gambling probe.

SHOE stores in Paterson adopted new hours, effective tomorrow, on WEDNESDAY, in an effort to straighten out certain conditions which had existed in downtown stores. The shoe merchants will close their doors every evening at 6:30 p. m. excepting Friday and Saturday nights.

DEATH took one of Paterson's most prominent citizens THURSDAY when Jacob Fabian, the immigrant who became a millionaire movie magnate, passed away at the age of 75 in a New York hospital. Funeral services will be held this morning at the Temple Emanuel.

PAYROLLS for the city are even greater than they were during the 1929 peak, Secretary John J. Fitzgerald of the Chamber of Commerce announced FRIDAY. In that historic year, $45,000,000 was paid out in salaries to industrial workers alone and while no accurate figures are available, that mark has been surpassed.

SHOPLIFTING charges by the Quackenbush's store detective were made against persons of widely separated ages SATURDAY, although both took articles of slight value. An 82-year old man was arrested for taking two pencils worth $1, and a 15-year old girl for lifting a novelty bracelet with a 79 cent value.

REPUBLICANS
LINE UP VOTES TO SAVE JOBS

New York — Floyd Bennett Field Trenton — Republican leaders were rounding up votes for bills to keep Colonel Mark O. Kimberling as superintendent of state police and James A. Logan as highway engineer.

Criticism of the Senate by Governor Edison for failing to confirm his major appointments has solidified the Republicans. There was no protest when the Senate adjourned for the week Thursday without considering the nomination of William L. Dill for highway commissioner, Albert G. Waters for purchasing commissioner and Brigadier General Richard P. Williams as police superintendent.

At the moment, Senator Zink of Essex is the only Republican legislator who has declared against delaying confirmation of Edison's appointments. Zink is endeavoring to persuade his Republican colleagues not to persist in withholding confirmations.

Others See Harm

Outside the Legislature, however, Republican leaders do not think the blockade on appointments will do the party any good. Harold G. Hoffman, for one, has said he believes that Dill should be confirmed. While Hoffman cannot get into the fight because of his UCC job, his friends in the Senate know he is prepared to testify to Dill's ability if called upon to appear before the judiciary committee.

Two Republican Senators, not wishing to take a public position, revealed the plan to extend Kimberling's term beyond to June 15 expiration date. Unlike Highway Commissioner Sterner and Purchasing Commissioner Brodesser, who hold over automatically, Kimberling will be out of office unless legislation is passed.

The Kimberling extender was discussed at a luncheon conference Thursday at the Carteret Club. Sufficient votes were pledged in the Senate to extend Kimberling's term and give tenure to Logan, and reports are the program lacks only a few votes in the Assembly.

PLAYBILL STATE

Jimmy Cagney, who put the roar in the "Roaring Twenties," is now bowling them over as a bad boy of the Naughty Nineties, in Warner Bros'. "The Strawberry Blonde," which opens today at the STATE Theatre.

Cast with Cagney and decked out in their best bustles are lovely Oliva de Havilland and demure Rita Hayworth.

When those two honeys start to vie for Cagney's affections they prove that times may change but love is love whether it be in the Golden Nineties or the Flippant Forties.

"Strawberry Blonde" captures all the charm and quaintness of the mauve decade. The customs, songs and jokes of that era make a delightful background to a warm drama.

Alan Hale and George Tobias round out the talented cast by supplying plenty of laughs to the film. The screen play was written by two of the cleverest scenarists in Hollywood, Julius J. and Philip G. Epstein, from a play by James Hagan. Raoul Walsh directed the production.

"Doomed Caravan," thirty-sixth tale in the sage of "Hopalong" Cassidy, famous film cowboy created by Clarence E. Mulford, comes to the STATE Theatre today with William Boyd again essaying the role of Cassidy.

MAJESTIC

One of the greatest performances of bewildering feats of magic will be presented at the Majestic Theater today, last day, when Will Rock, presdicator extraordinary, presents his celebrated, "Mysteries of India." Rock digs into his bags of tricks and presents problems of magic that even Charlie Chan can't solve. Headlining his show is the modern version of the old trick of sawing a girl in half with ab izz saw.

Rambles In Rhythm

by HONEY DALE

JUMBLED JOTTINGS: Look out for a revival of the old ditty, "The Girl I Left Behind Me." Kay Kyser worked up a cute arrangement and is featuring it — and a Kyser presentation is one of the best "plugs" in the business . . . "What's My Name?" looks as though it might be the name of the summer replacement for Eddie Cantor . . . Arlene Francis will be absent from the Court of Missing Heirs program long enough to do a major role in the new Theatre Guild play, "The Last Round-up." . . . Mildred Bailey is due for a repeat on the Benny Goodman show . . . This may last for at least thirteen appearances . . . Dinah Shore broke her non-night clubbing habits to enjoy the double escort of Max Baer and Lou Nova to Manhattan's nocturnal spas last Saturday night . . . Rose Bampton will return to the air this fall with her own program . . . NBC maestro Paul Laval will shortly make a record album of his "Children's Corner Suites" consisting of nursery rhymes in boogie-woogie rhythm. These are the same tunes that are being featured on the "Chamber Music Society of Lower Basin Street" program . . . The "Know Your Government" program heard Saturdays at 12:15 p. m. over WINS and conducted by Harold John Adonis is a splendid educational feature . . . Gray Gordon, the Bluebird batonier, wasn't kidding when he said flatly he was discarding his "Tic Toc Rhythm" label. To bear out his statement he has composed a tune titled "Don't You Mention Tic Toc to me" . . . All networks will go on Daylight Saving Time from April 27 . . . Like the very busy Ted Steele, another NBC page boy has made the grade. This time it's young Gordon MacRae, promising young baritone, who has joined the Don Juans quartet with Horace Heidt . . . Bob Allen will return with his partner Drew Pearson with their Washington Gossip in the fall for the Brazilian Government . . . Bob Chester has signed a new recording contract with Bluebird Records . . . Mildred Hutchinson, the Copper Model and Milton Karle, energetic press agent for Johnny Loag's ark are a romantic pair . . . John B. Kennedy has a new sponsor which will bring him to the networks on Sunday at eleven p. m. . . Martha Tilton, Blue Network singing star, has just finished work on her second picture of the year, "Too Many Blondes" . . . Nita Carroll will introduce Joan Hanscom's new song titled "There Shall Be No Night" over Station WMCA next Saturday at 3:15 p. m.

RAMBLETTE: LESLEY WOODS, radio actress, currently heard on several NBC and CBS dramas, including "Road of Life," "Woman in White" and "House-boat Hannah." Gets more fan mail than a dozen movie stars . . . Estimates that her voice is familiar to, some 30,000,000 people . . . Started professional career during the second year of the Chicago exposition, when she and a brunette lad were signed at the Hollywood exhibit for their good looks and acting ability . . . The boy? Name is Tyrone Power . . . Naive of Chicago . . . Educated in that City and served apprenticeship at the Goodman Theatre . . . Played with Ina Claire on Bway in "Love is Not So Simple" . . . Then "Double Dummy," the Mark Hellinger production . . . Later, "Excursion," the comedy hit . . . Became a member of the NBC Radio Guild in New York . . . Moved to Chicago again . . . Fond of riding and swimming . . . Designs her own clothes and loves symphonic records when she can't attend concerts . . . Recently rejected two movie offers says she is much too young to be typed . . . Is awaiting commercial Television where she would be perfect, this Lesley Woods gal, what with deep blue eyes, blonde hair and perfect features . . . And, she is an ACTRESS!

PATERSON IS PROUD

There is pardonable pride in the fact that Paterson men are the focal point of the major patronage battle which is raging in the State Senate. Fride because in John F. Evans, the leading candidate for Alcoholic Beverage Commissioner, and William L. Dill, Governor Edison's choice for State Highway Commissioner, Paterson has two citizens of such outstanding character and talent that it will be very hard to shelve either one of them in spite of the desires of other counties to get one of the major posts.

The professional qualifications of John Evans are evident in his outstanding career as an attorney for many years. To most persons in the state, he is one of the few who could fit into the capable shoes of the late D. Fredrick Burnett, and no higher praise could be paid any man. Credit for making it possible for him to be in line for the important ABC post must go to County GOP leader Lloyd Marsh, who thereby has set an example which he would do well to follow in the future.

William Dill had no county leader to boost him, but he had a record of public service so outstanding that when Governor Edison named him Highway Commissioner a month ago, every newspaper in the state and many Republican legislators jumped into print with their praise. It is the holding up of his name in a Senate committee that has brought Governor Edison to the realization that he must fight a willful Republican legislature by going directly to the people with his case.

We hope that both men are named tomorrow night. There are reports that Passaic County Republicans are responsible for holding the Dill nomination up, as part of a deal to make Evans' path easier. We trust that this report is unfounded, not only because of the desire to see "local boys make good" but because it can only have a disastrous effect on the GOP in Passaic County.

WELCOME ADDITIONS

Mayor William P. Furrey proved this week that he can be big enough to admit an error. Last Sunday THE CHRONICLE pointed out in an editorial on the new Defense Council that it would be hampered in its work because it lacked representation of labor. On Thursday, the Mayor appointed George Baldanzi of the CIO and Neil Kart of the AFL to sit with the bankers and industrialists he had previously selected. The addition of these two capable men will make the job of the Council an easier one, for labor has felt that it should share in the American war efforts as much as the employer class.

FUNNY DEMOCRATS

The appearance of James Dunn as counsel for Ted Haefli at the now-historic City Hall "apology to Michael De Vita" has marked him for oblivion in the Democratic party. Dunn has appeared in the role of "latchet man" before, but only in inner party struggles. Last Monday his position was that of striving to embarrass one of the most popular Democrats in Passaic County in the interests of a man, or men, who are open opponents of Democrats, no matter who they be.

It is one thing for an attorney to appear as counsel to a man, whether he be Republican, Fascist, Communist or president of the Taxpayers' League, and another for him to play the part of defender of interests contrary to his own party on a political plane. No matter what some people may think about it, Dunn was in the City Hall last Monday night not only to keep Haefli from making rash remarks.

The Democrats, for some time, have been hindered by men who are ostensibly in the party and yet their very actions constantly belie that fact. This is not a blow at the men who, for reasons right or wrong, are at odds with one another on questions of policies, but at those who have gone over to the Republican camp but are not big enough to openly admit it. It is time that the real Democrats, no matter of what faction, should get together and clean out the Quislings and their cohorts.

MERCHANTS' FORESIGHT

Announcements by various groups of retail merchants this week, emanating from the Retail Merchants Association, are effective proof of the value of co-operation. From next week on, shoe and hat stores in the downtown area will close every evening but Friday and Saturday nights, and this practically revolutionary change in hours was accomplished with but a minimum of effort only a few short weeks after the Association was formed.

The cutting of hours should be interpreted properly as being an answer to reports that the Association was anti-labor. Its first action has been one that will greatly aid the store clerks, who have often complained of the long hours in many of the stores.

It is difficult to predict the future course of the Association, but in its first days it has already done more for the downtown merchants and workers than years of isolated attempts to get co-operation on conditions. The firm hand of David L. Cole, counsel to the retail group, who has been active in other associations, can be seen directing the future work of the Association and labor is thus assured of a fair deal.

INDIRECTION

On complaint of Secretary of the Navy Knox, the Civil Aeronautics Board has cited an airplane pilot to show cause why his license should not be revoked for violation of CAB regulations. This pilot flew a plane which carried a cameraman, who took photographs of the British battleship Malaya, which arrived in New York Harbor April 6.

It sounds a bit like the House that Jack Built. And that masterpiece of indirection is not all inapposite to the method used here. Mr. Knox had requested press associations and newspapers not to print news of the arrival here of British ships for repair. A specific request was made not to photograph the damaged Malaya. The New York Daily News hired a pilot and plane to fly over New York Harbor so that a cameraman could photograph its arrival. The Daily News published these photos, with news stories.

The present American censorship, as affecting events of this kind, is voluntary. It thus involves questions of judgment on the part of editors. Many papers acceded to Mr. Knox's request; they published neither news or photographs of the arrival of this British ship. The New York Daily News and a few other newspapers published both.

At all events, Mr. Knox does not proceed against The New York Daily News, doubtless because he is without statutory power to do so. Instead, he solicits the Civil Aeronautics Board to deprive the hired airplane pilot of his license, basing his complaint upon certain technical violations of CAB regulations. Thus Mr. Knox evades the issue of censorship, voluntary or otherwise. He tries to back into it and thus not face it.

OUR TOWN

A DIGEST OF THE NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

Lewis, Marelli Likely Counsel

There are strong indications that John F. Evans will be named ABC commissioner at a joint session of the State Legislature tomorrow night, focussing attention to the post of City Counsel which he will vacate as a result.

GOP leaders are so confident of Evans' selection that they have been considering his local successor, with the choice narrowing to Randall B. Lewis and Henry Marelli. Although appointment of Marelli would be a politically happy one, the responsibilities of the post make Lewis a more likely choice since he has twice been City Attorney and City Counsel once, and the job calls for experience in view of the fact that City Attorney George Surosky is still green at municipal law and the burden of carrying two inexperienced men would be too much for even the capable shoulders of Secretary George Dimond.

Republicans To Draft Reluctant Mayor

Passaic County Republican Leader Lloyd Marsh gave credence to the oft-heard reports that Mayor William P. Furrey would not be a candidate for re-election in November. He informed anxious members of the County GOP League that the Mayor would be drafted, although he did not say that the Mayor was reluctant over continuing in a job where he receives $800 a year less than his waiting Tax Assessors post and has dozens more headaches a day.

The speech by Marsh, following the short, terse remarks of James Gavin by a day, may have been timed to bolster the Mayor's waning interest in the second floor of the City Hall. Gavin called Furrey a "puppet, controlled by a newspaper man and the county boss" and promised some interesting revelations on the Colonial Village land deal when the campaign progresses.

Porecki Injured By "Coke" Bottle

It has been fairly well established that Detective Mack Porecki, who received a serious head injury while at a dinner in the Top Hat, Union City, last week, was hit over the head by a bottle of Coca Cola wielded by a waiter.

Many localities, who patronize the popular Hudson night spot, are wondering if the price of the Coca Cola didn't have something to do with the altercation since they too have questioned the figure which is far above the usual 5 cents paid in stores here.

County Officials Will Hear Lamb

Members of the official families of Passaic County municipalities have been invited to attend the next session of the Passaic County Republican League Tuesday when Mayor Bernard Lamb of Hohokus, former State Finance Commission, will be the guest speaker.

Mayor Lamb's topic is unannounced, but with so many officials present he may be tempted to reveal some of the inner workings of state and city budgets. Mayor Lamb is said to be responsible for the masterful work on the Paterson budget this year, maneuvering an early 8-point rise into a politically potent 3-point drop.

Accountants might drop in to the meeting for a lesson, too.

Bingo Follows Grand Juror

Nathaniel J. Ontell, local insurance man who was a member of the January Grand Jury which handed down a presentment banning bingo, evidently can't get away from it all.

Accompanied by Abe S. Berliner, another insurance man who will be an independent candidate for Freeholder in November as another indication of his complete split with the Marsh GOP machine (he was active for Hendrickson in the gubernatorial primary last year), Ontell was in Cleveland the past week for the Roller Skating championships where the two men cornered the national market on that type of insurance.

Just as they arrived in Cleveland, home of many former Patersonians who moved with the shift of the Erie R. R. headquarters, the Mayor of that city announced the complete banning of bingo. A jury, the same day, convicted four men on gambling charges.

Delegates Shout For Baldanzi

Most popular official at the annual convention of the Textile Union of America was George Baldanzi of Paterson, re-elected executive vice president of the CIO union. The young man who came out of the Pennsylvania mines to help organize the Dyers Union here in the hectic days of 1933 and rose to the presidency of the Federation, received a tremendous ovation as compared with the applause for Sidney Hillman, OPM director, and Emil Rieve, president of the TWU.

Many other Patersonians figured prominently in the news of the convention, but to Eddie Sochon, now of Union City, went the somewhat dubious honor of causing the only rumpus when he opposed an amendment depriving Communists and Fascists of holding union posts. Sochon, active in the Communist Party here at one time, was thoroughly castigated by Joseph Knapik, head of the Dyers Federation.

Back home textile workers were surprised to read that Alex Phillian, another Communist activist and a minor leader in several unions at one time, was among the 33 conscientious objectors in New Jersey who will be sent to a camp in Maryland for "work of national importance." It was presumed that Phillian had objected on political grounds, much the same as did Earl Browder, jailed national Communist leader, in the last war.
