1		Stephanie:	Alright, I have one red, okay? And I have a yellow, and from each of these, you can make two because all you you have to do is you add on a r..., you can add on a red to the red or a yellow to the red. And for the yellow, you can add on a red to the yellow and a yellow to the yellow, okay?
2		Michelle:	So you don't have to look for duplicates.
3		Stephanie:	Then each one of these has two. Like, okay if this is a family tree, thi... the mother, the parents
4			Laughter
5		Stephanie:	Have kids and then, six kids, okay, well actually, no eight kids. Then they have eight kids, and each one of them has two kids. And this one, you can add one red one yellow, one yellow one red
6		Student:	One red one yellow
7		Milin:	One red one yellow
8		Stephanie:	One red, one yellow
9		Milin and Michelle I.	And you keep on going on and on and on
