Seniors, Juniors and Sophomores will leave their speeches with the Registrar, three days in advance of the day assigned for rehearsal. Conflicts must be reported to the Registrar in advance.

Senior, Junior and Sophomore divisions will be found on the College bulletin board.

From Pvt. <sup>George W.</sup> Ingling '18

London, April 10th, 1919

I am writing to tell you of the War Anniversary Dinner to the new Ambassador, Mr. Davis, given by the British Branch of the American University Union, and also to tell you that Rutgers was represented in the gathering of 400, most of whom were students from many colleges in the United States who are taking a short course at the different Universities in Great Britain.

I was one of the fortunate ones in our army division - the 79th - and have been assigned to King's College University of London. Lt. R. V. E. Martin<sup>18</sup> and Sergeant-Major Rob. Searle<sup>15</sup> are also in the detachment. I saw both of them at Liverpool, they being the first Rutgers men I have seen in France and England.

The dinner was splendid and we quite entertained the British guests with our college yells. Unfortunately, I was the only Rutgers man present but as our table was composed of small contingents from N. Y. U., Fordham, Colgate, Rochester, and Syracuse, we all banded together and gave each yell separately. So the 400 men were made to know that Rutgers was there.

As the newspaper men can tell the account of the dinner much better than
