Dear Sir:-

Having received Bulletin #1 issued by the War Service Bureau of Rutgers I take the opportunity in writing in order to find out whether or not you could give me some information as to some work in the service that I might get. I have been rejected in the draft for the national army and figure this will keep me from entering Fort Meyer or the aviation section. I was rejected for being under weight and bad feet. I thought there might be some work in the Quartermaster's Dept. or Field Service that I might get. If you know of any such jobs or can give me any information of any work in the service that I might get I will appreciate your sending me word of it. Thanking you, I remain,

Yours Truly,

John B. Maddock 1917

Dear Mr. Maddock:-

As far as I know at the present time there is no form of service you might enter. Physical examinations are necessary in the Quartermaster's Department and in the Field Service and I am afraid you would not be able to pass these examinations which are really more strict than those given drafted men. If at any time we receive a call which you might qualify for, I shall most certainly advise you. I am sorry that we cannot do anything just now.

With very best wishes,

Cordially yours,
