

Battery A
307th Field Artillery.
Camp Dix, N. J.
May 18, 1918.

Dear Sir:-

Some time ago I received a letter from you requesting information regarding any Rutgers men in the service. At that time, I had not been accepted for service altho I had volunteered three times.

On the 29th of last month, I was accepted and sent to Camp Dix, with the drafted men from Syracuse N. Y. District #2. altho my draft number has not as yet been called.

I was definitely assigned a few days ago to the above Battery and am expecting that we will be sent overseas very shortly.

Very truly

Louis B. van Dyck '17.

May 22, 1918.

Louis B. Van Dyck,
Battery A,
307th Field Artillery,
Camp Dix, N. J.

Dear Van Dyck:

Thank you for your letter of May 18th containing your new address. Possibly you have left for France by this time but this letter may be forwarded to you. I hope that as soon as you are permanently settled that you will let me have your address so that I may continue to send you the service letters.

Very truly yours,

Director

ERS/H