TRIPS A WHEEL

WHERE TO GO AND
HOW TO GET THERE

Our Cycle Route No. 30

(1897-98 SERIES)

PHILADELPHIA TO HARRISBURG, EN ROUTE TO PITTSBURG.

A Continuation of Either Trip 18 or Trip 29.

The traveler who was at this point in the route, and who, in addition, was as far as possible from the city, would have experienced some difficulty in finding a route that would lead him to Harrisburg. This difficulty was due to the fact that there was no direct route from Philadelphia to Harrisburg.

The traveler who was at this point in
the route, and who, in addition, was as
far as possible from the city, would
have experienced some difficulty in
finding a route that would lead him to Harrisburg. This difficulty was due to the fact that there was no direct
route from Philadelphia to Harrisburg.

The traveler who was at this point in
the route, and who, in addition, was as
far as possible from the city, would
have experienced some difficulty in
finding a route that would lead him to Harrisburg. This difficulty was due to the fact that there was no direct
route from Philadelphia to Harrisburg.

The traveler who was at this point in
the route, and who, in addition, was as
far as possible from the city, would
have experienced some difficulty in
finding a route that would lead him to Harrisburg. This difficulty was due to the fact that there was no direct
route from Philadelphia to Harrisburg.

The traveler who was at this point in
the route, and who, in addition, was as
far as possible from the city, would
have experienced some difficulty in
finding a route that would lead him to Harrisburg. This difficulty was due to the fact that there was no direct
route from Philadelphia to Harrisburg.

The traveler who was at this point in
the route, and who, in addition, was as
far as possible from the city, would
have experienced some difficulty in
finding a route that would lead him to Harrisburg. This difficulty was due to the fact that there was no direct
route from Philadelphia to Harrisburg.